Senate Bill No. 435, Printer's No. 210

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL 953 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 26, 1953.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 953, Printer's No. 152, entitled "An act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' by changing the provisions thereof relating to public parks playgrounds and other recreation places and facilities and park and recreation boards," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment and further study.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RECALLING HOUSE BILL 1007 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 26, 1953.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1007, Printer's No. 139, entitled "An act to amend Section 2 of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (P. Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. CONNELLY, CONOR and LIPPENCOTT offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 26, 1953.

Mrs. Sallie G. Bullen, the wife of J. Warren Bullen and the Mother of J. Warren Bullen, Jr., one of our members, died at her home in Folcroft, Saturday, May twenty-third.

Mrs. Bullen was the mother of three children. She was active in church and civic affairs in her community. Her ceaseless efforts toward improving the lot of her fellow citizens were a stimulus to all who worked with her and shall be an inspiration to them as they continue her noble work.

Her civic and religious work was dwarfed by her extraordinary accomplishments as a mother. A deep sense of justice and patriotism coupled with profound religious convictions were the tools of trade in rearing her family. The extent to which her teachings were inculcated in her children is evidenced by the high regard in which they are held by their fellow citizens.

A mother's monument to her life's work is found in the character of her children and the monument of Mrs. Bullen is of the greatest proportions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends its deepest sympathy to the husband and children of Mrs. Bullen, and offers them consolation in the knowledge that hers was a full and good life; and be it further

Resolved, That the clerk of the House of Representatives send copies of this resolution to the husband and children of Mrs. Bullen.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MAXWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to read an editorial from the Monessen Daily Independent, which is one of the finest little newspapers in the state. This paper is also very much a Republican paper. Therefore, the editor, Mr. Pore and I do not always see eye to eye on many issues.

However, every once and a while Mr. Pore dives down deep and comes up with a perfect gem.

This little gem entitled "Out of order" I would now like to read for the enlightment and guidance of the Republican membership.

> The Republican leaders of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg have promised us "an historic session" next week. In the words of Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson:
> "The time has come when we must get down to business." (Amen).
> "Next week we hope to have an historic session. We hope to get an alternative program, balance the budget, make some cuts in appropriation requests, and get you fellows home."
> We could not help but notice the order in which Rep. Johnson intends to make history. First there will be a tax program, then the budget will be balanced ,then appropriations will be cut.
> In our judgment, this is exactly in reverse. The cuts should come before the taxes.
> And because it has been working in reverse, the Republican leadership has almost set a record for do-nothingness at this session. It has confused the rank and file of its own party; it has confused the public, and it has confounded itself.
> With all respect to Rep. Johnson, we doubt that any history is going to be made at Harrisburg—unless it is a history of futility—until the legislators start putting first things first. And the first thing, it has been obvious from the start, is to bring the expenses of the state government under control along the lines suggested by the Chesterman committee. The Republicans at Harrisburg simply are refusing to do the job which the Republicans at Washington are trying so valiantly to do.
> The Fine administration has defeated itself with its incessant talk about new taxes before it has convinced the people that it has done a thorough job of economy. The American people at last have become so tax conscious that they simply are not going to take any more that can't be proven necessary beyond any reasonable doubt.
> This session of the legislature is going to be a failure—a political failure, an administrative failure, an economic failure—until the Republican leadership comes to its senses and puts itself in tune with the people.

In closing I would like to add that if we had a few Republican leaders as Members of the House like Mr. Pore, I am sure that this session would have ended a month ago.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, again I want to say that not only the Republican side of the House but the Democratic side have worked hard this session. We know what the problem is. We know that the budget of Governor Fine is a conservative, economical budget. It is cut rght down to the bone. Few people realize that here in Pennsylvania we have been operating all these years on skimpy budgets. We have been skimping by and glossing over expenditures that should be made for the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth.

It is easy enough for an editor of a newspaper to sit back in his office in a plush chair or in the quiet tranquility of his home and think we are dawdling and fooling away our time here in Harrisburg. That absolutely is not true.

Every Member here is working just as hard as he can. I will say this, I have never worked harder in my life than I have worked in this session trying to straighten out the affairs of this Commonwealth. As I say, when newspaper men back home who are not familiar with the problem who just read a few terse explanations from the press section here,—and I will say that these men down front here have given us a good break this session, what they have recorded has been factual, but I say that back home people are not getting the real picture.

Governor Fine's budget is a fair budget and sound budget. It is one that we must balance, and to try to put through a broad base tax in order to do that job is taking time. We eventually hope to do the job on both sides of this House. I think we, as a Legislature, as a Republican party, have been unfairly criticised throughout Pennsylvania for the job that we are sincerely trying to do here. I am sick and tired of reading editorials about the Chesterman report. If anybody would carefully read that report, they would know that Governor Fine has already integrated $8 million of savings in his budget, and if we adopt the report in toto this session we will only save $10 to $12 million.

The newspapers throughout the state have been heralding a $100 million savings. The quicker they tell the people that that is not true, the better everybody will be —both Democrats and Republicans. I think it is about time that the people of Pennsylvania were told the real story of the job that must be done here in order to balance this budget, in order to run our schools, in order to save our hospitals. I suppose this editor would have us turn out ten percent of the people who are now in institutions. We have 55,000 people in institutions, let us take 5,000 of them and put them on the general public. That will save ten percent in the budget. But we cannot do that. Instead of that we have 5 or 10 thousand who ought to be in mental institutions and welfare institutions that are a burden to society.

I say we are doing a sincere job here, and I think the criticism we have received is unwarranted, unnecessary and absolutely untrue.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader says he never worked harder in his life. I am simply telling him that he "ain't seen nothing yet."

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1953. No. 45.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 27, 1953.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Our dear Lord and Father, as we look around ourselves and see the beautiful flowers and trees and fields, we are reminded of Thy goodness. When we see the abundance of everything, we are reminded of Thy kindness and Thy love, and then when we know that Thou wilt guide us in our deliberations and do the work to help others, we again feel the depth of Thy love.

Use us in whatever way Thou canst to build Thy Kingdom in peace and love, in the Master's Name, Amen.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TOLL, HERSCH, SEYLER, ALEXANDER, WORLEY, POLTENSTEIN, SCHMIDT and WELSH (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 60

In the House of Representatives, May 26, 1953.

Whereas World War II witnessed the organized butchery of racial groups by one of the participating nations; and

Whereas, Such conduct so shocked the conscience of civilized men that after World War II it had come to be accepted that such conduct could no longer be tolerated in civilized society, and that it should be prohibited by the international community; and

Whereas, In 1948 the representative of the United States appealed to tre General Assembly of the United Nations to endorse the Declaration on Human Rights and to draft a covenant which will seek to translate human rights into law; and

Whereas, In 1950 the Deputy Under Secretary of State asked a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee to ratify a United Nations Convention designed to protect minorities; and

Whereas, The question of the ratification of the United Nations Convention against genocide has been pending before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for over four years; and

Whereas, An abrupt change in policy by the United States Government on the whole question of human rights guarantees recently revealed, created marked pessimism in the United Nations Commission on Human Rights which had expected the United States delegation to continue to take the lead in preparing a draft covenant; and

Whereas, The position of world leadership which was established for the United States by the American representatives on the United Nations Human Rights Commission appears to have been abandoned without a struggle, Therefore be it

Resolved, (If the Senate concur) That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the Congress of the United States to return to its position as a leader in the movement to further implement the Declaration on Human Rights and to draft a covenant which will seek to translate human rights into law; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President, the Vice President, President Pro Tempore of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to each member of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

MR. HELM IN THE CHAIR

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I believe everyone is thoroughly convinced by this time of the Session that certainly this state is in a very serious financial situation, and just as bad is how or when, if ever, we are going to be able to raise the taxes to solve the situation, other than some broad base tax, and to balance the budget, which according to the budget figures, stands at $157 million, but which according to actual budget figures, stands at $217 million.

That being the case, in my humble opinion I think it is time that we begin to get our feet on the ground and before putting the state or allowing the state to spend any further moneys on development projects, buildings and hospitals of such a nature, that we stop the spending for a period of time at least until we find out where we are going and how we are going to get there.

The bill I am introducing, Mr. Speaker, postpones for five years any further spending by the General State Authority and any more floating of bonds by the General State Authority for the same period.

I do not know to what Committee this bill may be referred. Personally, I am going to be very much interested as to whether or not this bill will be reported out of Committee before the end of the Session so as to give the Members of this House, who represent the people of this Commonwealth, a chance to say whether or not they want the state to keep on going further into debt when we cannot balance the budget, or whether we want to put our feet firmly on the ground to see where we are going and how we are going to get there.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to state for the information of the Members that we intend to have a Session tomorrow. We would like to have everybody here tomorrow so that we can proceed with the orderly business of the day. Our plan is to then recess until the 8th of June, by reason of the fact that there are no hotel accommodations available during that period.

I might further say when we come back on the 8th of June, because of the difficulty experienced on both sides of the House to determine whether we have 105 on our side or whether the Minority has 98 on their side for purposes of going ahead with the business, we will have a roll call each day at the beginning of the Session so that we will know who is here and who is not here. If I should call for a call of the House one morning, I would think it would be in order for the Minority Leader to call for a call of the House the next morning. We feel that such a procedure will make for the orderly dispatch of business and an orderly termination of the Session. We would like to have the Members bear with us on this particular matter.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we will gladly cooperate in any movement to make certain that it is not just a few of us who bear the heat and burden of the day, but that all of those who are not physically incapacitated recognize the fact that they asked to be Members of this House; they were given the privilege of being Members of this House, and it is not only their business but their duty to be present when this House is in Session.

We will, therefore, very gladly cooperate with the Majority Leader. He can issue the call of the House on Monday, and I will issue the call of the House on Tuesday, and so on until this legislative interlude is ended.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE BILL 852

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill 582, Printer's No. 236, on page 23 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, which is the temporary emergency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, be made a special order of business immediately.

SPECIAL ORDER

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 582, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section one of this act there is hereby allocated to the Treasury Department the sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) and to the Department of the Auditor General the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) to pay the administrative expenses of said departments in auditing and disbursing the appropriation made by this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for purposes of the record I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, desires to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson. Will the gentleman permit himeslf to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill I believe appropriates $15 million. Is that a fact?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, that is my understanding.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, and the appropriation is divided into two parts: payments for future contingencies and payments for expenses accrued in the past for which no money is available—is that correct?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the Majority Leader inform the House as to the sums carried in this $15 million that are needed for deficit purposes and the amount that will be used to meet future needs?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the information that has been given to me in regard to the bill is that we have in Committee rght now House Bill, I think it is 445, which covers various deficiencies. I do not recall whether there is anything in that bill for the Department of Public Assistance. I understand that any deficiency that might exist can be paid out of this appropriation. I believe there will be an additional $2 million lapsed, I have been so informed by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, for this biennium.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the Majority Leader, since we meet tomorrow as I understand, defer action on this bill until such time as he can file for the purpose of the record an itemization of the amount desired for deficiency purposes, and the amount that will be available for furture purposes?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would respectfully request this bill be passed over temporarily, and I will endeavor to get the information before the day is over so that we can at least pass this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we would request the Department to itemize its requests for deficiency appropriations. We do not want a lump sum. We want an itemization—we want the deficiencies itemized in order that it may be entered on the record.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we will have this information before the day is over.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the House will defer further consideration of this bill until the information requested has been obtained. The Chair hears none.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 91, entitled:

An Act to amend subsecton (b) of Section 1 and Sections 2 and 4 of the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1401) entitled "An act prohibting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties" by further defining employer providing for a penalty and deleting certain provisions relative to wage rates and collection of unpaid wages

Section 1 Subsection (b) of Section 1 and Sections 2 and 4 of the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1401) entitled "An act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and prescribing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Definitions

* * * * *

(b) "Employer" includes any person natural or artificial acting directly or indirectly in the interest of any employer in relations with an employee and shall include the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and all political subdivisions thereof

Section 2 Wage Rates No employer shall discriminate in any way in the payment of wages or salaries in any occupation as between the sexes or pay any female in his employ in any occupation salary or wage rates less than the rates paid to male employees for comparable work [Provided however That nothing herein contained shall prohibit a variation in salary or wage rates based upon either difference in seniority experience training skill or ability or difference in duties and services performed or difference in the shift or time of the day worked or any other reasonable differentiation except difference in sex]

Section 4 Collection of Unpaid Wages (a) An employer who violates the provisions of section two of this act shall be liable to the employee or employees affected in the amount of their unpaid wages plus an equal amount of liquidated damages Action to recover such wages may be maintained in any court of competent jurisdiction by any one or more employees Any agreement between the employer and an employee to work for less than the wage to which such employee is entitled under this act shall be no defense to such action The court in such action shall in addition to any wages and damages allow a reasonable attorney's fee and costs of the action to the plaintiff At the request of any employee paid less than the wage to which she is entitled under this act the Secretary of Labor and Industry may take an assignment of such wage claim for collection and shall bring any legal action necessary to collect such claim The Secretary shall not be required to pay the filing fee or other costs in connection with such action

(b) Any action pursuant to the provisions of this act must be brought within three years from the date upon which the violation complained of occurs

[(c) Any employee may directly or through his attorney agent or collective bargaining representative waive compromise adjust settle or release any claim which such employee may have under this act either before or after comencement of suit thereon and a waiver compromise adjustment settlement or release of any such claim by such employee or his attorney agent or collective bargaining representative shall be a complete satisfaction of such claim and a complete bar to any action based on such claim]

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as attempted amendments to the bill were defeated yesteday, I would like to make a brief comment on this bill.

This bill simply contains three provisions, all of which in my estimation, would improve the nature of the original act. I do not say that the original act is as good as it would stand with these amendments, but it will at least be improved, and for that reason I would urge all Members to support it. I will give them information that to the best of my knowledge the labor organizations, namely, the CIO and AFL have no objections to the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from York. The amendments to this bill improve the original Act and I, therefore, for what the recommendation is worth, recommend its adoption.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 573, Printer's No. 226, on page 12 of today's calendar, bills on final pasage postponed.

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 608, Printer's No. 83, on page 12 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. GUTHRIE.

The House resumed the consideration on final pasage of House Bill No. 626, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1005) entitled as amended "An act relating to and regulating tractors and their operation providing for their registration by the Department of Revenue upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of tractors providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of tractors imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by further regulating the length of tractors and combinations of vehicles further limiting where informations charging violations of summary provisions of said act may be brought

Section 1 The first paragraph of subsection (c) of section 607 of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1005) entitled as amended "An act relating to and regulating tractors and their operation providing for their registration by the Department of Revenue upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of tractors providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships within the Comonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of tractors imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" as last amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1996) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 607 Size of Vehicles and Load

* * * * *

(c) No tractor except fire department equipment shall exceed a total maximum length including load thereon of [three hundred and ninety-six (396)] four hundred and twenty (420) inches and no combination of two (2) vehicles inclusive of load couple together shall exceed a total maximum length of fifty (50) feet excepting that nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the transportation by a combination of vehicles of articles impossible of dismemberment which do not exceed seventy (70) feet

Section 2 Section 701 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L 815) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 701 Limitation of Actions

(a) Information charging violations of any of the summary provisions of this act shall be brought before a magistrate within the city borough incorporated town or township in the county where the alleged violation occurred within fifteen (15) days after the commission of the alleged offense and not thereafter except that where an information is filed against a person prima facie guilty of an offense and it subsequently appears that a person other than the person named in the information was the offender an information may be filed against such other person within fifteen (15) days after his or her identity shall be discovered Where there is no substantial difference between the respective distances from the place where the alleged violation occurred to the offices of more than one magistrate any such prosecution may be brought before any one of such magistrates or if there is no person holding the office of magistrate in such city borough incorporated town or township then such information shall be brought before such nearest available magistrate in any adjoining city incorporated town or township in the county within the same period of time as above provided in this subsection

(b) Where the offense committed is designated a misdemeanor information may be filed as now provided by law

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House I wish to state that I have no personal interest in this bill. It is a departmental bill to make the tractor code conform with the motor vehicle code.

The phraseology is word for word that which is already contained in the Motor Vehicle Code of 1949, as amended in 1951. The bill in no way will have any effect on motor vehicles, trucks, and so forth that travel on the highways.

It applies strictly to tractors which principally operate off the highways. I ask your support for the bill.

Mr FILO. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUTHRIE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, am I not correct in saying that this House Bill 626, Printer's No. 130, has been on the calendar, was defeated and reinstated on the calendar? Is that true?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, the objections at the time as I understand it, we were lengthening the tractor-trailers some number of feet, I believe it was two feet mentioned at that time. Is that correct?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, that is not correct for a tractor that operates on the highway. It would be correct for a farm tractor.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, this only pertains to a farm tractor not to a tractor on the highway. Is that correct?

Mr. GUTHRIE. Mr. Speaker, yes, I can refer you to the page and Section and so forth, page 143, Section 3 of the Motor Vehicle Code which I have here.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I will take the gentleman's word for this. I am in error here and I think I will now go along with the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 664, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 13 of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof" by permitting the use of certain concrete pipe as sewer pipe under certain conditions

Section 1 Section 13 of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the busines or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof" as amended by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 168) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 13 Where the ground is of sufficient solidity for a proper foundation cylindrical terra-cotta pipe of the best quality free from flaws splits or cracks perfectly burned and well glazed over the entire inner and outer surfaces or concrete pipe meeting the present specifications of the American Society for Testing Materials for concrete sewer pipe may be used if laid on a smooth bottom with a special groove cut in the bottom of the trench for each hub in order to give the pipe a solid bearing on its entire length and the soil well rammed on each side of the pipe The spigot and hub ends shall be connected The space between the hub and the pipe must be thoroughly filled with cement mortar made of equal parts of the best American natural cement and bar sand thoroughly mixed dry and enough water afterwards added to give the proper consistency The mortar must be mixed in small quantities and used as soon as made The joints must be carefully wiped out and pointed and all mortar that may be left inside removed and the pipe left clean and smooth throughout for which purpose a swab may be used It must not be laid closer than five feet to any exterior wall of a building or less than three and one-half feet below the surface of the ground or when the sewer passes near a well nor will it be allowed in bad or made ground or inside a building with or without a cellar

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Kratz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KRATZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr Speaker, I would like to know if the gentleman wanted to go into the cement plant business, would there be anything to stop him?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, would you repeat that question, please.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wanted to go into the cement making business and build a plant to make cement, would there be anything to stop him?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I think not.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if you wanted to sell cement products or cement for cement products, could you do so, if you built a plant?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would have the right to sell them if I wanted to, but I do not understand the question about building the plant, the second time.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, what I am leading up to is asking another question. In other words, you would not call the cement making industry a monopoly?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, no, certainly not.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if you wanted to build a terra cotta pipe plant would there be anything to stop you?

Mr KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, well, that I do not know. From the opposition I have found here to this bill there may be some portion that could stop me, I do not know. I suppose probably that machinery is all patented and I might not have an opportunity to buy it to go into that business

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is being facetious.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I think not.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wanted to go into the sewer pipe making business all he has to do would be to secure the necessary machinery and the money and build a plant Just as if he wanted to go into the cement making business, he would have to secure the machinery and build a plant.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman tell me whether or not there are any patents on the clay pipe machinery, puddling mills and that sort of thing. I think there are.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think there are too, but I think it is possible to secure rentals and things like that in order to have the machinery. In other words, what I mean is, it is possible to build either a cement plant or a terra cotta pipe plant and go into business.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I know it is possible to build a cement plant but I do not know that it is possible to build a terra cotta plant.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is talking beside the point—he wants to evade the point.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I think not

Mr. BRETH. Very well, Mr Speaker, since the gentleman will not answer the question directly, I would like to interrogate him further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. KRATZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if this bill 664 is passed, could you go into the business of making concrete pipe?

Mr KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I could, yes, but I am not going to.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, what kind of machinery would you need to make concrete pipe?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would need certain types of molds and centrifugal machinery that can spin the pipe and make it dense and impervious, which is something you cannot do with a clay pipe

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is still trying to settle a point which has not been raised. In other words, you could start making concrete pipe, authorized under the provisions of this bill, just by securing some machinery and a form and going into it. Right?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, no, that is not all the story.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, suppose you were in the business. I will put it that way—suppose you were in the business and were making concrete pipe in a small way—you can go into the business in a small way, or can't you?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not think you can go into it in too small a way because the equipment is rather expensive and you would have to have a sizeable plant to do it.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, who would inspect the pipe if it was produced in any plant making concrete pipe?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I suppose the same people who inspect the pipe now—those people who buy the pipe, buy it through specification—they have their own inspectors in the plant to inspect their own orders to see that it is made to specifications And besides, an industry like the cement industry has their own inspectors to see that the quality of their product is kept up

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, if I were a small dealer and wanted to buy a small amount of concrete pipe for house sewer connections, I could buy it?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, certainly you could.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, would I need to be an inspector to buy it?

Mr KRATZ Mr. Speaker, no, because it would be inspected by the proper people in the industry before it was put out to the distributors of the pipe. Just remember this, the distributor is the man who is responsible for the product he sells, and if the manufacturer does not give him a product that is adequate and first class in every respect he will not accept it That is based on this fact, large distributors distribute not only one commodity, they distribute many commodities

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I did not ask about the distribution . . . .

Mr. KRATZ. I would like to have the floor. Mr. Speaker, to complete my remarks.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Clearfield wish to interrogate the gentleman further?

Mr. BRETH. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, not until my remarks are completed.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be interrogated at this time Will the gentleman from Clearfield yield to the gentleman from Montgomery?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I will yield temporarily.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Montgomery will proceed.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to say this, that these large distributors distribute not only cement pipe, they distribute asphaltum pipe, they distribute clay pipe, they distribute many other commodities that are used by the builders, constructors, plumbers, and so forth in the building trades. If they get the name of distributing one item out of their entire list that is not satisfactory, they will not get the business from the people who use that material I speak as one of authority—I do not sell that particular line of pipe or any kind of pipe, but I do sell building materials, and I know we have to watch all manufacturers with care and caution to see that we give our customers proper material

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

It is obvious that the state does not require any inspector to be in every concrete mixing plant, large or small, to inspect the products. If I as a small builder or any other small builder wanted to buy sufficient pipe for one house, eight houses or ten houses, all I would have to do would be to find a person or a small plant making it and buy it.

There is no guarantee in this bill. There is no guarantee in the law today that any concrete pipe would be made according to the ASTM specifications in this business. In other words, if it came down to a cat and dog fight regarding price and the delivery of goods, it would be possible for an inferior product to be bought, and once it was placed three feet under ground there would be no opportunity to inspect it. In other words, no opportunity to protect the buyer and the small property owner.

Now in terra cotta pipe there is no doubt at all about the quality of the pipe. The pipe must be burned. It must be glazed, and when it comes out there is no question about it, it is a glazed terra cotta pipe, and that is all there is to it. There is same inspection for big builders and governmental operations, highways, buildings, and so forth, there is unlimited inspection.

The point, Mr. Speaker, that was raised the other day in debate on an amendment is to try to bring up the quality of concrete pipe to the equal of terra cotta pipe. That was discussed and the gentleman admitted and his testimony was practically in these words: "There is no question about concrete pipe not being the equal of terra cotta pipe."

I believe we should think quite seriously before voting on this bill. Who wants to penalize the small property owner? Most of these house connections are going to be put into buildings that are going to be bought by the average rank and file, the man with a small family—and if, in a few years, the house sewer connections deteriorate, it is going to mean an expensive repair bill to him. I say the evidence is not fair, definitely not fair—I mean evidence not hearsay. The evidence that concrete pipe will stand up under house sewer acids and gas is definitely not there.

The federal government in any pipe building operation where there is a trace of sewer acid or gas not only specifies one hundred per cent terra cotta pipe—now these are federal regulations—and the federal regulations also stipulate that the joints must be packed with oakum and ensealed with a bituminous material. You cannot even use cement to seal the connections for terra cotta pipe where the federal regulations are involved.

This is a bad bill, a very bad bill, and I ask that you vote it down.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, to start off with, I have made the statement which tends to prove that concrete pipe is much more dense than terra cotta pipe Terra cotta pipe depends on probably one thirty-second of an inch or less of glaze to give it the qualities which are claimed for it. I think that will dispose of that because that is a statement of fact.

As to whether cement pipe will stand up, we are not only talking about small houses, we are talking about large installations as well. If you want to talk about a small house in the modern sewage system, the so-called laterals that connect the sewers with the houses they may have a maximum length of 40 or 50 feet, something like that. The sewage goes through these pipes, and then in a modern system goes into large cement pipes. It is conducted by these large cement pipes, goes on down to the trunk line sewers and is taken to the large sewage disposal plants, all of which are constructed of concrete and reinforced concrete. They have been standing up for over 50 years here in Pennsylvania, and I cannot see why the first few feet of pipe that take the sewage away should be of such great importance from a sanitary standpoint.

These pipes that are used are no stronger than their connections. Take the clay pipes, it is a practice all around to join them together with cement. Tree roots grow in there, pull them apart, fill the pipe up, and the plumber has a nice job on his hands in a rural section in maybe three, or four or five years to dig up the sewer and replace the pipe Sure, the pipe did not fail, but the joint failed. That is just as bad as the pipe. I have seen these pipes come out of the ground in ten years time all busted to pieces by three roots growing in there, expanding and breaking the pipes. Now that is a statement of fact.

There is another thing I want to bring to your attention here. When concrete pipes are laid, if you have any kind of a sanitary inspector at all who is doing his job, there is not one foot of that pipe covered with earth until that man is there and inspects it. Do not let anybody kid you on that.

The terra cotta pipe can be inspected at the plant and receive the inspector's or the sanitary district's approval merely on one of those guarantees that we were shown last week That guarantee has more holes in it than a sieve. It has to be inspected by the sanitary inspector, and in my particular township we have a plumbing inspector. You will not cover up one piece of anybody's pipe unless that plumbing inspector puts his "O K." on it.

I was amused listening to these arguments that I may have forgotten some of them. I did not think they were worth while making notes about, but some of them I have remembered.

I want to say this, that in the joining of cement pipe a mastic mix is recommended. Of course, some plumbers may use cement. That will be entirely up to the sanitary inspector. They may permit it in some places, but the cement pipe industry usually recommends a mastic mix so that the tree roots cannot get into the pipe.

I do not have anything further to say at this time, but I am ready for any more questions or remarks that may be put to me.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of interest to some of the remarks of the gentleman from Montgomery.

I would merely like to state this briefly: I called the attention of the House a couple of weeks ago, when this bill was before us, to the regulations of the Highway Department regarding the terra cotta pipe in certain areas, also the regulations of the Turnpike Commission. I want to state at this point in that connection that I know and you know, and we all agree, that concrete pipe is used for drainage purposes on your turnpikes and on your highways. There is no question about that.

I am afraid the gentleman from Montgomery was misinformed when he stated to the House that there was no terra cotta pipe used on the western end of the Turnpike, because I had a gentleman come to me after the Session that day who told me that he worked on the Turnpike, the western end of the Turnpike and that he personally laid plent of terra cotta pipe on the Turnpike.

I checked with the Commission and found out that that is true, that the same regulation prevails throughout the entire Turnpike, and it prevailed in connection with the regulation which I read on this floor a couple of weeks ago.

Referring to the federal regulations where sewage disposal is involved, those regulations provide, so far as sewer pipe is concerned:

> Except as otherwise shown, pipe for sanitary sewers shall be terra cotta; pipe for combined sewers shall be terra cotta."
> When they speak about sewer pipe joint material, they state that "Joints in sanitary and combined sewers shall be made with bituminous compound."

There must be a reason for those regulations. Those regulations are not made because of any legislation or anything; those regulations are made because there is a reason. The reason for those regulations in those cases where terra cotta pipe is specified is because of the fact that there are acid conditions present and that terra cotta pipe is impervious to acid conditions over a greater length or period of time than concrete pipe.

When the gentleman from Montgomery speaks about tree roots getting into terra cotta pipe, they also get into concrete pipe and have no relation to the issues involved in this bill, and that is the acids which pass through these pipes and cause the deterioration.

That same question can be stated in connection with the inspection work. The inspector is there, and it does not matter whether it is concrete, iron, terra cotta or any other kind of pipe, only for the purpose of seeing that it is properly laid and joined together. He is not there to determine the question as to what flows through it. Therefore, the arguments in connection with inspection have nothing to do with the subject of this bill, which is the protection of a pipe or pipes which will protect the flow for the greatest period of time. Terra cotta pipe is impervious to those things for a greater period of time than your concrete pipe.

There is no question about it some concrete pipe has lasted for a great number of years, but the general history of concrete pipe is that it deteriorates more rapidly under acids than the terra cotta pipe does. For that reason we think it is a protective measure to the home owner in order to see that he has the proper protection in the laying of his sewer lines.

We would ask that you vote this bill down.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, first off I would like to correct a statement attributed to me. I did not say the whole Turnpike was laid with concrete pipe. I do not know what is on the western end of the Turnpike. On the eastern end of the Turnpike, they have considerable amounts of concrete pipe used as drainage.

I want to take something else apart. The gentleman from Cameron made a statement yesterday, I believe I am correct, and he can correct me if I am not, that they were laying a section of concrete pipe with a terra cotta liner somewhere down on the Turnpike. That section is not being laid. That is the specification that was written as possibly a trial. I am informed that that specification will be changed to take out the terra cotta liner.

Now to go to the question of inspection. Certainly the sanitary inspector would not permit a cement pipe to be laid under a plumbing ordinance that calls for terra cotta pipe and no other. His physical inspection, however, on the ground would consist of seeing that that terra cotta pipe was in good shape, that the glaze was not cracked nor chipped. Because remember if that glaze was cracked or chipped, the pipe would be no good. The density of the material is such that it would not even contain the water.

You know in the farming industry those gentlemen buy miles and miles of four inch pipe, two inch and three inch for field drainage tiles. They buy clay pipe because it is so impervious to water when it is not glazed that they can lay it in the field. They lay the joints open and the water goes in through the joints, and it also goes in through the clay pipes. It is a highly desirable material where you want to get water to come into the pipe, and by the same token it will go out of the pipe anywhere where there is no glaze on it.

The cement industry has been rather successful, but they had to go to great lengths to make a porous pipe. They had to put mixtures in the cement that will gassify and make minute holes in the pipe to let the water run in. Of course, you do not have to do that with clay pipe, nature takes care of that. You correct that by putting the glaze on it.

So in closing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask a question. Is there a motion to amend on the floor at the present time?

The SPEAER. The question before the House is, shall the bill pass finally.

Mr. KRATZ. All right, Mr. Speaker, I do not have much more to say. I will just say this. I will certainly appreciate your support for this bill. It will give the people of Pennsylvania, the plumbing codes in Pennsylvania in various townships and the other interested parties, the American right to buy what they want and not hamstring them to buy just one particular thing that is so well protected by law.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the present extension of the Turnpike east that the gentleman from Montgomery mentioned, the specifications which I read from this floor a couple of weeks ago were an exact take-out of the specifications which were out for bids to be opened on May 25th. If changes have been made in them since that time, I have no knowledge and I will take the gentleman's word for what he has stated in that respect. But what I read from this floor was a complete take-out of the specifications that were put in the hands of bidders for that purpose.

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, the statement has been made by the gentleman from Clearfield County and I believe the gentleman from Cameron that the pipe will not stand household acids, if that is true, why do all the rural sections in the various parts of the state use cesspools made of cement?

We have in our area a company making cesspools out of cement. I happened to make one about 20 or 30 years ago for our cottage, and that still stands and is still in good condition.

I hear them talk about acids. My father, who ran a tannery for years—we had three of them—we had many cement pools that acid lay in from various parts of the tannery and for settling basins. They never deteriorated from any acids.

I, on my farm, have a barnyard which lays with the offal from the cattle; the gutters lay with it in during the night period, with superphosphate put on it to haul out onto the field the next day—that cement has been in there for years and never deteriorated from acid.

I have a silo for which I made a pit that is five feet deep, that lays with silage for almost a period of a year. Maybe ten months out of the year that pit is full. There is a lot of acid there, and that cement is solid.

I cannot see outside of a monopoly bill what these men are fighting. Mr. Breth has a couple of terra cotta plants in his area. Mr. Tompkins above him in the next county has a terra cotta plant. I happen to have a cement pipe company in Lycoming County. I am here fighting for the men who work in those plants so they can sell their pipe for lateral work if the people want to buy it. Let us give them a choice whether they want to buy the cement pipe or the terra cotta. As far as that glaze, anyone knows that water going through a pipe gradually wears off anything, and that glaze will not last very many years in that pipe.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill first appeared on the calendar I was rather concerned about it from a standpoint of sanitation and whether it would meet the requirements of sanitation and hygiene as referring mainly to private dwellings.

I have made my own investigations and have gotten very good information from experts who certainly do know what they are talking about, and have satisfied me personally that they know what they are talking about, that acid in sewage will not affect cement pipe in deteriorating the pipe any faster than it will affect terra cotta pipe, and maybe not as fast. So for that part of it I am perfectly satisfied that the bill is good.

Second, I too cannot see any reason why one kind of pipe should have a monopoly at the exclusion of other pipe which has been proven, and can be proven to be in every respect as good insofar as the inside drainage of the pipe is concerned, and most certainly so far as breakage and stability would be concerned it would be many hundred times stronger than ordinary terra cotta clay pipe. I ask the Members of the House to vote for the bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, there are just a couple things I want to mention and clear up.

The gentleman from Lycoming, I believe, Mr. Gleason, has mentioned septic tanks. For the information of the gentleman, the bacterial action in a septic tank changes completely the nature of the sewage in that tank, and changes it so that the acid does not have the effect that it has when it originally flows into the pipes.

Secondly, as to his statement on silos, any individual who has been on a farm for any length of time who has had experience with concrete silos will know that you have to recoat the inside of those silos every eight or ten years with a fresh coat of cement to replace the cement that has been eaten off by the acid effects of the silage.

Then there is the other argument as far as a monopoly is concerned. Perhaps clay pipe may have a monopoly today, but pass this bill, and it will not be many months until cement will have that monopoly.

Mr. GLEASON. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to take too much time, but just a rebuttal to that gentleman on the silo.

Usually the farmer who has to replace the cement in a silo goes down to the creek and gets a lot of sand that has dirt in it, and of course dirt and sand and cement do not work. It may last a year or two, but if they put good, clean moist gravel and sand in the cement, you do not have to worry about it.

We will give in to him on the septic tank angle, it may be that it is neturalized, but who neutralizes the acid waters in the rivers and creeks where all these bridge piers are standing. That acid water comes down there day in and day out, and those bridge piers and abutments are still standing.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman who is going to keep the cement pipe manufacturers from using that same kind of dirty sand that you get out of a creek. What regulations are we going to have to keep that kind of pipe from being made,

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Chairman, in House Bill No. 664, Printer's No. 181, we note that there is an endeavor to amend the Act as it relates to Cities—Counties—First—Second and Second Class A, and Cities Third Class. I have had numerous requests from cities of the third class from my county wherein they tell me, and I specifically read in this bill, that the use of cement pipe, concrete pipe, is not mandatory. It is a provision inserted in a bill which today holds that only one particular product may be used for this particular purpose.

I do know that the acid conditions as stated by several Members on the floor do not hold good in the rural areas, and that is from whence I come, because today concrete septic tanks are recommended for disposals which we are using in the rural areas to dispose of the wastes in the kitchens.

The bill merely provides that a concrete pipe can be used in the event that someone would choose to use that type of pipe. It eliminates a monopolistic practice that has been existent for some time.

I would like to ask the membership on both sides of the House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to get a few more facts into the record. I will be brief.

Pennsylvania clay pipe is sold in 16 states. There are eight states that have plumbing codes. Three states that have plumbing codes nearby us are Maryland, New York, and Virginia. In cities of 5000 population or over, a check on those communities in New York and Maryland and in Virginia, they can use anything they want to use. There is no community in those three states where codes prevail written by the sanitary engineers in control of the Building Code that approve concrete pipe for house connections. That is, in Maryland, New York, and Virginia, the sanitary engineers, if they wanted to, could approve anything they desire, yet they do not approve concrete pipe.

In reference to remarks of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, in his own district there are three cities that will be affected by this bill—Arnold, New Kensington, and Jeannette—and P. J. Malick, Frank Recco, and Leonard Schnupp, the engineers in those cities definitely do not and have refused to specify concrete pipe. They specify terra cotta pipe.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, let me point out to the gentleman that the engineers that he refers to will not be required by law to specify concrete pipe. They will still have the privilege of using their own local product, terra cotta pipe. This bill does not impose concrete pipe on anyone, it simply allows the engineer or architect who wants to use concrete pipe to do so. That is all I have in answer to that.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. CLAPPER and BRETH.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

REQUEST TO ADDRESS JOINT SESSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 27, 1953.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

If it meets with the approval of the General Assembly, I should like to address the members in Joint Session today, at four o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

JOHN S. FINE.

GOVERNOR INVITED TO ADDRESS JOINT ASSEMBLY

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Governor, the Honarable John S. Fine, be invited to the Hall of the House of Representatives to address the General Assembly at a time to be fixed by Concurrent Resolution.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

JOINT SESSION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 27, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House or Representatives concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives meet in joint session Wednesday, May 27, 1953, at four o'clock p. m., E. S. T. in the Hall of the House of Representatives for the purpose of hearing an address by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

SENATE MESSAGE

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 27, 1953.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three on the part of the Senate be appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such committee), to escort His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, to the Hall of the House of Representatives to address the Members of the General Assembly in Joint Session, pursuant to a resolution already adopted by the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT GOVERNOR TO HALL OF HOUSE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee on the part of the House to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House, Messrs. GOODLING, GIBSON and LOVETT.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SENATE

Mr. ROYER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 27, 1953.

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a Committee of two to escort the Members of the Senate to the Hall of the House for the purpose of attending the Joint Session of the General Assembly.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT SENATE

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to escort the Senate to the Hall of the House for the purpose of listening to an address of his Excellency the Governor, Messrs. ROYER and KOLANKIEWICZ.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE BILL 582 (CONTINUED)

The SPEAKER. The Chair will again lay before the House the special order of busines on Senate Bill 582.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

Mr. WOOD. I yield to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster yields to the gentleman from McKean. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. For the information of the House, we are again considering the appropriation bill for the Department of Public Assistance starting with the new biennium, June 1, 1953. When it was brought up earlier this morning a question was presented as to whether the $15 million provided any funds to take care of any deficiencies occurring prior to the close of this biennium, May 31, 1953.

I was quite surprised when the Minority Leader raised that question because I was under the impression all Session that there was a $10 million lapse in the Public Assistance appropriation. I find that my information was correct and that the verbiage in the bill at the present time which says that they can use some of the funds for expenses, and so forth, incurred up to May 31, 1953, is mere surplusage and does not have to be in the bill. As I understand it, that is the usual phrasing that is copied into the various stop-gap bills as they are presented.

My information is that when Governor Fine presented his budget of $21,789,445 worth of lapsed appropriations, that of that sum $10,159,000 was lapsed appropriations as far as public assistance is concerned.

I understand that it is quite possible that that sum of $10 million may be increased by another $2 million before the final count is taken as to budget requirements of the biennium which will end May 31.

I want to say that there is no statement of deficiencies to be presented at this time. The $15 million is for the biennium starting June 1, 1953, as I understand it.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Majority Leader. The language in the bill was misleading ,and knowing the practices of the Departments I just wanted to be sure this was not an afterthought designed to cover up an afterthought upon the part of the Department.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as followas:

COMMITTEE REPORT

Mr. ROYER. Mr. Speaker, your committee appointed to wait upon the Senate and escort that body to the Hall of the House has performed its duty, and the Senate is now in attendance.

The SPEAKER. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

The Lieutenant-Governor, the Honorable Lloyd H. Wood is invited to preside over the Joint Session of the General Assembly. The President pro tempore of the Senate, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor and the Secretary of the Senate, the Honorable G. Harold Watkins are invited to be seated on the rostrum.

The members of the Senate will please be seated.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR LLOYD H. WOOD PRESIDING.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, the committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you his Excellency the Governor, John S. Fine.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR WOOD. Members of the General Assembly, I have the privilege and the honor of presenting His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, Honorable John S. Fine, who will address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR JOHN S. FINE

GOVERNOR JOHN S. FINE. Lieutenant-Governor Wood, President pro tempore of the Senate Taylor, Speaker of the House Smith, honorable Members of the General Assembly,

The distinguished Speaker of the House consulted with me yesterday before the Republican House Caucus, and he then advised me of a speech delivered by the able Minority Leader of the House. In that speech Mr. Andrews, I understand, sought further enlightenment of the Governor's attitude on pending tax measures, before he and the minority members of the House would take definite action on tax legislation.

I informed Mr. Smith I was contemplating an early informative message to the Legislature on budgetary matters, now that the close of the present biennium affords more precise data of our fiscal affairs and permits a more accurate projection of our future financial structure. I further advised him that I could complete with some effort a reappraisal of the budget, submitted to you on January 26th, and speak to the Legislature today on both the budget and taxes.

I am addressing you to give you and the people of the State my evaluation of the situation and to make some suggestions for arriving at a program to break the present impasse. In my opinion, it is not a most desirable program.

When I submitted the budget I did not have the complete reports of the State Government Survey Committee nor of the Tax Study Committee. The Tax Study Committee report gives ample evidence to confirm the recommendations I made two years ago that our revenue system needs a broad base tax. That need is even greater now than it was two years ago and under existing laws, particularly school subsidy laws, there will be an increasing need for a broad base tax which will continue to increase every biennium to 1959-1961.

The State Government Survey Committee report commenting on the over-all State Government administration reveals this pertinent statement: "There is ample evidence from task force reports and other sources that the present functioning of the State Government possesses many desirable features and that in general it compares very favorably with governmental operations in other states."

This conclusion is clearly supported by the Tax Study Committee report, which shows that in comparison with other states the tax burden in Pennsylvania is moderate. The increase in the cost of government in 15 leading states from 1940 to 1951 was compared by the Tax Study Committee. It was found that the increase in Pennsylvania—94%—is low compared with the other states, with the exception of New Jersey. The increase in California was 247%; New York 128%; Maryland 323%; Michigan 223%; North Carolina 354%. On a per capita expenditure basis Pennsylvania stands near the bottom. Anyone who reads this report carefully will have to conclude that while expenditures have shown a big increase in all states, the increase in Pennsylvania has been a moderate one.

This State is rapidly taking over a larger and larger share of financing public school costs. From 1943 to 1951 this increased from 26.2% to 40.6%; now the share is about 45%.

Not so many years ago local governments had a share in caring for the mentally ill. Now the State carries the entire cost excepting where patients or their families contribute toward the cost. The entire cost of Public Assistance is borne at the State level.

The revenue problem in Pennsylvania is one of securing the proper and fair distribution of the tax load. The absence of a broad base tax has brought about maldistribution of the tax burden in this State.

In my budget message I told you that in view of the heavy burden of taxes, chiefly federal, which people are carrying my outstanding aim was to prepare a minimum budget. I explained the large amount of additional obligations for 1953-1955 which are mandated by existing laws—$95 million of which $81 million are for education purposes. The appropriations recommended were $100 million above appropriations for the present biennium. By virtue of the desperate scheme to balance the budget for 1951-1953 by acceleration of one-half year of Corporate Net Income tax it turned out that $157 million in new revenue was needed to balance the budget which I presented.

In my budget message I invited the Legislative examination of every appropriation recommended to determine if I had succeeded in preparing a minimum budget. I made available the Report of the State Government Survey Committee and recommended the adoption of most of the proposals of that Committee in the interest of economy. In this connection I want to call your attention to the fact that I have adopted an administrative policy which will assure the putting into effect every administrative recommendation made in that report.

If the General Assembly will enact the legislation that I shall discuss later, the resultant savings and additional revenues when added to those already reflected in my original budget will be far greater than the General Fund savings estimated in State Government Survey Committee report.

The only proposals I have seen to make reductions in the budget I submitted is a $19 million program made up by the Republican Caucus. $5 million of this was a further reduction in Public Assistance and $2.5 million in School Health examinations. Quite a number of the reductions were an arbitrary 10% and the reduction would greatly interfere with the work of the departments

The new biennium is now upon us. Without a full program of appropriations and revenue State services are seriously disrupted. We learned that two years ago during that long protracted session of 1951. The departments are left in the position of not knowing what programs they should undertake. Educational institutions, hospitals, and many State-supported activities, are left in a state of suspended uncertainty. If a revenue program is not adopted by June first there then would not be two full years' taxes for those which come in regularly during each month.

To prevent such a situation is one of the compelling reasons for my appearance here today.

When the budget was drafted we were forced to comply with the laws then in effect. All appropriations not compelled by existing laws were kept to a minimum.

The first phase of our reappraisal deals with reductions in appropriations for departmental operations. I propose these reductions not because I feel the amounts are unnecessary. There will need to be a great deal of curtailment and impairment of some services.

To achieve most of these reductions in appropriations legislation is being prepared to give the Governor the power to reorganize departments, boards and commissions in order to secure the maximum economies. Some of these were proposed by the State Government Survey Committee. My analysis of the report of that Committee leads me to conclude that the adoption of the general principles set forth in that report with such modifications as may appear necessary will permit substantial savings. In fact I believe in many areas greater savings can be made than those estimated by the Committee. The legislation I am proposing would permit economies in fields to which the State Government Survey Committee did not extend.

In addition to the broad reorganization power mentioned the Legislature should remove some of the "red tape" now required in connection with State procurement, and provide for an escalation clause in connection with major contracts. Caution will be required in drafting such legislation in order to permit greater latitude in purchasing while at the same time providing adequate protection from abuses.

Legislation for tightening controls over public assistance now before the Legislature should be immediately enacted. This will permit further savings in public assistance grants.

This phase of the program will reduce appropriations by about $11 million, and increase revenues by $1.5 million.

The second phase of the plan relates to the field of school subsidies. Some reductions can be made providing the legislation that I will discuss later is enacted. These reductions are small by comparison with some of the figures variously suggested from time to time. I do not believe the larger figures to be realistic. They contemplate elimination of a major portion of the mandated school costs to the local school districts. I am firmly convinced that most of our school districts are unable to assume such additional financial responsibility.

Act 481 of 1947, "the tax all" law, which gives municipalities and school districts broad taxing powers, has failed to achieve the purposes claimed for it. It has permitted school districts with adequate resources to increase greatly school costs. Districts without resources are still finding it difficult to finance even their nominal share of mandated school costs. Furthermore, these local taxes have hampered the State in the development of its own tax program.

There are certain school subsidies which need clarification in order to eliminate abuses. They include the following:

1. A clarifying provision for reimbursement for teaching kindergarten pupils. In view of the fact that such pupils attend school for only one-half day, the number of such pupils per teaching unit should be doubled, that is, from 30 to 60 pupils in average daily membership.

2. Reimbursement for instruction purposes should be limited so that no school district will receive more than the actual amount spent for instruction. Nor should the total State reimbursement to any school district exceed the total amount spent for current operating expenditures.

3. Legislation should be enacted tightening provisions for extra subsidies for mergers and jointure and for rental on school buildings constructed by means of Authorities. Such subsidies should be limited to districts where the merger, jointure, or additional school plant could definitely be proven to produce improved educational administration. These three changes in school subsidy legislation should yield savings of about $12 million in appropriation for school subsidies.

These two groups of proposals would result in budget reductions of $23 million and increased revenue of $1.5 million.

We may have to re-assess our salary increases for employes due to the present financial crisis. Should you adopt the forty hour week for institutional employes, the required increased appropriation for a ten per cent raise and the shorter work week would be $27.5 million, or $12.5 million more than originally contemplated in my Budget. If you decided to give the institutional employes a shorter work week with only a five per cent increase, the total increased appropriations for all employes will be $20 million, or $5 million more than originally contemplated in the Budget. The latter course would result in a cut of $7.5 million in my present Budget. If you can provide the funds for the full increase of ten per cent, it should be done. I consider it reasonable.

Because the Budget contains additional grants to the various State-supported hospitals, and in view of our limited finances, I suggest changing the amount allowed for nurses training back to the rate that existed prior to 1951. This would provide $75.00 per nurse instead of the present $150.00. This would result in a reduction in appropriation of over $1 million.

The adoption of all these suggestions would result in appropriation reductions of about $32 million, and increased revenues of about $1.5 million. I will furnish the Appropriation Committees with detailed figures showing the items to effect these changes.

In addition to the $33.5 million mentioned above, it appears now that appropriation lapses for the current biennium will exceed my original estimates by about $6 million. Thus the difference between estimated revenues based on existing taxes and the adjusted appropriations would drop from $157 million to approximately $117.5 million.

In determining the amount of additional revenue required to bridge the gap between estimated funds available and appropriations we must take into account the revenues collected during the biennium expiring next Sunday. We have reviewed the estimates for the next biennium. We are now in position to know within very narrow limits what will be collected. I am informed that total General Fund collections for this biennium will be almost exactly equal to our estimates. We cannot count on any amount over the estimate for this biennium.

If there can be better estimates I would like to see them. This should be sufficient answer to those who two years ago wanted to balance the budget by deliberately inflating revenue estimates.

After a thorough study of collections for this biennium and of more recent economic trends we believe the revenue or income estimate in the Budget for the next biennium can be increased $20 million.

This, then, further narrows the gap between funds available and appropriations to $97.5 millions. This is $60 million below the amount estimated in the Budget.

In these caluculations I did not take into account any possible reduction in the legislative or judicial appropriations. These are entirely within the province of the General Assembly.

Additional appropriations for health programs, flood control, and to replenish the State Fire Insurance Fund are needed. An appropriation is badly and sorely needed for repair work at Erie harbor. These programs, including $2 million more, will require at least $7 million and are not included in my original budget. Nor does the Budget provide for establishing a 40-hour week at the welfare and health institutions. This shorter week is in conformity with prevailing employment practices generally in public and private services, and in my opinion this shorter week should be adopted. This is necessary if we are to secure the required competent personnel to staff our institutions. To do so would require about $12.5 million additional. The Budget does not provide for appropriations of $2,700,000 required in the two child care bills now in the Legislature. I strongly urge the enactment of these two bills.

With these additional appropriations the gap between revenues and appropriations will be $120 million.

The Legislature must provide the necessary additional revenue—either by increasing existing taxes or seeking taxes not now used in Pennsylvania, or by using a combination of the two.

I shall now discuss taxes. I should like to point out that the one major tax that has received first call every time additional revenues were needed has been the Corporate Net Income tax. It is understandable that from a purely political point of view this is ordinarily the least objectionable tax to impose. It is an indirect tax and, therefore, is not recognized by the consumer in the form of higher prices. But the ease with which this tax can be passed on to the ultimate consumer depends on the relative competitive position of Pennsylvania corporations with those of other competitive states.

I want to call your attention to the Tax Study Committee report which shows Pennsylvania near the top among 15 leading industrial states in state taxes on corporations. Moreover the report shows that when the total tax burden on corporations, both local and state are taken into consideration Pennsylvania stands above all the surrounding states. This comparison is based on taxes related to net investment. Any further increases in this field of taxation will place Pennsylvania at a competitive disadvantage to both labor and industry. This I fear might prove disastrous to our entire economy.

The most damaging result of the corporate tax is its effect on the employment opportunities of our citizens. Pennsylvania is a major industrial State. We must keep it so. Its prosperity is dependent on the prosperity of its industries, which provide the jobs for our citizens. Any losses of industries to Pennsylvania would mean lost jobs for our people, and great reductions in our business and commerce.

My position on this tax has been clearly stated on numerous occasions. As recently as May 16th, in a speech at the Pennsylvania Wool Festival held in Greene County, I said:

"We cannot tax industry—no matter what branch of endeavor it may represent—into impotence. I can tell you that this Administration has no such thought, though we are beset by tax problems. I recognize—as you who are in industry must recognize—that we must never shackle with overburdensome taxes those sources of free enterprise which furnish so much work to our citizens and make a decent livelihood possible to them." In these circumstances, I would be impelled to veto any such legislation.

That has been my position throughout this Administration. It has been constant and consistent; my position will not change. None of us should surrender industrial expansion or rehabilitation to an expediency which poses serious competitive problems for our business and industry. Much has been said about "party liquidation." Some concern must be shown about "business liquidation," and the liquidation of the State economy.

I also stated my position in a talk before the Tax Institute on May 7th in which I said:

"It is not the weight of State taxation in this State that is the problem—it is its distribution."

The Tax Study Committee report lists a number of potential taxes not now used in Pennsylvania.

Naturally I have convictions on most of them. We are mindful, too, that no one particularly likes taxes. I detest them as much as any other Pennsylvanian, but we all know they are necessary if needed services are to be performed.

I have advocated in and out of season the advisability of a healthy tax climate. My labors have not been entirely wasted. I do believe the people of this Commonwealth are coming in increasing number into agreement with me that a broad base tax is not only desirable, but is highly necessary if we are to dispel the pall of tax-timidity which constantly hangs over all segments of our people and of our economy. What I may say about taxes in no way forecloses the door to the enactment of a broad base tax at this session. I might add a mercantile tax, construed by some as a broad base tax, should be avoided, if at all possible. I do not like it.

I dislike very much a so-called Unincorporated Business Tax. It would be with great reluctance that such a measure could meet with approval.

The 1953 platforms of the Republican and Democratic Parties opposed the enactment of a soft drink tax, such as was imposed by the 1947 session of the Legislature. Party promises should be kept. Nor should an industry be obliged to bear an undue proportion of taxes.

This industry would, I am sure, cooperate with the Assembly in its present fiscal dilemma, particularly in view of changed conditions in the imposition of a just and reasonable tax.

Additionally to what I have already stated on taxes, I now list taxes which will return $151,500,000.

From this list and others, as mentioned by me, you may secure to balance this Budget either $120,000,000 or $127,-500,000, whichever you determine necessary. I do not advocate any particular tax. I might be compelled to sign any or all of the following taxes to provide necessary funds for health, welfare, education, and other services for our people. All these taxes are distasteful to me:

1. A tax on cigars, chewing and smoking tobacco at rates similar to the federal rates
2. A hotel room tax of New York City type
3. A tax on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations, luggages, handbags, wallets, etc. similar to the federal tax but at 5%
4. Amusement tax @ 10%
5. Per Capita tax, $5 per person, 21 to 65 years
6. A tax on domestic and commercial users of gas and electricity @ 3.5%
7. A tax on intrastate telephone and telegraph @ 5%
8. An increase of 1c per package on cigarettes

As I said at the outset, this whole discussion is for the purpose of aiding to the solution of this financial problem. It is an emergency problem. The tax posture you mould, except it be a broad base tax, falls far short of my ideas of a sound fiscal plan. It is far preferable to a protracted session such as the last one which after all ended with an unsatisfactory program. Another long session would be tragic. Recurrent biennial tax snarls, with resultant deficit financing, disproportionate tax burdens, and punitive tax policies, are now producing immeasurable harm to our economy and are deterrents to our progress and welfare.

I want to say that the Republican leadership of the House is deserving of much credit for their able direction of the advocates of a broad base tax.

In a sense they did not fail. They were fouled.

The minority party was lashed to its 1952 platform which was opposed to the only two broad base taxes which are constitutionally permissible, and of course, being so regimented, they were accordingly not helpful. Only the most compelling reasons can justify failure to adhere to platform pledges. I recognize that in the minority party as I would like to have it recognized in my own party.

Perhaps the tax impasse is a compelling reason. However that is for the minority to decide.

In any event, I do agree with this statement in the 1950 Democratic platform: "The present laws of Pennsylvania are a chaotic hodge podge of unscientific and uncoordinated tax levies." That is certainly true.

We must all recognize, however, it seems to me that this is no time for recriminations between members of the same party or between members of the different parties. All of us are in this together. We together must solve this problem for the good of Pennsylvania.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR WOOD. Governor Fine, in behalf of the General Assembly, I wish to assure you that your message will receive serious consideration on the part of the General Assembly.

JOINT SESSION ADJOURNED

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR WOOD. The purpose for which the General Assembly was convened having been accomplished the Chair now declares the Joint Session adjourned.

The Senators will please reassembly in the Senate Chambers.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR

PROCEEDINGS OF JOINT SESSION PRINTED IN JOURNAL

Mr. ERB. Mr. Speaker, I move that the proceedings of the Joint Session of the Senate and House held Wednesday, May 27, 1953, be printed in full in this day's Legislative Journal.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1217, Printer's No. 213,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1271, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing the compensation of auditors

Section 1 Section 545 of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L.

Cooper,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 902, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 2502 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P L 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by limiting the districts entitled to supplemental payments by the Comonwealth on account of pupils in joint schools or in union or merged districts

Section 1 Section 2502 of the act aproved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P L 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P L 1783) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2502 Payments on Account of Instruction (a) Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools joint elementary schools and joint high schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public school joint elementary schools and joint high schools by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and for the school year 1950-1951 by three thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($3850) for the school year 1951-1952 by four thousand dollars ($4000) for the school year 1952-1953 by four thousand three hundred dollars ($4300) for the school year 1953-1954 by four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) for the school year 1954-1955 by four thousand seven hundred dollars ($4700) for the school year 1955-1956 by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 by five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100) for the school year 1957-1958 by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter by five thousand five hundred dollars ($5500) Provided That the amount of payment to be made by the Commonwealth to any school district during the school year 1951-1952 and 1952-1953 for the school years 1950-1951 and 1951-1952 on account of the instruction of pupils under the provisions of this section shall not be less than the amount paid to the district during the school year 1949-1950 on acount of the instruction of pupils Provided further That if the number of teaching units in any school district for the school year 1950-1951 or 1951-1952 is less than the number of teaching units for the school year 1948-1949 the payment by the Comonwealth shall be reduced proportionately

(b) In addition to the payments hereinbefore specified the following supplemental payments shall be made to districts of the third and fourth class and to such other districts as have been approved by the Department of Public Instruction prior to the effective date of thisamendment that are the district of residence on account of pupils enrolled in elementary schools or high schools operated by joint boards of which the district of residence is a member and pupils enrolled in schools operated by union or merged districts

(1) In the case of joint elementary schools five hundred dollars ($500) per teaching unit multiplied by the standard reimbursement fraction of the district of residence

(2) In the case of joint high schools five hundred dollars ($500) per teaching unit multipled by the standard reimbursement fraction of the district of residence

(3) In the case of elementary schools operated by union or merged districts eight hundred dollars ($800) per teaching unit multiplied by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

(4) In the case of high schols operated by union or merged districts eight hundred dollars ($800) per teaching unit multiplied by the district's standard reimbursement fraction

In all cases the supplemental payments specified in the foregoing shall be made only for organizations approved by the Department of Public Instruction

The foregoing supplemental payments shall also be made to districts of the second class when the joint organization meets the standards and regulations prescribed by the state council of education.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section when because of sparsity of population road or climatic conditions or lack of other available high school facilities the State Council of Education has approved the continued operation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the State Council of Education as being required to provide a satisfactory educational program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than the minimum subsidy per teaching unit

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 203, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" by authorizing investments in common stocks of investment companies meeting certain qualifications and eliminating the requirement that stock must be listed on an exchange as to the stock of investment companies

Section 1 Subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1410) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 Stocks

(a) Preferred and Common Stock Preferred and common stock of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any commonwealth or state thereof or of the District of Columbia shall be an authorized investment if

(1) purchased in the exercise of that degree of judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of prudence discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds considering the probable income to be derived therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital

(2) in the case of preferred stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in eight of the preceding ten fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding ten fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during such year

(3) in the case of common stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in twelve of the preceding sixteen fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding sixteen fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during said year and in each of at least twelve of the preceding sixteen fiscal years has paid dividends in some amount upon all its common stock if any outstanding during such year and

(4) in the case of any stock other than stock of a bank or insurance company or of an investment company (as hereinafter defined) the stock is listed or traded (or if unlisted or not entitled to trading privileges shall be eligible for listing and application for such listing shall have been made) on the New York Stock Exchange or any other exchange approved by the Secretary of Banking

No investment in common stock shall be made which at that time would cause the market value of the investments in common stocks to exceed one-third of the market value of the estate not including in such market value the value of any participation in a common trust fund No sale or other liquidation of any investment shall be required solely because of any change in market values whereby the percentages of stocks hereinabove set forth are exceeded In determining the market value of an estate a fiduciary may rely upon published market quotations as to those investments for which such quotations are available and upon such valuations of other property as in his best judgment seem fair and reasonable according to available information

When a corporation has acquired a substantial part of its property within sixteen years immediately preceding the investment by consolidation or merger or by the purchase of a substantial part of the property of any other corporation or corporations the earnings of the predecessor or constituents corporations shall be consolidated so as to ascertain whether the requirements of this section have been satisfied

"Corporation" as used in this section shall include a voluntary association a joint-stock association or company a business trust a Massachusetts trust a common-law trust and any other organization organized and existing for any lawful purpose and which like a corporation continues to exist notwithstanding changes in the personnel of its members or participants and conducts its affairs through a committee a board or some other group acting in a representative capacity

"Investment Company" as used in this section shall mean a corporation (as defined in this Section) which is registered as an investment company under the Federal Investment Company Act of 1940 as from time to time amended and which has no preferred stock bonds loans or any other outstanding securities having preference or priority as to assets or earnings over its common stock and which shall have net assets of not less than Ten million dollars ($10,000,000) at the date of purchase

"Common Stock" as used in this section shall include the stock certificates certificates of beneficial interests or trust participation certificates issued by any corporation or unincorporated association included under the definition of "corporation" in the preceding paragraph

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence Nos. 96, 470 and 525.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JIM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have prepared a statement of my views and other information on House Bill 886.

I would appreciate it if the Chairman and Committee members of Military Affairs would read my statement which will be printed in the House Legislative Journal.

On March 30, 1953 I introduced House Bill No. 886, Printer's No. 886 which was referred to Committee on Military Affairs March 31, 1953.

The Honorable Richard D. Laird. President Judge of Common Pleas Court of Westmoreland County, Greensburg, Pennsylvania who was a First Lieutenant of the 10th Infantry, U. S. Volunteers, April 27, 1898 to August 22, 1899, wounded in action July 31, 1898 in the battle Malate, P. I., is very much interested in the passage of this proposed legislation.

On May 22, 1953 James D. Herald the Editorial Page Director of the Tribune Review Publishing Company, 122 N. Main Street, Greensburg, Pennsylvania published the following:

INTERESTED IN VETS' BILL

Quite a number of Spanish-American War and other veterans in this county, including 76-year-old Dan A. Dooley, of Ligonier, are very much interested in House Bill No. 886 which was introduced in the Legislature by Rep. Charles J. Jim, of Latrobe.

This bill embodies resolutions passed at the 1949 State Affairs, and they would like very much to get it out on the floor of the House for favorable action.

This bill embodies resolutions passed at the 1949 State Encampments of the United Spanish War Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Amvets, the American Legion, and by the surviving members of the 10th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry Regiment attending the 50th annual reunion at Monongahela in August 1949.

It calls for amending the law pertaining to veterans to provide for:

1. Opening an office in Harrisburg under the supervision of the State Registrar of Veterans' Graves, where the permanent burial record of every service person buried in the state shall be on file and available at all times.

2. Compelling all undertakers to file the burial records of any service person buried in the state with the county commissioners of the county in which the person is buried, at the time of burial.

3. Prohibiting the removal of a competent director of veterans' affairs without a just and sufficient reason.

The same recommendations were submitted to the 1951 session of the General Assembly, and many veterans were disappointed when all the General Assembly did was to reshuffle the entire veteran setup by placing everything pertaining to veterans under a new head, that of Deputy Adjutant General in Charge of Veterans Affairs.

There has been some whispering around Harrisburg that Ligonier's Dan Dooley is so keenly interested in the bill, because he "is trying to work himself into a job." Mr. Dooley says that talk is not fair. To refute it he points to his advanced age, and declares he is absolutely not available for any new assignments. Since May 1946, Dooley has been on the voluntary non-pay assignment of compiling, checking, and rechecking the records of his old outfit, the "Fighting Tenth." And he has done some very fine work on this task, which is greatly appreciated by veterans who are familiar with what he has been doing and what he has accomplished.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, for the privilege of my statement on House Bill No. 886 my hearty thanks.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews, who requested information the other day as to which Committees had not met, the Chair would inform the gentleman that the Committee on Railroads and Railways, and the Committee on Public Utilities have not met for the purpose of considering bills.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will it be necessary to endeavor to initiate some action upon the part of the House in order to make certain that the two Committeee that have not met to consider organization will meet?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that he has just recently been informed that the Committee on Railroads and Railways will meet this week.

The Chair does not feel at this time that it will be necessary to take any action in regard to the Committee on Public Utilities because the Chair has also been given information that that Committee will meet in the very near future.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Speaker.

AVAILABLE COPIES OF HOUSE BILL No. 1140

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I understand that there are no printed copies available of House Bill No. 1140, which is the reapportionment bill recently reported from Committee. That is a bill in which there is a great deal of interest.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that what the gentleman says is the fact.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, you will readily see that every county leader in every county is interested in this reapportionment bill. I would therefore suggest that steps be taken to secure an additional supply at the earliest possible date.

The SPEAKER. Following the Minority Leader's suggestion it might be wise for the Majority Leader to be recognized at this time for the purpose of making a motion that additional copies be printed for the benefit of the Members.

The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Chief Clerk be instructed to have printed in white an additional thousand copies of House Bill No. 1140.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I suggest to the Majority Leader that copies of the bill, as soon as they are printed, be sent home to every Member of the House. We would appreciate that very much.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that the Chief Clerk place the bills in the Members' mail boxes.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained nuanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

COMMITTEE MEETING

GAME AND FORESTRY. Mr. Goodling, Chairman, Room 331, Thursday, May 28, at 9:30 a. m. DST.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, May 28, 1953 at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:58 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.

SENATE

THURSDAY, May 28, 1953.

The Senate met at 12:01 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy Name; Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts as we have forgiven our debtors. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARE asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. CROWE, because of important pressing business.

GROUP FROM POLITICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH, PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair takes pleasure in noting the presence of a group from the Political Science Department, of the University of Pittsburgh, together with the instructor, Doctor Branning, sitting in the right rear of the Senate Chambers.

Will they please rise in place and take a bow?

The group are the guests of Senator Holland.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, am I correct in assuming that the next Order of Business is consideration of the Calendar?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I request that any bill which is voted on, that the Senators be in their seats when they are voting.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, as long as the gentlemen of the Senate are within the railing, they do not have to be in their seats to vote.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I thank the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Freed, for the ride back?

The PRESIDENT. Did the Chair understand the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, to say that he is leaving and will be right back?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, in the first place, if I may address the Chair—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. MAHANY, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, for what purpose is the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Freed, rising? There is nothing before the Senate except the announcement of the roll call, as I understand it.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, that is what I am after.

Mr. President, the last name I heard called, I know definitely that Senator is not in his seat.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Freed, is out of order at this time. The roll has been called and there has been no announcement of it as yet, and I believe that is the next order of business.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. FREED. In other words, Mr. President, when the names are called and the name called is absent—

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Chair has already ruled that the gentleman is out of order.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41

Bane,	Holland,	McCusker,	Toole,
Barr,	Kephart,	McGinnis,	Wade,
Berger,	Kessler,	McPherson, Jr.	Wagner,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.	Miller,	Walker,
Chapman,	Lane,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Dent,	Letzler,	Peelor,	Watson,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Ruth,	Weiner,
DiSilvestro,	Mahany,	Snowden,	Wolfe,
Haluska,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Wood,
Hare,	McCreesh,	Taylor,	Yosko,
Harney,

NAYS—5

Camiel,	Freed,	Leader,	McMenamin,
Fleming,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, do we have more than thirty-five Members within the rail of the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. In answer to the question raised by the gentleman from Lehigh, the vote on final passage of the bill, as previously announced, is "yeas" 41, "nays" 5.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I do not wish to be delinquent. I have been here since the beginning of the Session. However, I have not yet registered in with the Senator from Lehigh, Senator Freed. I want to report to him that I am present.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, wish to take judicial notice of the presence of the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. McMenamin?

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, all I am after is that I asked in the very beginning that those who are here should be recorded. Then we turned around and the roll was called up to the last name. Then I was refused the answer at that time, and told that I was out of order. Now, when you make the grand total, I am trying to find out who is out of order now. There are just a few Members on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. All the Chair can say to the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Freed, is that if he really desired to determine whether or not there were a certain number of Senators here, he did not use the right procedure. The Chair was compelled to rule as he did upon the questions which were raised by the gentleman from Lehigh.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1100, as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, one of the problems which has plagued us since January has been taxes. Many people have given a lot of thought in thinking up new taxes. As far as I can see, Mr. President, one of the problems people in politics have is saying "no." We get many requests for a lot of worthy causes for new moneys and new appropriations.

Mr. President, some day in this Country and in Pennslyvania, somewhere, sometime and some place, somebody must start saying "no." I propose here a Constitutional amendment which would place a moratorium for ten years on all new taxes for new purposes. In other words, we have certain commitments to the school teachers today, and certain commitments to the hospitals and so forth. Those should be met. Raising revenue for new purposes, or new appropriations for new purposes, under this proposed amendment to the Constitution would be done away with or a moratorium declared on them for ten years. We have just got to say "no" and perhaps this amendment, if it is approved by the people, will help us here in the Legislature not to appropriate money for new purposes.

Mr. President, I offer at this time the following bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McMENAMIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 651, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto a new section.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. PEELOR and PECHAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 652, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies, with the approval of the Governor, to acquire a tract of land and building thereon in the Borough of Indiana, Indiana County, Pennsylvania for the use of Indiana State Teachers' College; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1217, Printer's No. 213

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1254, as follows:

An Act to add subsection (5) to Section 2 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. L. 965) entitled "An act defining commodities regulating the sale thereof and providing penalties for violation hereof" by providing for the transportation sale and delivery of manure

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Leisey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEISEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to raise any odors here, but I would like to ask the gentleman to explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. LEISEY. The purpose of this bill—

Mr. MORAN. I would like to suggest, Mr. Speaker, that if Mr. Leisey will move up closer to the microphone, we might be able to hear him; or maybe he does not want to be heard.

Mr. LEISEY. The purpose of this bill is to prevent the manure from being watered or foreign substances being added before weighing. It is a Department bill and was requested by the Department of Weights and Measures.

The SPEAKER. Does the explanation satisfy the gentleman?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I am still confused. I still did not hear what the gentleman said.

Mr. LEISEY. It is a Department bill and was requested because of a condition existing for quite some time by the mushroom people in Chester County. The objection is that there has been a lot of water added, sand, and other foreign materials before the manure was weighed, and the cost is about double what it should be to the fellow who plants and raises mushrooms.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for his explanation.

I was speaking to Mr. Leisey the other day, I think it was on the elevator and I asked him about this bill. He told me that he was going to introduce amendments which would take the odor out of the bill, and I am still wondering how he can do that.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, seriously on this bill, I have not yet seen the amendments, and I have an objection to it. I would like to defer voting on it until such time as I can see the amended bill, if the gentleman will permit. There is no copy of the amended bill here, and I would like to see the amended bill before I vote on it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester permit House Bill No. 1254, Printer's No. 300, to be passed over at this time?

Mr. LEISEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1100.

An Act to protect the public health as well as the livestock industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by regulating the business of collecting transporting cooking and feeding garbage to swine providing for renegotiating contracts or parts of such conrtacts made with persons engaged in such business providing for the licensing of such business and cancellation of such licensing authorizing the Department of Agriculture to promulgate rules and regulations therefor imposing certain duties upon said department and providing penalties

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, Page 1, by inserting after the word "swine" the following: "providing for renegotiating contracts or parts of such contracts made with persons engaged in such business"

Amend Section 2, Page 3, by adding after line 11 the following:

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law it shall be lawful for any person political subdivision institution or public or private corporation to renegotiate or alter or change any contract or any part of any contract with any person firm or corporation deemed to be engaged in the business of feeding garbage for the purpose of providing a just and equitable return on the added expense or investment to the person firm or corporation deemed to be engaged in the business of feeding garbage necessitated in fulfilling such contract due to the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, several months ago I suggested a tax program, but it was turned down and labeled as a "soak the rich program," but yesterday after several months of waiting and expense, I heard the Governor tell the General Asembly the following:

> From this list and others as mentioned by me, you may secure to balance this budget either $120 million or $127.5 million whichever you determine necessary.

Number three of that Governor's list states in part as follows:

> A tax on jewelry, furs, toilet preparations, luggage.

This number three was a large portion of my luxury tax program. Can it be that the Governor at last sees some merit in placing a tax on luxuries and ability to pay?

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. Miller. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 8, 1953 at 12 noon, E. S. T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:18 a. m., E. S. T.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1953. 140th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 33. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1953. No. 47.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 8, 1953

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. J. B. WILLIAMS, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the privilege of being alive in these times of challenge and opportunity. Equip us with unshaken faith and dauntless courage for the responsible position to which we have been called by our fellowmen. Help us that we may at all times and in all circumstances give to this office dignity and honesty.

May we never fail nor forsake our trust because of cowardice and weakness. Help each of us to rise to the high level of unselfishness and service which Thou dost expect of us. Grant that we give our best to Thee each day, in the giving of our best to our task. Discipline us in service to the common good. Unite us in one continuous prayer and effort that, under Thy guidance, we may make our world a place where fruitful industry, valiant truth, responsible freedom, creative love and pure religion flourish and all men dwell together as the sons of God in love and peace, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

SENATE BILL No. 474, PRINTER'S No. 170,
RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 4, 1953.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 474, Printer's No. 170, entitled "An Act to further amend Section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 318) entitled 'An act to regulate the sale and possession of penicillium (penicillin) and its derivatives preparations and compounds in the interest of public health' by providing certain exceptions to said act."

This bill further amends Section 1 of the Act by providing a further exception to the provisions of said act which regulates the sale and possession of penicillium (penicillin) and its derivatives, preparations and compounds in the interest of public health by prohibiting the retail sale or dispensing of penicillium and its derivatives, preparations and compounds without the written prescription of a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian.

This bill would permit retail sales and the dispensing of penicillium and its derivatives, preparations and compounds without a written prescription when the drug is used to supplement animal or poultry feeds that are not intended for human consumption. It does not, however, contain adequate safeguards to insure the proper use of the drug for these purposes. Under its present form, anyone could acquire the drug without a written prescription if it is alleged that it would be used to supplement animal or poultry feeds; also, when penicillium is used for these purposes, it appears that all provisions of the Act of 1945, supra, are to be suspended.

However desirable the use of the drug to supplement animal or poultry feeds might be, an exception to the Act of 1945, supra, which would also allow all purposes of the act to be defeated by circumvention under the guise of using the drug for animal or poultry feeds must be prevented.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. McCUSKER. Mr. President, I dislike very much the task on which I am about to set forth. I am taking to task certain leaders of my party, which I dislike very much. I feel that now is the time when we must take them to task.

Mr. President, I would like to bring to the attention of the Senators here what is existing and going on in the city of Philadelphia. At the present time, the Governor is using his office as a tool in a factional fight, which is resulting in the dismissal of three employees of one of the State departments. These gentlemen are very efficient and very capable men. However, it is the ultimate result that the little fellow must suffer and he is suffering at the present time. If we are for efficiency and economy in government, then it is important that these men be reinstated.

Mr. President, at the present time they have created quite a condition in Philadelphia, which is destroying the morale of the various State departments. On this condition, the newspapers have published that forty-eight more employees are to be dismissed. There does not seem to be any cause why these dismissals should be in existence. As a result of this newspaper publicity of these forty-eight employees in the State Department, the morale of the office, as I said, has been affected. The ultimate result is that the taxpayers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the city of Philadelphia have been affected.

Mr. President, I feel under the circumstances that if the Senators are appraised of this condition, something can be done to rectify it. I feel that these little men, who have been affected by these dismissals, should be reinstated. I feel that something should be done about relieving the condition which now exists in the city of Philadelphia.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO CONDUCT A STUDY OF THE EFFECTIVENESS AND THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE "SOLICITATION ACT"

Messrs. WADE and TAYLOR offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, The inhabitants of this Commonwealth are asked to contribute to many worthy charitable, religious, benevolent, humane and patriotic purposes; and

Whereas, The solicitation of funds for such purposes is presently regulated by the provisions of the act, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 644), entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable, religious, benevolent, humane, and patriotic purposes," and its amendments; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to conduct a study of the effectiveness and the administration of the "Solicitation Act" and the propriety of exempting any organization from its provisions, and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

THANKS OF SENATE EXTENDED TO EDWARD A. LINSKY FOR HIS OUTSTANDING WORK WITH AMERICAN LEGION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I offer the following resolution, and for the information of the Members of the Senate I would like to read it.

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

"One of the United States' staunchest supporters of the basic fundamentals of republican constitutional government is the American Legion. The Legion throughout its existence has continually strived to inculcate the love and honor due our Nation into its citizens, as well as to protect the families of servicemen from the vicissitudes of life.

"The Pennsylvania Department of the Legion has been very fortunate in having one of the finest and hardest working men in the entire national organization of the American Legion.

"Edward A. Linsky has been associated with the American Legion since 1919. He has held various important offices in the Pennsylvania Department and has been its Adjutant since 1935.

"His first job, with the Legion, upon his discharge from the Army, was Director of Distribution of French War Memorial Certificates to the families of servicemen killed in World War I. Mr. Linsky, then realizing the value of the American Legion's program, personally introduced the Legion and its work to the citizens of Philadelphia. The War Department officially commended him for the outstanding manner in which he performed his task.

"Perhaps, the greatest work he did for the Legion, and the one task that best describes the humanitarian nature of Mr. Linsky, was the creation, by him, of the Disabled Soldiers Committee, which has as its goal the alleviation of suffering by servicemen's widows and orphans and providing care for wounded veterans.

"The esteem in which he is held by his fellow Legionnaires is evidenced by the fact that every Department Commander has renamed him as Adjutant for the Pennsylvania Department.

"The years of unselfish service to his fellow men have taken their toll upon the health of this man, who has given so much of his life and time to others, that his failing health now requires him to resign from his life's work; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Senate thank Edward A. Linsky for the outstanding work he has performed for his fellow citizens, and recognize in him the personification of the Legion's guiding obligation 'To Serve God and Country'; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate forward copies of this resolution to Mr. Linsky and to the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion."

Mr. President, I offer this resolution on behalf of the Legionnaires in the Senate, Senator Hare, Senator Freed, Senator Wade, Senator Kessler, Senator Mallery, Senator Wolfe, Senator Pechan, Senator Peelor, Senator McPherson, Senator McCusker and myself.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. HARE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is adopted.

PRESENTATION OF OFFICE CHAIR TO THE HONORABLE LLOYD H. WOOD

Messrs. WATSON and CHAPMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Rarely does a former Senator become the Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth and thereby become President of the Senate.

The rarity is personified by our present Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd Wood, who before his election to that office was a colleague of ours in the Senate.

With tongue in cheek, we presented a chair for use in his office, hoping he would embody into his new duties those qualities of leadership, integrity, honesty and friendship that marked our previous relationship with him, as a truly wholesome experience.

Since that time we have closely observed his actions, in and out of the chair, and are now firmly convinced that he has not only admirably filled our preconceived convictions as to his ability and character, but in addition has more than adequately filled the chair; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate give this chair, as a token of its esteem and affection to our former colleague and with it the sincere desire that he derive as much pleasure from its use in the future as he has in the past.

Ode To A Chair
What is so rare
As a Chair
That fits the Derriere.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair feels he should retire to the "Racquet Club."

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE FACTORS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Messrs. HARE and SNOWDEN offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, Pennsylvania's highway system, comprising more than 40,000 miles, is the most extensive State highway system in the United States, and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Turnpike is world-famous as the greatest toll highway ever constructed; and

Whereas, Millions of vehicles of all types annually travel the highways of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, A joint legislative committee of this General Assembly has made extensive investigations and submitted a factual report on turnpike safety; and

Whereas, Much has been accomplished in the interests of safety by said joint legislative committees; and

Whereas, The said joint legislative committee has determined that the study of highway safety should be continued and should include the highway system generally, as well as the turnpike; and

Whereas, the Pennsylvania safety record is outstanding; yet, the concern is that the system shall be the safest in the world; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and exhaustive study of the factors responsible for highway accidents and to formulate recommendations contemplating the reduction of such accidents; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

REQUESTING THAT JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION RE-ESTABLISH ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO THE LEGISLATIVE SUBCOMMITTEE ON DECEDENTS' ESTATES LAWS

Messrs. KEPHART and WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary General:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, Under Senate Resolution, Serial No. 46, adopted March 13, 1945, and under Senate Resolution Serial No. 34, adopted March 10, 1947, the Joint State Government Commission was directed to study, revise and prepare for reenactment the Orphans' Court Partition Act, the Orphans' Court Act, the Revised Price Act, the Wills Act, the Register of Wills Act, the Intestate Act and the Fiduciaries Act, together with their supplements and amendments; and

Whereas, In accordance with said resolution, the Joint State Government Commission appointed a legislative subcommittee of twelve members. This legislative committee in turn appointed an Advisory Committee composed of outstanding members of the Bar, both judges and attorneys, who were recognized experts in the field of Decedent Estates Laws; and

Whereas, The Joint State Government Commission, the legislative subcommittee and the Advisory Committee, completed their studies and prepared all of the drafts of various revisions deemed necessary, including the "Incompetents' Estates Act of 1951," all of which were enacted into law during either the 1947, 1949 or 1951 legislative session; and was received by the legislature, the bench and the Bar with the highest commendation; and

Whereas, The results of the work of these committees

Whereas, There is a growing recognition of a need to continue the Advisory Committee's existence and work; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall reestablish the Advisory Committee, to the Legislative Subcommittee on Decedents' Estates Laws and reappoint the same members to said Advisory Committee

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, last week on behalf of myself and my colleague, Senator Camiel, a bill was introduced asking that the toll charged by the Delaware River Bridge Commission be kept at a maximum of twenty cents, which is the present rate. Since that time, the State of New Jersey has seen fit to investigate the Delaware River Bridge Commission as to the proposed increase in the rate from twenty cents to twenty-five cents.

Mr. President, the Delaware River Bridge Commission has not made a report to this body, as far as I know, why that increase is necessary. Each week we find that the number of automobiles using that thoroughfare across the river is becoming greater and greater, and the revenue also proportionately increases.

Mr. President, I am, therefore, on behalf of myself and my colleague, Senator Camiel, introducing this resolution.

URGING THE APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TOLL INCREASE PROPOSED BY THE DELAWARE RIVER JOINT TOLL BRIDGE COMMISSION

Messrs. WEINER and CAMIEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

The founding purpose of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission was and is to provide bridge facilities without the expenditure of large sums from public revenues.

It was never intended that the private revenue of the motorist be depleted in order to avoid levies upon public revenues.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission has recently proposed a toll increase for the bridges under its jurisdiction; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, each appoint three members to serve as a committee to investigate the need for and the reasonableness of the proposed toll increase on the bridges under the jurisdiction of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission and make a report of its findings and recommendations to the present General Assembly, as soon as practicable.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have a resolution I want to present, and for the information of the Senate—I wish that they would all hear me out—I do not intend to read the resolution, but I do intend to talk about the subject matter therein contained.

Mr. President, in the city of Jeannette, in Westmoreland County, there exists a manufacturing plant called the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, probably one of the oldest rubber manufacturing plants in the Country. During the First World War, they pioneered in the development of a gas mask for the United States Army. From that time to this, they have held contracts to manufacture gas masks for the Chemical Warfare Division of the United States Government.

The week before last, Mr. President, it was called to my attention that the new contracts were being let or being read in New York by the Chemical Warfare Division. Our company officials in Jeannette had heard a rumor that for some reason or other Firestone Manufacturing Company, Tire and Rubber Company, a comparatively new company in the gas mask field, was being favored to be given all of the gas mask manufacturing in the United States of America.

Mr. President, our company was duly alarmed because of the fact that a few years ago, due to economic conditions, the tire producing part of that plant or department was taken to Texas, and it has had a very difficult time to rebuild its business. From that time to this, the management has worked valiantly to reestablish a pretty fair employment record.

Mr. President when the bids were opened it was discovered that the Pennsylvania company was one hundred and eighty some odd thousand dollars low in bidding. Despite the fact that they were the low bidders, the contract was awarded to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. It means 445 jobs, in a community that has been a distressed employment area since the time that the tire division was taken from that town, will be relinquished.

Upon contacting Senator Duff and Senator Martin and Congressman Kelley from that District, Mr. President, I have been informed, prior to any notices going to the newspaper, that they were awarding the contract on a technicality. They took the position that Falls River, Massachusetts, wherein this Firestone plant is situated, was in a Number 4 employment area and, therefore, they could, under the governmental regulations, give a higher bid to a factory or manufacturing plant which was situated in a distressed employment area.

Mr. President, I immediately contacted your Pennsylvania Department of Employment, under Mr. A. J. Caruso, and he immediately contacted Washington, the Department of Labor, and discovered that Falls River, Massachusetts and Jeannette, Pennsylvania, are in identical employment areas.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I, along with millions of other Americans, listened last year to the great talk of misfeasance and malfeasance in office in the Washington government. I heard my party castigated on the airways and in the byways of this land of ours because of favoritism being practiced in government contracts. I never expected that any party which would ride to power on a reform movement would, upon its first occasion in a Pennsylvania contract that I know about, deliberately use favoritism in the granting of that contract.

Mr. President, it is a very serious matter to the community of Jeannette. We are a little community, and mind our own business pretty well, nestled in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains. We do not ask much help from the outside world; we try to do our own work; we try to live our own lives and pay our own bills. If we would have been the high bidders in this contract, there would not have been a squawk from anybody in that community. They are good winners and they are good losers, but we do not like this kind of deal, whether it comes from a Republican or a Democratic Administration.

Mr. President, I believe that the time has come when Pennsylvania ought to assert itself. The mere fact that the Speaker of the House, who comes from Massachusetts, and Senator Saltonstall made it their business to intercede for Falls River should not act to the detriment of any Pennsylvania community.

Mr. President, I am calling upon the Senate of Pennsylvania, and the House of Representatives, and the Governor of this Commonwealth, and our two United States Senators and our Congressional Delegation to immediately look into the situation and find out what is going on in Washington. If they have a legitimate reason, I will be the first to apologize for any remarks which I may have made that are derogatory to those who have had the handling of this contract in their power.

Mr. President, on the surface, and from the facts as I know them, I believe the time has come to put a stop to this type of government. If they are repaying a debt to Firestone Tire and Rubber Company for campaign contributions, the same as they paid to the oil people for the Tidelands Oil, then the people ought to know it and the people of my community ought to know it. Government, above all, should be honest in its contract relationships with subdivisions, and with manufacturers and with the citizens of the great Country Government.

Mr. President, I think the time has long passed when skulduggery should be the password in governmental business. I think that this Senate ought not to hesitate one munite in calling upon the United States Senators from this State to investigate immediately, and I believe that if they take action they can put through restraining orders and stop this contract from being taken from the oldest manufacturer of gas masks in the United States, and probably the best. I, for one, am not going to sit idly by and watch my town in Pennsylvania being discriminated against for political or any other kind of favors.

Mr. President, I would fight just as hard upon this floor, or anywhere else, if it were your county or your town being discriminated against.

URGING INVESTIGATION OF THE AWARDING OF A CONTRACT TO MANUFACTURE GAS MASKS

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, A Pennsylvania manufacturing corporation, known as the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, situated in Jeannette, Pennsylvania, has been in the forefront in the manufacture of gas masks with the Chemical Warfare Division of the United States Government, and

Whereas, Of recent date bids were opened for the renewal of the contract for manufacturing of gas masks and the aforementioned company was judged to be a lower bidder in a bid involving millions of dollars, and

Whereas, It appears contrary to good government and good business practice, the Chemical Warfare Division has awarded the contract for the manufacturing of gas masks to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company for its plant at Falls River, Massachusetts, and

Whereas, The failure to receive this contract means a loss of employment of approximately 445 employees of the Pennsylvania Rubber Company which in turn will create a labor situation that will place this community in a serious distressed employment area, and

Whereas, The technicality on which the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company was awarded this contract was based upon an erroneous and unproven statement that Falls River, Massachusetts was a distressed employment area, and

Whereas, The records show that Jeannette, Pennsylvania and Falls River, Massachusetts are both in the same relative category regarding employment, therefore it appears that political and other considerations not based on sound governmental and business practices have been used as the determining factor in the allotment of this contract and that said contract may have been awarded on the basis of favoritism and political expediency, therefore be it

Resolved, That this General Assembly of Pennsylvania, call upon the Governor of the Commonwealth, John S. Fine, to contact the United States Senators James Duff and Edward Martin and Congressman A. B. Kelley of Westmoreland County, to ask for a restraining order on the allotment of this contract until a thorough investigation is made by the House and Senate of the United States Government, and further be it

Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth, protest to the President of the United States, the manner in which this entire matter was developed, particularly in the secrecy attendant to the matter of bid opening, timing and the charges of predating on the letters of invitation sent out by those responsible for receiving, tabulating and awarding the bids, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be dispensed immediately to the two United States Senators aforementioned, the United States Congressman aforementioned and the President of the United States.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

JOHN S. FINE.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I just wish to add a few words to those remarks made by my colleague from Philadelphia, Senator McCusker, with regard to the disposition of William Brown as Secretary of the Department of Welfare.

Mr. President, it may seem odd to have a Member of the Democratic Party take an interest in a Republican Cabinet Member. However, I am not speaking for my party; I am speaking for myself. I know of no man who has given more time, as a Cabinet Member, to his job than has the former Secretary of Welfare, Mr. Brown. He took time to make personal visits throughout the Commonwealth to learn firsthand what is taking place in our State institutions.

Mr. President, I must agree that I do not like the remarks he made about the Members of my Democratic Party several weeks ago, when he blamed us for the lack of passage of a tax measure, but I must agree that he was a good Secretary. I, up until the present time, have found no reasons for the Governor to dismiss him as he has. It may be a fight between Senator Duff and Governer Fine. However, when we do get a good public employee, it is quite apparent he must play politics to satisfy the whims of the party in power or else he is fired.

Mr. President, I say you will have a hard time in replacing him. Surely you will find new men, men who will be politically minded wholly, but Bill Brown was a good Secretary of Welfare. He did a good job, and I feel sorry that Governor Fine saw fit to discharge him at this time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as my collegaue, Senator Haluska, was talking, a little rhyme came to my mind that is very apropos. In fact, I will try to put it into words:

"It is in all the papers for everyone to see,
"That the head of the Department of Welfare ain't what he used to be;
"The late lamented Mr. Brown has hurriedly and tearfully just left town."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to concur in the action of the Governor. In my opinion, it has been long overdue. I wrote a letter to the Governor to that effect, and will read it into the record tomorrow.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe I followed the career of the late Mr. Brown as much as anyone in the Senate, and I would say that I differ with my colleague, Mr. Haluska, when he said that Mr. Brown had a record of tending to business. He had a record similar to Secretary Sordoni, in being absent more than any other department head on the Hill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is quite apparent that my Democratic colleagues do not agree with me.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. PROPERT and KESSLER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 660, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (6) of Section 2501 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by increasing the local effort rate used in computing the standard reimbursement fraction for school districts.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 661, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2511.1 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by limiting Commonwealth payments to school districts on account of obligations to the State Public School Building Authority, municipality authorities and non-profit corporations, where the districts have not exhausted their borrowing power.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed House Bill No. 629, entitled:

An Act to further amend Sections 889 and 891 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by prohibiting the unauthorized wearing of Civil Air Patrol uniforms or insignia and providing penalties.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, from the Committee on Education, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (d) of Section 7 of the act approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one, (P. L. 317) entitled "An act relating to the practice of professional nursing; providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses, subject to appeal, and for their reinstatement; providing for the annual renewal of such licenses; regulating nursing in general; prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws," by extending the time during which certain persons may make application for licensure without examination.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in studying the budget over the weekend, I discovered something in which I think the Members of the Senate ought to be very much interested. It says that we have at this particular moment lapsed certain taxes in Pennsylvania or, rather, have failed to re-enact certain taxes in Pennsylvania. We have failed particularly to re-enact the former Act No. 109, Postponing Manufacturers' Exemption from Capital Stock and Franchise Taxes.

It is my understanding, Mr. President, after discussing the matter with some of the learned Members on my side, that every month the Commonwealth is losing approximately $1,000,000 in revenue. As I understand it, we are about to recess or go on short rations for three or four weeks. Now, just two weeks ago we had to stay six days in order to pass the emergency tax on real estate transfer.

Mr. President, at that time I asked the question as to whether or not some of the other emergency or temporary taxes would not run out at the same time, at the end of the biennium. Now, as I understand it—and maybe I am in error and if I am I would appreciate being corrected—the following taxes have to be re-enacted before becoming effective for the present biennium:

Act No. 109, Postponing Manufacturers' Exemption from Capital Stock; Act No. 110, Gross Receipts Tax; Act No. 467, which is the Real Estate Transfer Tax that we have already enacted; Act No. 468, Corporate Net Income Tax which is still over in the House; Act No. 470, Corporation Income Tax; and Act No. 478, Insurance Premiums Tax—exemption removed.

Now, Mr. President, if all of these taxes are not in effect at the present time, and whether or not we can make this retroactive is a question that would have to be determined by the legal department, but I am almost convinced in my own nonlegal mind that if we do not place these taxes upon the statute books, any taxpayer would have the right to come in and ask for exemption from that tax for the period between the time that the tax ran out until it was re-enacted.

If that is so, Mr. President, the present revenue muddle we are in would become even more muddled, and we will find ourselves lacking a great deal of revenue that would be necessary to carry on this administration for the next two years.

Mr. President, I am very much disturbed over this particular phase of the revenue problem and the tax problem in the Commonwealth, and believe that the Majority side ought to immediately investigate the question and see whether or not we have been lax in our tax reenactment program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If anyone has any information, I would like to hear it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we, in the Senate, have passed those tax bills which have been sent over to us from the House. I understand that there is not any lapse as far as the Manufacturers' Exemption is concerned. The last time we were about six months late in re-enacting it. The other tax bills, if they have expired and the House has not sent them to us, perhaps they are not figuring on re-enacting one or two of those. However, I believe that as far as the corporation taxes are concerned, we are all right on those and we will not lose any money.

Mr. President, as far as recessing the Legislature for a week or two weeks or what not, as has been rumored, it is our present intention to remain in Session each week until such time as we can adjourn sine die.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the reason that I called this matter to the attention of the Senate is because a representative of a very large taxpayer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has intimated to me that they intend to make court action out of the fact that we have failed to pass these taxes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that will just give work to the lawyers in the Attorney General's Office.

STATEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would ask a moment of indulgence on the part of the Members.

I wish to thank the Members of the Senate for the very gracious gesture made toward me in adopting the resolution earlier in the Session which had concealed, shall I say, not too cleverly, a piece of furniture in the Lieutenant-Governor's office which the Lieutenant-Governor, if permitted to escape from the premises at the close of his tenure, will try to sit in in his law office across from the Court House down at Norristown and assimilate all these nice things that the Chaplains have said in their prayers, particularly the Senator from Berks. I love to hear him pray, when he talks about being a friend to man.

Certainly I have been well treated since I have been around here, and I can never repay the many kindnesses that have been bestowed upon me.

Now, before everybody bursts out crying, I will recognize the Majority Floor Leader.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, June 9, 1953, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:16 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, June 9, 1953, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 8, 1953.

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, the strength of all who put their trust in Thee, be with all who are burdened with the responsibility of administering the affairs of the people of this State. Add the illumination of Thy counsel and wisdom to their gifts that they may choose the right. Deliver them from self-love that they may be servants of all. Sustain them in the pressure of daily cares. Give them constancy and stability in the execution of their duties that they may be true Leaders of Thy people; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 25, 26, 27 and 28, 1953? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1002), page 4, line 17, by inserting after "any" the following: "maximum."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, to accept these amendments would be to defeat the very purpose of this bill. This would make a "may" bill out of an attempt to eliminate what I consider the faults of our present practice, that is, the discretionary authority of a board.

I believe that by making this a mandated bill with reasonableness, we have herein a good speeding bill, a reasonable one and one that will eliminate the faults of our present system. If we accept these amendments we would defeat the very purpose of this bill and I, therefore, ask the House to vote against these amendments.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I respect very highly the thoughts of the gentleman from Lehigh in his interpretation of the amendment as offered, but I do differ in the conclusion that he has arrived at.

This bill as offered is a great improvement over the situation that now exists. Under the law as it now exists, it is discretionary with the Secretary of Revenue for violation of speeding regulations on the highways to revoke or suspend the operator's license of one who has violated the speeding laws anywhere up to 90 days.

All of you who have had experience along this line know that in the exercise of this discretion there is often abuse of the right of discretion, but this has been safeguarded with the right of appeal to court.

This bill as drawn, with the exception of the part that is amended, is very fine because it says to the Secretary of Revenue that where there has been a violation of the speeding regulation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, you shall for the first offense, if the violation is within a certain number of miles over and above the speed law, impose a certain fine and in addition you shall suspend the operator's license for a period of no more than 10 days in the lowest violation, and so on.

It also provides for increase in revocation or suspension periods for second and third violations.

That part of the bill is absolutely fine, but I still come back to the fact that in any penal violation where there is a penalty there must be discretion, the right of discretion given to the person invoking that penalty, because under various circumstances there may be extenuating circumstances where the full imposition of the penalty as is applied here would be absolutely wrong and do a lot of harm to the person who has been suspended.

There are circumstances under which there are technical violations of the law. People do technically violate the law, and for the first offense or second or even third there should not be the mandatory imposition of a penalty. Just like you do in any court case, you leave a penalty with the court; you give them an area in which they may oppose the sentence, but you leave that discretionary power with the court. The same in this case. I say there should be left with the Department of Revenue, and with the court if an appeal is taken, the right to determine whether or not there has been an abuse of discretion in the exercise of the right of the penalties under this bill.

I say it is a very, very proper method of carrying out penal violations, and we should not deviate from it even though these suspensions may be only for a period of 10 days.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if I spoke as a lawyer today, I should support Mr. Schmidt's position but I find that I cannot do so.

The laws that now exist have created innumerable appeals to the courts on these speeding cases, I think mainly so because instead of exercising discretion, the Secretary of Revenue has for a period of years followed the policy of simply imposing a 90-day suspension on any body who has violated the 50-mile speed limit regardless of any circumstances whatsoever.

This does work a great hardship on many drivers who are, perhaps going 52 miles an hour or 53 on a four-lane highway who depend upon the use of their trucks or their cars for a livelihood. As a result the courts have developed a line of cases in which you can drive anywhere up to 65 miles an hour and still be deemed guilty of only what the courts call a technical violation.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has ruled that hardship itself cannot be the determining factor as to whether or not a suspension should be imposed, but the Supreme Court also has sustained the lower courts who have ruled that certain violations even up to 65 miles an hour are merely technical.

I think it is time that the Legislature does write the policy as to speeding. If you believe that a person should be punished by losing his license for even a short period of time for speeding on our highways, then you should vote for this bill as it is, otherwise you are going to continue the policy of those who can afford to take an appeal to a court, usually having that appeal sustained and no suspension whatsoever is involved.

For a while the local courts, county courts were able to impose—not impose—but make as a condition in sustaining these appeals the imposition of a short-term loss of license. But the Commonwealth took a position, and I think it is correct, that the courts cannot change the amount of suspension. They cannot say instead of 90 days, you will get 30 or 20 or 10 as this bill sets it up in a chart because the courts were not given that authority. All they could do was to determine whether the Secretary of Revenue has violated or abused his discretion and if so, they can strike it down.

This bill clearly will define for all motorists what the penalty is going to be if they violate the speed laws. I think it will have a good effect on motorists. It will stop them from speeding to some extent, and heaven knows we still have too many accidents on the highway and that many of them are caused by speed.

If some man wants to go 75 miles an hour or 65 miles an hour, I think he should be deprived of his license for some time, even though I have represented many of these drivers in court, and in many cases there is a hardship. It is not very pleasant to be without a license for a month or 60 days or 90 days, and I think the law is in a chaotic condition right now.

For example, there were about 27 counties in which the courts were deciding that all the Commonwealth had to do was to show that a driver had violated the 50-mile speed limit and they, the courts, were without any power whatsoever to correct it. That was the case until the Supreme Court decided a case which the Commonwealth took to the Supreme Court, and I happened to represent the defendant. In that case the court ruled that those other counties were wrong, that the lower courts could set aside those supensions even though the admitted speed was over 50.

I think we should support this bill and get the law in a clear cut manner so that everybody can understand it and everybody is going to suffer the same penalties.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, the arguments in opposition to the amendments, of course, do not take into consideration the fact that there are situations where the imposition of even these so-called minor penalties would be severe in themselves.

I can think in my mind now of a situation where someone driving on the highway becomes ill and rushes to the nearest physician or to a comfort station or a situation like that. Now the person could violate the speed law, they go five or ten miles above the speed limit and they would be technically guilty of a speed violation. Under that circumstance no court—not even the Secretary of Revenue—would be in a position to say, "Well, we will ignore this situation. You have been guilty of a violation of the speed law." The penalty must then be imposed and the suspension is valid.

Under the first situation where you are traveling one to five miles above the speed limit, you could be going 52 miles an hour, and it may be your second offense. You may have had a first offense where you actually were wantonly guilty of such a violation. The second offense is a 30-day suspension. The operator of that vehicle may be a truck driver on the highways. It may be his means of livelihood. It may have a very vital effect upon the financial condition of his family, and there may be a situation that would warrant the exercise of some discretion on the part of the Secretary of Revenue or the courts. Under this bill as it is now proposed to be passed there would be no such discretion. The Secretary of Revenue would be compelled to suspend the license and there would be no appeal to the courts of this Commonwealth.

I say it is in derogation of all our ideas of permitting an authority that has the right to impose a penalty on some basis of equity and try to impose a penalty that is just under the circumstances. I have confidence in the Secretary of the Revenue that he will use his discretion and use it rightfully, and if he does not, I feel that there should be the right to take an appeal to the local court from the fact that the Secretary of Revenue did not use his discretion in the exercise of his rights.

Mr. STIMMEL. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schmidt and I have only an honest difference of opinian on this bill and on this amendment. I feel that what he says is true to a degree, but you must remember we have to write a uniform law. He speaks of extenuating circumstances, and I say that 99.44 percent of the circumstances that are not extenuating are the ones that we have to write into law to take care of those particular circumstances.

Furthermore, we cannot legislate good judgment and common sense. If a person is going to a hospital, or if someone is ill and an officer comes along, certainly that officer out of common sense and good judgment should give that person a police escort and not arrest him.

I believe that on the whole this bill as written will do the best job, will give us the law with reasonableness, one that the public can have a good bit of confidence in and which will not in any way persecute anybody. A man is given a second chance here, and if he is a second violator, I do not have too much sympathy for him.

This has a 3-year write-off period. It does not persecute anyone. I think it is a good bill. I think the amendments should be defeated.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to oppose the proposed amendments to this bill. I think the arguments in favor of the amendments concentrate entirely upon the person who has violated the motor vehicle code. I think it is about time we took into consideration the people, the innocent pedestrians and vehicle operators who are being hit by these speedsters. I think where you have legislation, penal legislation especially, or any other type of legislation on a misdemeanor in itself, you do not have to lodge any discretion in the courts. My learned colleague, Mr. Schmidt, has stated previously, I believe, that in any penal legislation there must be discretion.

I would like to say that I differ with him because when you have legislation dealing with the health and welfare, or safety of the peaple of this Commonwealth, to say that there are mitigating circumstances and therefore the violator should not be punished would be to say that you could not have any effective legislation.

I think it is about time, Mr. Speaker, that we crack down on these violators, and make them feel that they are really hurting. That is, take their licenses away. I think the period of time within which the suspension will be effective will not be too much of a hardship. Further, I think if the violators realize that they will lose their licenses for a certain period of time they will endeavor to comply with the speed laws. Thank you.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, just one final word on this matter of discretion. I would like to call the attention of the Members of the House to the fact that the law for many years in Pennsylvania has provided for automatic revocation of the license of a driver who is driving under the influence of liquor. There is no discretion at all in anybody. If a person is convicted or pleads guilty to that charge, he loses his license in Pennsylvania for one year.

You and I are familiar with the fact that some individuals will take one or two or three drinks, not suspecting that it will influence them, but they find because of their physical condition or because they are tired, that they are under the influence and they get in trouble and they are convicted or they plead guilty.

Now certainly it is no imposition on the public to say that if you deliberately drive 60 miles an hour, or 65, or 70, in a 50 mile speed limit you shall lose your license for a certain period of time. I think we are being consistent in passing this bill without these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, there is only one comment I would like to make about the bill. I think the bill generally is a good bill, and a step in the right direction. The only difficulty that I see is the question of the one to five miles, which is the first violation. I think you are running a little close there because a person doing 51 miles an hour or 52 miles an hour is guilty of a violation under this bill. A fine can be imposed, a suspension can also be imposed.

Now, you drive a car 50 miles an hour, it is a little difficult to realize that you are going 51 or 52. I am serious about this, and I think it should be given further consideration. Perhaps the answer might be to start with five to ten miles over, and give the leeway of the first five miles, because you can see that a lot of difficulties can occur in the enforcement of such a section.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, even though the amendments offered by me were not accepted, I feel as I stated before, that this bill is a good deal as it goes. I had hoped that the amendments would be accepted. They would have taken care of the situation suggested by Mr. Schwartz. It would be absolutely impossible to say "Well we won't impose any penalties for one to five miles over the speed limit." If you do that you might as well say then that the speed limit is five miles higher than the actual speed limit. You have to start with the speed limit. Inasmuch as this House has not seen fit to accept the amendments, I ask you to enact the bill as it now stands.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,
House Bill No. 151, Printer's No. 285,
was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 562, as follows:

An Act to amend Sections 7 and 8 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1898) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" by changing the provisions relating to preparation rooms

Section 1 Sections 7 and 8 of the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1898) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" are hereby amended to read as follows

After the thirty-first day of [August] July one thousand nine hundred [fifty-two every place in which the profession of funeral directing is carried on shall include a preparation room] fifty-three every licensed funeral director shall have at his place of business a preparation room or shall have the use of the preparation room of another funeral director with whom he has made satisfactory arrangements Each licensed funeral director not having his own preparation room shall before using the preparation room of another funeral director file with the board an affidavit stating (1) the name and address of the funeral director whose preparation room he intends to use and (2) the terms of the agreement on which such use is based All preparation rooms shall be constructed in accordance with sanitary standards prescribed by the board for protection of the public health No food shall be served to the public in any place in which the profession of funeral directing is carried on

Section 8 Conduct of Business [Only] Except as provided in section seven of this act in regards to the use of preparation rooms only one license shall be granted to or held by an individual but two or more licensed funeral directors may operate a joint or partnership business at one place only if the buisness is conducted under the names of all such licensed funeral directors No funeral director granted an original license under this act shall conduct practice under any other name than the name appearing on his license No person not licensed under this act shall have any interest in the practice carried on by a licensed funeral director Upon the death of a licensee the board in its discretion may issue a license and renewal thereof to his estate only for a period not exceeding three (3) years or widows of deceased licensees as long as they remain unmarried The practice carried on by a licensee's estate or widow shall be under the supervision of a licensed funeral director employed on a full time basis who shall not conduct any other funeral business in his own name nor be directly or indirectly connected with any other funeral establishment

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it has come to my attention that many of the Members of this House are apprehensive that the effect of House Bill 562 would be to lower the sanitary and health standards of the profession of funeral directing. I would like to assure the membership that those fears are unfounded, that that will not be the effect of House Bill 562.

Before the 1951 Session of the General Assembly it was possible under the law for one funeral director who did not have a preparation room to lease or borrow the preparation room of a funeral director who had such a preparation room. Then in the 1951 session of the Legislature we passed an Act which included the words that every licensed funeral director would be required to have a preparation room. Also in that Act was the requirement that the preparation room of the funeral director be made and kept in accordance with certain sanitary and health requirements as might be set up by the Board.

All House Bill 562 does is to change that requirement to allow a funeral director who does not have a preparation room—it allows that man to borrow or lease the preparation room of a funeral director who does have such a preparation room. But the bill and the law still will be that a preparation room which is in existence must meet certain sanitary and health requirements as set up by the Board.

You may ask why do we change the law; why should we change the law; why not leave it as it is? That is a fair question. During the past few months the Federal Directors' Board has been having investigators out on the road investigating to see if all the funeral directors of the Commonwealth are complying with the law, and they are citing those men who do not have preparation rooms.

There are evidently two classes of men who are coming into this category. First of all there is the older funeral director who has been in the profession for a good many years and for one reason or another has never had a preparation room built. He may have a chapel, he may have a funeral home, but for one reason or another he just does not have a preparation room.

Now, to make that man at this time spend thousands of dollars of money to build a preparation room, to my mind would create quite a hardship.

The second class of men are young men who are just graduating from school and who are becoming licensed funeral directors. A lot of those men do not have the money available to build or prepare a preparation room, and those men will have their licenses taken away from them until they can comply with the Act. There is nothing wrong, in my mind, in allowing the man who does not have a preparation room to borrow the preparation room of another funeral director, as long as that preparation room meets certain sanitary and health requirements Because a hardship is being created for a number of the citizens of our Commonwealth, because it will not lower the sanitary requirements, or the sanitary standards of the funeral directing profession, I would like to ask the membership of this House to vote in favor of House Bill 562.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I am not an undertaker, and know nothing about it, but I do know that death in the family is a serious matter, and no funeral director can be too careful in taking and seeing that everything is carried out in the proper way to lessen the feelings as much as possible. I stand before you against this bill at the advice of all of the undertakers of Allegheny County.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak on House Bill 562, on today's calendar.

House Bill 562 omits Sections 7 and 8 of the present Act 522, approved January 14, 1951. This bill changes provisions relating to the preparation room.

Under Section 7, page 3, line 9, every licensed funeral director shall have at his place of business, a preparation room, or shall have the use of the preparation room of another funeral director with whom he has made satisfactory arrangements.

Line 11, each funeral director not having his own preparation room shall file with the Board an affidavit stating the name of, the address of, the funeral director whose preparation room he intends to use.

Section 8 provides for the conduct of business as of Section 7 for the use of the preparation room only. The Board has cited two funeral directors to show cause why their licenses should not be suspended.

There are several licensed men and women working in some of the outstanding establishments that have heir own chapels but have no preparation room, so they use the preparation room of their employers. Some are not able to raise or spend the money to set up a preparation room as required by the law passed in the 1951 Session.

I will read the letter of one of the individuals who has been cited. The letter is addressed to me.

> Dear Sir: I wish to solicit the support of your colleagues and yourself in the passage of House Bill 562. This Bill is important to the less fortunate funeral directors in this state who are not financially able to meet the requirements of the present act, and whose business does not warrant the outlay of so much money.
> Hoping that you will meet with some measure of success, I am, Yours Sincerely, (s) Mr. Haley.

I have another letter of another individual being cited:

> I would appreciate sincerely your efforts in having House Bill 562 passed in the Legislature. This would, indeed, be an advantage to me as I have been a funeral director for many years and depend solely on the income from this business for a living. Respectfully Yours, (s) Mr. William M. Melburn.

Another letter—

> I am writing in regards to House Bill 562, pertaining to the funeral directors using other funeral directors' morgues, which is known as a preparation room for embalming purpose. I would appreciate very much if you could encourage the passing of this bill. Yours Sincerely, William H. Brown.

Some of these folks cannot get the zoning permits to complete a modern preparation room to their home or house. This means because of this fact the State Board must cite them because of not having met with the requirements of the law. They may not be able to go out and buy another home. This is encroaching on their constitutional rights. After making sacrifices to merit a license to practice then the Board shall suspend them until they can become activated again.

If they shall never get the money and the permit to meet this condition then they shall never see their license again.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be passed in all sincerity, and help to maintain the livelihood of those men who have been struggling, those who are making a livelihood for their families, I ask the Members of the House to support this bill.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor if he did not support Act 522 during the last Session of Legislature.

Mr. SCOTT. In reply to that, Mr. Speaker, I would say that I not only supported it, I also sponsored it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me just how many men or members of the funeral profession have not complied with Act 522 and desire this legislation?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand the question. Have not complied with the Act in what regard?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, with regard to having an embalming room at their establishment.

Mr. SCOTT. No, Mr. Speaker, I do not have any figures to give the gentleman as to how many men there are in the business of funeral directing who do not have preparation rooms and who are being cited by the Board.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, can you give me an estimate, a number, it it around 10 or 20 or 50 or 100 or more?

Mr. SCOTT. I have no knowledge of that whatsoever, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Well, why would the gentleman sponsor such legislation if this only makes a certain change?

Mr. SCOTT. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that if there were only one member of the funeral directing profession in all of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who did not have a preparation room and if the Act itself was a hardship on him, that would be justification for sponsoring this piece of legislation.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, while I agree with Mr. Scott that this bill would not lower the standards of the profession of the funeral directors, I feel that they have caused by the passage of Act 522 a certain hardship on a number of funeral directors whom I know.

In my district in Allegheny County I can say that the Funeral Directors Association and the members of the Board have done a wonderful job back home in complying with Act 522. I personally have a man working under me who went and borrowed over $2,000 to put an embalming room in his funeral home. That really was a hardship on this man, and I am pretty sure that everyone in Allegheny County has complied with Act 522. Why we are here passing Act 562 for just a certain few is beyond my comprehension.

I feel that there was an adequate time limit for all these funeral directors to have such an embalming room on their establishment. The gentleman from Carbon states that there have been undertakers in the funeral profession for numbers and numbers of years who failed to qualify concerning the embalming room in their establishments. I cannot for the life of me see what these fellows have been doing all this time.

If you are going to make Acts and break Acts again, I do not see where the funeral directors' profession is going to get ahead anytime, and I feel that this is an unjust piece of legislation to those members of the profession who have done a good job and complied with Act 522.

Mr. GUSS. Mr. Speaker, when I came to this Legislature on the 6th of January, 1953, I was a country undertaker. The folks in this House saw fit to pass me from a country undertaker to a funeral director which I now enjoy. That business I have been in for the past 30 years.

In reference to Mr. Scott's statement about the change that would require the building of a preparation room, that is minor if he has the chapel.

If we are going to lower the dignity of the profession, it is just too bad.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I have in mind any number of young students who have just recently completed their courses in this particular field in Allegheny County. They have not reached that status financially where they can afford to have their own embalming rooms. I take it that under the law now if they do use a room that is properly under the supervision of the state, that meets the state's requirements, that the interest we as Members of the House have in their having an embalming room has been satisfied.

It is the same thing as saying to a man who happens to be in my profession: "Young man, although you have graduated from law school and you have passed the Bar, if you are not able to set up a library of your own, you are prevented from going and using the library of a fellow lawyer."

I cannot follow the reasoning behind the opposition to this bill. I know for a fact in actual practice, undertakers borrow hearses. In communities where they cannot afford a large fleet of funeral cars, they exchange them. There is nothing wrong about that.

I know of any number of cases where doctors have come out of the hospitals who are graduates and who are not financially able to set up their own X-ray and operating rooms, but if there is another doctor who wants to give them a start, he will open the door to them.

I do not know why we cannot have that differentiation on the part of the undertakers. This to my mind seems to me to try to discourage those fellows who are trying to get a start. In behalf of those who do not have the money to afford a room, but who are otherwise qualified and who have met the requirements of the state, I think they ought to be permitted to pursue their occupation and their profession.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, what I was going to say was covered pretty well by Mr. Jones. However, there are quite a few boys who called me in regard to this bill who were about to come out of school and go into business.

I made it my business to talk to two or three of the undertakers down the valley where I come from, and they told me they were perfectly willing to have these boys come in and they would help them. They would lend them their garage or anything they might need.

I think if we do not pass this bill, we are going to make it awfully hard for these boys to get started. I do not think we should do that. I think we should help them. A lot of these boys are GI's, and they deserve all the help we can possibly give them. I would like to see this bill pass.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

House Bill No. 816, Printer's No. 99,
were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 822 as follows:

An Act to amend sections 5 and 6 of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 903) entitled "An act authorizing cities of the third class to establish an optional retirement system for officers and employes independently of any pension system or systems existing in such cities" by increasing the amount of the contributions to be made by the officers and employes

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Sections 5 and 6 of the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 903) entitled "An act authorizing cities of the third class to establish an optional retirement system for officers and employes independently of any pension system or systems existing in such cities" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 The officers and employes of any city creating such fund and board shall upon the acceptance of this act pay unto said board monthly an amount equal to [three (3)] five (5) per centum of their monthly salaries or wages except as hereinafter provided concerning laborers which shall be applied to the purpose of this act

If any compensation be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the fund as herein provded for an aggregate period of twenty (20) years such person shall be required to pay unto the board for the benefit of the fund monthly an amount equal to [three (3)] five (5) per centum of his compensation until such time as his contribution shall have been extended to a period of twenty years (20) years

If for any cause any person contributing to the fund who has served less than than twelve (12) years shall cease to be in the service of the city he shall become entitled to the total amount of the contributions paid into the fund by him without interest Any person who has served for a perod of less than twenty (20) years and who has not reached the age of fifty-five (55) years and who voluntarily retires from such service shall be entitled only to the return of his total contributions to the fund without interest

If for any cause any person contributing to the fund shall cease to be in the service of any city before he shall have become entitled to any compensation the total amount of the contributions paid into the fund by him shall be refunded in full without interest Provided however If any such person shall have returned to him the amount contributed as aforesaid and shall afterwards re-enter the service of the city he shall not be entitled to the compensation designated unless he shall return to the fund the amount withdrawn in which event the required period of service under this act shall be computed from the time he first entered the service of the city otherwise the date of his period of service shall commence upon re-entry In the event of the death of any person after he becomes entitled to any compensation and has not elected to retire the total amount of contributions paid into the fund by him shall be paid over to his estate without interest

Section 6 No person holding a position in any city as a laborer at a per diem wage shall be compelled to pay or contribute toward the fund herein provided for but he shall have the option or choice of so doing and shall only upon electing to contribute to the fund become entitled to the compensation provided by this act Provided however That he shall be required to contribute [three (3)] five (5) per centum of his wages and the same percentage upon any amount of compensation he receives after his retirement

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 833, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" by authorizing annual assessments in lieu of triennial assessment for cities of the third class

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" as renacted revised and amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 662) is hereby further amended by adding after section 2521 a new section to read as follows

Section 2522 The council may by ordinance provide for annual assessments for taxation purposes in lieu of the triennial assessments provided for in the act herein amended In such case the ordinance shall require the assessor to make or cause to be made each year a full just equal and impartial assessment of all property taxable according to the laws of the Commonwealth for county purposes and all matters and things within the city subject by law to taxation for city purposes and a just and perfect list of all property exempt by law from taxation with a just valuation of the same

If council adopts an annual system of assesments as herein provided for the assessments revision of assessments notices to and appeals by interested parties shall in so far as applicable be the same as provided by law when triennial assessments are made

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 894, Printer's No. 299,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 946, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (e) of and to add clause (e.1) to Section 401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligation imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" by providing for the care of seniles on leave of absence from State mental hospitals and eliminating certain obsolete provisions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this measure—we are discussing 946?

The SPEAKER. We are discussing House Bill No. 946, Printer's No. 287. The gentleman is correct.

Will the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. MARKLEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Approximately how many patients now in state institutions would be committed into the care of local institution districts if this bill passes?

Mrs. MARKLEY. I do not know, Mr. SPEAKER.

Mr. ANDREWS. Then I presume the lady would be unable to inform the House as to the expense this bill might inflict upon local institution districts?

Mrs. MARKLEY. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would suggest therefore that we delay consideration of this bill until we can have a more definite statement as to the purpose and the facts.

Mrs. MARKLEY. That is agreeable, Mr. Speaker.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 946, Printer's No. 287,

was passed over at the request of Mr. ANDREWS.

There being no objection

House Bill No. 952, Printer's No. 238 and

House Bill No. 1001, Printer's No. 288,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1105 as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 704) entitled "An act relating to limited power permits and limited water supply permits from the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania and the conditions thereof to the flooding and use by holders of limited power permits of islands owned by the Commonwealth to the unlawful use for water or steam power development of dams and changes in streams hereafter constructed or made otherwise than under limited power permits and to proceedings for the enforcement of this act" by suspending and postponing for a certain period provisions relating to steam power dams within the jurisdiction of the United States

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 704) entitled "An act relating to limited power permits and limited water supply permits from the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania and the conditions thereof to the flooding and use by holders of limited power permits of islands owned by the Commonwealth to the unlawful use for water or steam power development of dams and changes in streams hereafter constructed or made otherwise than under limited power permits and to proceedings for the enforcement of this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 A power dam or change in stream to develop power shall be deemed to be within the jurisdiction of the United States within the meaning of this section whenever (1) such dam or change is constructed or made or to be constructed or made in or upon navigable waters of the United States or (2) the Federal Power Commission shall have found that the interests of interstate or foreign commerce would be affected by the construction of such dam or the making of such change

Every permit hereafter granted by the commission for the construction of a power dam or for a change in stream to develop power not within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be limited to such periods not exceeding fifty years as the said commision shall determine and set forth therein Provided That the permittee shall be entitled to extension and renewal of such permit upon the terms thereof until the permittee shall have received through recapture or purchase by the Commonwealth or by a duly authorized subsequent permittee repayment of the capital prudently invested in the power project upon the faith of the permit plus such reasonable damages if any to property of the permittee valuable serviceable and dependent for its usefulness upon the continuance of such permit but not recaptured or purchased as may be caused by the severance therefrom of property taken

Every permit hereafter granted by the commission for the construction of a power dam or for a change in stream to develop power within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be on the following conditions which shall be expressed in such permit namely (a) That the permit shall become null and void unless within the time specified therein the permittee (or as to a change in stream within the Commonwealth effected or to be effected by a dam or other means without the Commonwealth those constructing or purposing to construct maintain or operate such dam or other means) shall secure from the Federal Power Commission a license for such dam or change and (b) that if and to the extent that any of the rights or powers set forth or reserved as rights or powers of the United States in or pursuant to the provisions of such license shall be waived by the United States or be unenforceable by the United States then and to that extent such rights and powers (including if so waived or unenforceable any rights of recapture extension or renewal so set forth or reserved) may be exercised and enforced by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania subject to such alterations in plans specifications or structures and such extensions of time for commencing or completing construction as may be made or granted by the Federal Power Commission

The provisions of this act relating to dams or changes in streams to supply water for steam power within the jurisdiction of the United States shall be suspended and postponed until the Federal Power Commission shall require licenses for such dams or changes in streams and during the period in which the provisions of this act shall be so suspended and postponed any such dams or changes in streams shall continue to be subject to existing laws relating to water obstructions

Every permit granted under this section shall be subject to such reasonable annual charge specified therein as the commission shall fix for the purpose of reimbursing the Commonwealth for the costs of administration of this act and may in the discretion of the commission embody such other terms conditions and stipulations as the commission shall deem necessary to protect the present and future interests of the Commonwealth and its people in the construction maintenance and operation of the project and in the water and power resources to be utilized thereby and suitable to secure to the permittee a reasonable opportunity for a fair return on the actual investment prudently made in the project

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in this particular bill without some additional information being given, by someone who knows the facts, it is almost impossible to vote upon it intelligently.

For that reason I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Gibson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GIBSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Will the gentleman tell the House the purpose of the bill?

Mr. GIBSON. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I shall, This bill was introduced to clarify the present law in regard to this type of dam by suspending the permit provisions of the 1923 Act insofar as they apply to dams or changes in streams to water supply for steam power as distinguished from hydro-electric power.

At present the Federal Power Commission does not require licenses for steam power dams. The 1923 Act has a provision which I shall read from the act:

> Every permit hereafter granted by the Commission for the construction of a power dam or for a change in stream to develop power within the jurisdiction of the Uunited States shall be on the following conditions which shall be expressed in such permits, viz, (a) that the permit shall become null and void unless within the time specified therein the permit holder shall secure from the Federal Power Commission a license for such dam or change.

The Federal Power Commission no longer requires or issues permits for this type of dam. Therefore it is impossible to issue permits under 1923 Act.

The suspension provided in this bill will remain in effect until the Federal Power Commission requires licenses for such steam power dams. During that period such dams will be subject to the permit provisions under the Act of 1913, relating to obstructions in streams.

Presently the permits being issued for this particular type of dam are being issued under the 1913 Act. This bill is to clarify the situation which exists between the two Acts, which under the 1923 provision has created an ambiguous or impossible situation.

Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I think the gist of the thing is, that it is impossible to comply with the 1923 Act, because it requires a federal permit. Therefore we are suspending it and putting into effect once again the 1913 law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the sponsor of this bill explain the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz, explain the bill?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, in 1931, the water district bill was passed by the House. Up to this time there has never been a water district set up in the state of Pennsylvania. The original Act provided that the board of directors be appointed by a Court. It did not specify any particular court; it just said they would be appointed by a court, and it is readily conceivable that since this was the method of appointing directors there was nothing to prevent a court from appointing anyone that they desired, whether they were residents of the district, had any interest in the district or not.

That point was not covered by the Act, so apparently this water district Act of 1931 was never used.

Now the only change we have offered to that law is this, the municipalities that are encompassed in the water district will have the right to appoint their own managers.

We take the bill out of the realm of the board of directors that might be from any part of the state sent in to run a water district in any other part of the state, and place the water district in the hands of those whom it will serve and who are responsible directly to the people of the district. That is the only change in the entire bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1336, Printer's No. 291,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1350, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection B and C of section 7 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of 'Authorities' for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" by requiring members to serve without compensation and the treasurer to post a bond

Section 1 Subsection B and C of Section 7 of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of 'Authorities' for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" subsection C of which was amended by the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 571) are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 7 Governing Body A The powers of each Authority shall be exercised by a governing body (herein called the "Board") composed as follows

* * * * *

B Members shall hold office until their successors have been appointed and may succeed themselves and shall receive [such salaries as may be determined by the governing body or bodies of the municipality or municipalities but none of such salaries shall be increased or diminished by such governing body or bodies during the term for which the member receiving the same shall have been appointed] no compensation for their services The members of the board in office on the effective date of this amendment shall continue to receive their salaries during the remainder of their existing term A member may be removed for cause by the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the Authority is located after having been provided with a copy of the charges against him for at least ten days and full hearing by the court If a vacancy shall occur by reason of the death disqualification resignation or removal of a member the muniicpal authorities shall appoint a successor to fill his unexpired term In joint Authorities such vacancies shall be filled by the municipal Authorities of the municipality in the representation of which the vacancy occurs Whenever any municipality shall withdraw from a joint Authority the term of any member or members appointed from such municipality shall immediately terminate

C A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum of the board for the purpose of organizing the Authority and conducting the business thereof and for all other purposes and all action may be taken by vote of a majority of the members present unless in any case the bylaws shall require a larger number The board shall have full authority to manage the properties and business of the Authority and to prescribe amend and repeal by-laws rules and regulations governing the manner in which the business of the Authority may be conducted and the powers granted to it may be exercised and embodied The board shall fix and determine the number of officers agents and employes of the Authority and their respective powers duties and compensation and may appoint to such office or offices any member of the board with such powers duties and compensation as the board may deem proper The treasurer of the board shall give bond in such sums as may be fixed by the by-laws which bond shall be subject to the approval of the board and the premiums for which shall be paid by the Authority

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. May I ask the gentleman what particular reason there would be for eliminating the law by this bill which allows salaries to be paid to members of authorities?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the idea back of it, of course, is that the authority is appointed by a Board which receives no pay, therefore they feel it is only fair that the members of that authority should serve without pay.

Mr. READINGER. May I inquire further whether the experience since the Authority Acts were passed has been bad in respect to the payment of salaries? Have exorbitant salaries been paid to members of authorities, or what are the salaries?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to state for most authorities, but there have been a few instances, I understand, where a considerable fee has been paid, but I think it has been very few in number.

Mr. READINGER. Is it the thought of the sponsor then that the communities will be better served by these authorities if the members serve without compensation of any kind?

Mr. HELM. I believe it is true that in most cases people who serve on these authorities are local, civic-minded people and are serving primarily because they want to, and render good service. I think you will get very good service from those who do not receive any pay.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE

TUESDAY, June 9, 1953.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. J. B. WILLIAMS, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Infinite God and Friend, keep ever alive within our minds and hearts the certain knowledge that Thou dost have a particular plan and purpose for us, beginning and continuing forever in Thy great love.

May we moment by moment accept Thy will for us, for wherever we are and in whatever we do Thy gentle hand is upon us to lead us, to guide us, to train us, to perfect us. Make us ever aware of Thy closeness, especially in the time of temptations and trouble. Increase our faith so that as we work and pray, no failure, no success, no hardship, no pain, no loss, not even death, can separate us from Thy love.

In this time of conflict and confusion, may Thy strength support us, Thy wisdom lead us and Thy love redeem us. Open our hearts to receive Thee into the house of our souls, that we may rejoice in Thy fellowship as we walk the paths of life, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Highways, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Hare and Snowden, on June 8, 1953, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE FACTORS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, Pennsylvania's highway system, comprising more than 40,000 miles, is the most extensive State highway system in the United States; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Turnpike is world-famous as the greatest toll highway ever constructed; and

Whereas, Millions of vehicles of all types annually travel the highways of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, A joint legislative committee of this General Assembly has made extensive investigations and submitted a factual report on turnpike safety; and

Whereas, Much has been accomplished in the interests of safety by said joint legislative committee; and

Whereas, The said joint legislative committee has determined that the study of highway safety should be continued and should include the highway system generally, as well as the turnpike; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania safety record is outstanding; yet, the concern is that the system shall be the safest in the world; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough andexhaustive study of the factors responsible for highway accidents and to formulate recommendations contemplating the reduction of such accidents; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will lie upon the table.

SENATE RESOLUTION REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McPHERSON, JR., from the Committee on Insurance, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Wade, on May 13, 1953, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE STUDY OF PENSIONS, PENSION FUNDS AND PENSION PLANS

In the Senate, May 13, 1953.

Whereas, Pensions, pension funds, and pension plans form perhaps one of the largest segments of the business conducted by life insurance companies, and, in addition, there exists hundreds of private pension plans in this Commonwealth, and because of the lack of adequate legislation regulating the same, no one knows the extent of this field nor the soundness of many of the plans, and

Whereas, In many cases they provide the only old age retirement security for thousands of our citizens, and

Whereas, Unless this Commonwealth enacts such legislation, the Federal government may gain control of this field through inaction on the part of the State, even though such control properly belongs to the individual states in accordance with the pattern established in all other segments and phases of insurance; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a thorough study of the state of pensions, pension funds and pension plans, public and private, in this Commonwealth with a view toward legislation saving control thereof for this Commonwealth as opposed to the Federal government; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of proposed legislation necessary to effectuate the same to the General Assembly at its next regular session.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will lie upon the table.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 481, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by extending the purposes for which certain companies may be incorporated.

He also, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 590, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by adding thereto a new Article VII relating to title insurance; defining and providing for the organization of title insurance companies, the regulation and supervision of title insurance and the title insurance business of bank and trust companies, trust companies or other corporations; prohibiting the transaction of the business of title insurance except by title insurers, as defined, providing for the regulation of title insurance underwriters, as defined, prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign title insurance companies may be admitted, or may continue to do a title insurance business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and duties upon the Insurance Commissioner and the Banking Department with respect thereto; imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to title insurance companies and the business of title insurance.

He also, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 591, entitled:

An Act relating to the regulation of rates for title insurance which may be charged by title insurance companies, both domestic and foreign, banks and trust companies or trust companies having the power to make title insurances, and title insurance underwriters; to rating organizations; conferring on the Insurance Commissioner the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies and corporations and enforcing the provisions of this act; prescribing and regulatng the practice and procedure before the Insurance Commissioner, and procedure for review by the courts; giving the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County exclusive jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties and providing for the enforcement thereof, repealing the act approved the eleventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 538) insofar as it applies to title insurance, repealing inconsistent acts and continuing existing filings and proceedings.

He also, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 639, entitled:

An Act requiring insurance companies to accept insurance premiums after thirty days after the premiums are due.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 590, entitled:

An Act making appropriations from the Motor License Fund to the Board of Finance and Revenue to meet interest sinking fund and service requirements on the State debt.

An Act to amend section 263 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by authorizing electors, in certain cases, to present petitions to the court for the submission to the electors of a question of merger of school districts.

He also, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 194, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 251 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by authorizing electors to present petitions for submission to the electorate of a question of the formation of a union school district.

He also, from the Committee on Education, reported as amended House Bill No. 500, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-1952 P. L 1898) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties providing for a State Board of Funeral Directors in the Department of Health and repealing other laws" by extending the effective date within which students preparing for licensure under prior laws may take examination and regulating pre-need burial contracts

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR., from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 586, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and Section 1 of the act, approved the seventeenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 63, No. 29), entitled "An act authorizing and empowering cities of the first class of this Commonwealth to acquire by purchase, lease or condemnation, any land within said cities with the buildings thereof, if any; to construct buildings and faclities thereon; to operate the same as parking lots or public garages, subject to certain conditions, or to lease such parking lots or garages for private operation and to fix the terms and conditions of such leases," by extending the provisions of the act to cities of the second class of this Commonwealth.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 636, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 349), entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to refund taxes and license fees erroneously and inadvertently paid thereto, and giving a right of action against such political subdivision for the recovery of such taxes and fees upon their failure to make such refunds; making the provisions of the act retroactive; and repealing existing laws," by further prescribing what taxes or license fees may be refunded or sued for.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 637, entitled:

An Act to repeal Section 518 of, and to add a new section 518.1 to the act approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 853), entitled "An act relating to taxation; designating the subjects, property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes; providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons, property and subjects of taxation for county purposes, and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations; amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto; and repealing existing laws," by eliminating all the provisions of the act which regulate the payment of the taxes pending appeals from assessments.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 640, entitled:

An Act relating to county planning and the regulation of land subdivisions in counties other than counties of the first class; providing for the creation of planning, commissions, prescribing the powers and duties of the planning commissions, political subdivisions, certain public officers and public and quasi-public agencies within the respective counties and imposing penalties.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committeed House Bill No. 652, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 1104 of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by authorizing certain boroughs to permit the same person to hold the offices of secretary and treasurer.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed House Bill No. 1003, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second clas and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by providing for the appointment of boards of health and health officers prescribing their powers and duties providing for the enforcement of the administration of health laws by such board and officers providing for a president and secretary of such boards imposing duties on the Secretary of Health and providing for payments of expenses by townships

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed House Bill No. 1282, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by requiring corporate surety on certain bonds

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed House Bill No. 1283, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by requiring corporate surety on certain bonds.

SENATE RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Dent, on June 8, 1953, reported the same with amendment as follows:

URGING INVESTIGATION OF THE AWARDING OF A CONTRACT TO MANUFACTURE GAS MASKS

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, a Pennsylvania manufacturing corporation, known as the Pennsylvania Rubber Company, situated in Jeannette, Pennsylvania, has been in the forefront in the manufacture of gas masks with the Chemical Warfare Division of the United States Government, and

Whereas, of recent date bids were opened for the renewal of the contract for manufacturing of gas masks and the afore mentioned company was judged to be a lower bidder in a bid involving millions of dollars, and

Whereas, it appears contrary to good government and good business practice, the Chemical Warfare Division has awarded the contract for the manufacturing of gas masks to the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company for its plant at Falls River, Massachusetts, and

Whereas, the failure to receive this contract means a loss of employment of approximately 445 employes of the Pennsylvania Rubber Company which in turn will create a labor situation that will place this community in a serious distressed employment area, and

Whereas, the technicality on which the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company was awarded this contract was based upon an erroneous statement that Falls River, Massachusetts, was a greater distressed employment area, and

Whereas, the records show that Jeannette, Pennsylvania and Falls River, Massachusetts are both in the same relative category regarding employment, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania, call upon the Governor of the Commonwealth, John S. Fine, to contact the United States Senators Edward Martin and James H. Duff and each of the Pennsylvania Congressmen and request them to do everything in their power to correct the injustice on the allotment of this contract until a thorough investigation is made by a proper committee of the United States Congress, and further be it

Resolved, that a copy of this Resolution be sent immediately to the two United States Senators afore mentioned, and the United States Congressman afore mentioned and the President of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. MAHANY and Mr. DENT,

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from Committee to lie over for one day be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 140 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 140, introduced by Senator Hare and Senator Snowden on June 8, 1953, which was just reported from the Committee on Highways.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

DIRECTING JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE FACTORS RESPONSIBLE FOR HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, Pennsylvania's highway system, comprising more than 40,000 miles, is the most extensive State highway system in the United States; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Turnpike is world-famous as the greatest toll highway ever constructed; and

Whereas, Millions of vehicles of all types annually travel the highways of Pennsyvania; and

Whereas, A joint legislative committee of this General Assembly has made extensive investigations and submitted a factual report on turnpike safety; and

Whereas, Much has been accomplished in the interests of safety by said joint legislative committee; and

Whereas, The said joint legislative committee has determined that the study of highway safety should be continued and should include the highway system generally, as well as the turnpike; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania safety record is outstanding; yet, the concern is that the system shall be the safest in the world; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a thorough and exhaustive study of the factors responsible for highway accidents and to formulate recommendations contemplating the reduction of such accidents; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE,

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from Committee to lie over for one day be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 41 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, at this time I call from the table Senate Resolution No. 41.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A THOROUGH STUDY OF PENSIONS, PENSION FUNDS AND PENSION PLANS.

In the Senate, May 13, 1953.

Whereas, Pensions, pension funds, and pension plans form perhaps one of the largest segments of the business conducted by life insurance companies, and, in addition, there exists hundreds of private pension plans in this Commonwealth, and because of the lack of adequate legislation regulating the same, no one knows the extent of this field nor the soundness of many of the plans, and

Whereas, In many cases they provide the only old age retirement security for thousands of our citizens, and

Whereas, Unless this Commonwealth enacts such legislation, the Federal government may gain control of this field through inaction on the part of the State, even though such control properly belongs to the individual states in accordance with the pattern established in all other segments and phases of insurance; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commisison is hereby directed to make a thorough study of the state of pensions, pension funds and pension plans, public and private, in this Commonwealth with a view toward legislation saving control thereof for this Commonwealth as opposed to the Federal government; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of proposed legislation necessary to effectuate the same to the General Assembly at its next regular session.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

A motion was made by Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HARE,

That rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from Committee to lie over for one day, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

REPORT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION ON INTERSTATE COOPERATION

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I submit the "Second Biennial Report of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation to the Governor and the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Session of 1953."

The PRESIDENT. The report will be noted in the Journal, and will be printed in full in the Appendix.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WOLFE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 662, entitled:

An Act to amend section 1 of the act, approved the twenty-third day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1803), entitled "An act fixing the compensation and mileage of county auditors in counties of the sixth and seventh class"; by changing the compensation of auditors of seventh class counties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. WATSON and DISILVESTRO read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 663, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways to consult, advise and render general direction to local governments in connection with studies and preliminary design plans of an expressway between the eastern terminus of the Pennsylvania Turnpike at Tullytown, Bucks County, and the projected Delaware River Bridge at Packer Avenue, Philadelphia, to enter into cooperative agreements with such local governments for studies and preliminary design plans, and to prepare a report containing specific recommendations concerning the financing of the same through tolls or otherwise, and to submit said report to the next session of the General Assembly.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR., read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 664, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," by changing a route in Franklin County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to present is co-sponsored by Senator Bane and myself. Senator Bane, of course, as you know, is from Fayette County.

Mr. President, this bill will provide for the construction of a highway or a toll bridge, or a bridge, across the Monongahela River from Allenport, in Washington County, to Fayette City, in Fayette County. Our action is brought about due to the multimillion dollar expansion of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, located at Allenport, in the County of Washington.

Mr. President, we, of course, realize the immense costs which are entailed in the construction of a bridge. However, we do feel that under the circumstances this legislation is justified, and it will authorize the Department of Highways to construct this bridge. I would appreciate very much if the Department of Highways would make a survey of this particular area, because I feel that they would approve the action which we are presenting here today in the form of this bill.

Mr. President, Allenport, in the County of Washington, is located on Pennsylvania Route No. 88, which is one of the main traffic arteries of the Highway Department in Washington County. Fayette City, in Fayette County, is located on Pennsylvania Route No. 711, which is a direct route to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Interchange at New Stanton. Should this bridge be constructed, I feel that it would add greatly to the economic development of Washington and Fayette Counties.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE and BANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 665, entitled:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Highways, with the approval of the Governor, to erect and maintain a bridge over the Monongahela River connecting the State highway system in Washington County with the system of State highways in Fayette County, and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with such State highways; empowering counties to pay certain damages; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. LEADER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 666, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of Pennsylvania State College for the establishment and maintenance of a laboratory for poultry and animal disease research.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 171 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. PEELOR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 9, 1953.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 171, Printer's No. 63, entitled "An Act authorizing and empowering the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to prescribe by general rule the practice and procedure governing appeals to the Supreme or Superior Courts of Pennsylvania," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, last week the Government Survey Committee, headed by Mr. Chesterman, wound up its functions and said good-by to Harrisburg. However, before doing so, it released a report or statement. Inasmuch as I inserted into the record all of the reports of the Task Forces, all the Newspaper Releases, I thought it was only proper that I present the last statement issued by the Government Survey Committee.

Mr. President, I want to read this report, because I think everybody in the Senate ought to hear what the committee had to say before it concluded its activities. I quote from its report. It is dated Wednesday, June 3, 1953.

"The State Government Survey Committee held its final meeting today at which time its budget and expenditures were reviewed and a final accounting made.

"The Committee unanimously reaffirmed its conviction that its recommendations constitute a soundly conceived and completely workable plan for increasing governmental efficiency and reducing governmental costs.

"Regarding the acceptance or nonacceptance of the recommendations contained in its report, the Committee had this to say:

" 'Reorganization of the state government of Pennsylvania over the pattern of the Committee's report is not only possible but necessary if the best interests of the people of the State are to be served.

" 'Proper consideration and application of the recommendations of the report will reveal a sound program for more economical and efficient operation of the state government.

" 'The basic work of this report was done, not by the Committee itself, but by a group of some two hundred of the best qualified men and women in Pennsylvania, and their opinions merit respectful consideration.

" 'In carrying out its assignment from Governor John S. Fine the Committee followed a policy of:

" '1. Drafting the most competent men and women available in the Commonwealth to make the 26 studies involved in the survey;

" '2. Analyzing the various task force reports and making its own recommendations from the information contained therein; and

" '3. Reporting its findings and recommendations to the Governor in accordance with the directive of the Governor, objectively and without partiality; and submitting to the Governor copies of the original task force reports as well.

" 'In any consideration of a report of this character, it is most important that the proposals be looked at from the over-all viewpoint because of the magnitude of the changes contemplated in the basic governmental organization.

" 'There are in the Committee's report three basic recommendations which would in themselves tend to create a more efficient, less costly and better State government organization:

" '1. The establishment of a new Management Administration headed by an Executive for Administration reporting to the Governor and functioning in effect as a deputy to the Governor with respect to the administrative machinery and business operations of the government.

" '2. The establishment of a new Department of Accounting to formulate and operate a system of sound, modern governmental bookkeeping and accounting practices covering every administrative and operational unit of the state government.

" '3. The improvement of personnel administration by such steps as the adoption of a uniform classification system for all state employes, the revision of salary schedules in the light of current economic conditions, and the provision of job security for more professional and technical employes.

" 'The consideration of minor phases of the Committee's report in isolated fashion and without reference to the over-all plan will inevitably result in a distorted viewpoint towards the report as a whole.

" 'The support given the Committee's recommendations by Governor Fine, and the backing the report has received from newspapers in their editorial columns and from public-minded organizations and individuals throughout the State has been most gratifying.

" 'The reception accorded the Committee's report in the Legislature has been disheartening, to be sure. But we sincerely believe that when members of the Legislature have familiarized themselves with the suggested program in its entirety, they will approach it in a constructive frame of mine.

" 'It is perhaps unfortunate that the assignment of the Survey Committee to this task was so timed that its report—a report on an exceedingly complex subject—came at a time when the Legislature was in session and confronted with compelling financial problems, and consequently did not have the time to give the report the study it deserves.

" 'The Committee reiterates its position that with a will to do, it is possible to save a total of at least $100,000,000 during the period covered by the next three bienniums through adoption of the recommendations contained in its report.' "

Mr. President, I agree with the conclusions arrived at in this final report of the Chesterman Committee. I agreed with its recommendations, and for that reason voted for the bills that came before this Senate. If the recommendations, Mr. President, would have been followed, the people of Pennsylvania would have had everything to gain and nothing to lose. The worst that could have happened would have been the loss of probably several thousand political jobs.

Mr. President, I have but one criticism of the Chesterman Committee and that is the fact that it did not appear before the Senate Committee, or the Legislative Committee, which was set up to conduct the public hearings. However, even that failure to appear is to some extent excusable, and it is excusable because the committee was not properly invited and was not given sufficient time to prepare itself to come before the first hearing conducted by that Legislative Committee. Shortly after the first hearing, further hearings were disbanded and it was agreed that bills would be presented to the Legislature covering every one of the Chesterman Committee recommendations. I hope the Majority and Minority Leaders are listening to what I want to say now.

Mr. President, there is one bill, one of the most important bills in my opinion that was recommended by the Chesterman Committee, and that was a bill for the appointment of an Accountant General. Unless I am without knowledge of the bills which were reported from committee, I can say without fear of contradiction that a bill to set up an Accountant General in Pennsylvania was not released from committee for the consideration of this Senate at any time between the time the agreement was made to introduce bills to support all the recommendations and the present time. I call upon the Majority Leader, and I call upon this Senate, to release such a bill because I think it is the root of all the evils in our State Government.

Mr. President, I just want to read to you two paragraphs from the Task Force Report on the accounting system in the State Government. I quote from Release No. 21, February 15, 1953:

" 'The common weakness of the various accounting systems now in use by the State, is the fact that they are designed to show only cash receipts and disbursements. They do not distinguish between expenditures for operations and expenditures for permanent improvements. They do not include proper accounting for non-cash assets nor for obligations incurred but unpaid. They do not relate the measure of "benefits derived" to the "cost of producing" these benefits for comparable fiscal periods.

" 'Consequently, it is virtually impossible to obtain an accurate picture of the financial condition of the Commonwealth, and the Governor, the Legislature and the people are deprived of adequate means by which to manage, to control, and to judge the cost or effectiveness of the conduct of the State's affairs.' "

Mr. President, that is the gist or the guts of the whole State Government.

Mr. President, I just want to read from the Governor's Address to the Legislature, of February 23, 1953, in which he reiterated what I just said:

"The structure of your State Government has for some time outgrown efficiency and has promoted extravagance. Shortly after assuming office it was obvious to me, as it must have been to you, that much could be done to eradicate evils in your Government, and that the field was expansive for improvement of the State services.

"How such survey as the one before us could have been overlooked and been delayed until this Administration is quite confounding."

Mr. President, regardless of what I have said up to the present time, or regardless of how any of us have felt about the Chesterman Committee Report—some of us agreed with it, some of us disagreed with it—I still think we owe a debt of gratitude to the Chesterman Committee itself, and to the 200 or more people of Pennsylvania who gave of their time, gave of their energy and gave of their efforts without pay. I think we, the Members of the Senate, on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania, should thank them for their efforts and, accordingly, I am presenting a resolution, with the co-sponsorship of the distinguished Majority and Minority Leaders, Senators Mahany and Dent.

SENATE RESOLUTION

THANKS OF SENATE EXTENDED TO MEMBERS OF STATE GOVERNMENT SURVEY COMMITTEE

Messrs. YOSKO, MAHANY and DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 9, 1953.

The pages of history recording the events of government ramble at length concerning the efforts of the various lawmakers to spend the national larder for the benefit of local interests. Seldom has there been recorded on these pages any serious effort on the part of the lawgivers or the citizenry to restore thrift and prudence to the agencies of government.

We in Pennsylvania are most fortunate, because from within our midst there arose a group of civic minded citizens who placed the economy of the state above our daily transactions and devoted months of their own time and effort to the task of preparing a comprehensive and complete survey of the functions of our State government.

Despite the many unkind barbs thrown at them, the work of this group is at least concrete evidence that waste and extravagance have had their day and that economy and sound business principals of administration are to replace them in our State government.

The immediate need for this change would not have become so apparent were it not for the selfless sacrifices of this group of conscientious citizens, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby express its gratitude to the members of the State Government Survey Committee and to the many individuals who willingly gave of their services in order to prepare this monumental work, which shall stand as an example of unstinting devotion to the cause of better government; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate send a copy of this resolution to the Members of the State Government Survey Committee.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in order to keep the record straight, I noticed that Senator Yosko said that the bill, the so-called Chesterman Committee Bill, which would set up the Accountant General's Department, was referred to the Committee on Rules but never was reported out.

Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 373 provided for a Budget Secretary. It was called to my attention that this bill was, in fact, a companion measure to setting up the Accountant General's Bureau.

Mr. President, the History shows that Senate Bill No. 373 was reported as committed on March 31, after it was introduced on March 30, the day before. It passed first reading on March 31 and passed second reading on April 6. It was recommitted to the Committee on Rules on May 21, waiting for the bill which was being prepared by a certain Senator to set up an Accountant General's Department. I understand now there is legislation which is being introduced, and will be before us setting up this type of department.

Now, Mr. President, in line with the remarks made by Senator Yosko relative to the Government Survey Committee, I want to also add my thanks to the committee for the work which they did, and also to the various members of the Task Force. Senator Yosko, Senator Dent and myself have sponsored this resolution. which was passed, formally thanking the members of this committee and the Task Force.

Mr. President, the Pennsylvania Economy League has made a report concerning the Chesterman Report, and they entitled it, "The League Surveys a Survey." I do not want to take the time of the Members of the Senate to read this report in full, but I would like unanimous consent to have this report of the Pennsylvania Economy League printed in the Journal for the benefit of the Members.

Mr. President, I request unanimous consent to have this report printed in the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection. The communication will be spread upon the Journal.

INTRODUCTION

The medieval alchemist was sure that there was some simple magic which would turn the base metals into gold, and many generations of men pursued the philosopher's stone which was warranted to turn the trick. So it is no new human trait to hunt a formula, a recipe of such undoubted virtue as to make difficulties melt away at a single application. We long for cure-alls, and are perpetually disappointed when the advance claims are not supported in the actual tests. This is particularly true in government, with its inevitable partisan distortions and its tendency in public debate to paint everything in midnight black or virginal white. Sadly, as each new team of administrators finds out and as the experienced political scientists learns, things are never again so easy as they appear in the campaign speech or the doctor's thesis.

Facts simply will not dissolve themselves through wish fulfillment dreaming.

All of which is preamble to the League's analysis of the Chesterman Report. Unveiled in stages like Salome, the Chesterman findings were pictured as producing savings of $100,000,000 in the State's biennial budget. Thus, it was generally surmised that these savings came two-thirds of the way toward solving the $157,000,000 deficit which was forecast in the Governor's budget. Since the Legislature is still in session many months later, with the States finances still unsettled, it is obvious that either the recommendations are not the magic formula of the publicity release, or that the House and Senate, in sheer obduracy, will not adopt them and put them into effect.

The League has made the Chesterman findings its principal order of business in recent months, and in this Newsletter, it tells what it has found. The age of miracles, we must state with regret, has not returned to the State Capitol. But if we find no miracles, we do find the opportunity for constructive work. The League is actively assisting the Governor in putting the practical recommendations of the Chesterman Report into operation, and it has furnished a vast volume of information to the legislative leaders who are at grips with the problems which the Report has raised.

LESLIE J. REESE, Director

DISSECTING THE CHESTERMAN REPORT

The League Surveys A Survey

A Matter of Names

Officially, it is the report of the State Government Survey Committee, appointed by the Governor to study the State government in all its branches and to recommend such changes as it believed would save money and improve services. Because of a ready analogy, the Survey Committee was frequently called the "Little Hoover Commission" but the final name which stuck was the Chesterman Committee. Mr. Francis J. Chesterman, former President of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, was the Chairman of the group of seven distinguished Pennsylvanians who accepted the Governor's request that they administer the survey.

The study had its birth in the agony of the 1951 Legislative Session—the State's longest—where the Governor's budget and his tax program was alike attacked on the grounds that the State's needs had not been properly established, and that new taxes should not be voted until there was proof that the Commonwealth was utilizing present income wisely and to its fullest purchase value in State services.

The Governor appointed the Survey Committee in 1952, and submitted its report to the Legislature on February 23, 1953.

The League Is Called In

Most of the recommendations of the Chesterman Report were dependent upon action of the Legislature, which, after the Governor's submission of the study, found that it had a job to do in analysis of the proposals it was being asked to adopt—a more involved and time-consuming job than most legislators have the opportunity to perform.

The legislative leaders, therefore, asked the League to assist in the tedious and expert work required to analyze the reports and to furnish abstracts which could serve as a guide to them in implementing the Committee recommendations with legislative action. The League's staff made this work its chief matter of business early in 1953. It not only examined the reports of the Chesterman Committee itself, but the voluminous findings of the "task forces" which were used by the Committee as its bird dogs. The League group made a separate analysis of each section of the report, summarized the recommendations, and deeloped pertinent queries on each of the recommendations, so that members of the Legislative Committee would be aided in their appraisal of the report. The League also divided the recommendations into those which could be instituted by administrative action and those which would require legislative and constitutional changes.

The League also made an exhaustive analysis of the estimated savings appended to each of the recommendations

What Happened to the $100,000,000

The Chesterman Report received State-wide newspaper attention. Before it was submitted in toto, newspaper releases of the Committee treated separate parts of the report. The releases included estimates of eventual savings that the recommendations could accomplish, and finally, these projected savings totalled $100,262,950.

That was an impressive and gratifying figure—much repeated about the State. At first glance, therefore, the Chesterman recommendations seemed like a substantial part of the answer to the State's fiscal problems, since the Governor's budget submitted to the Legislature in January showed a gap between requested appropriations and existing tax income of $157,000,000. If the projected savings could be effected, the gap between costs and revenues narrowed to a manageable area and a heavy increase in State taxation could be avoided.

Actually, the Committee did not claim that it could approach anything like a $100,000,000 savings in the 1953-55 biennium. Therefore, although the League found much that is constructive in the Chesterman Report, its widely heralded "savings" are not fully applicable as a remedy for the State's present difficulties.

Obviously, the Legislature cannot balance a current budget on savings expected to accrue in years to come.

The timetable as projected by the Chesterman report is as follows:

1953-55 biennium—$34,416,700 in savings
1955-57 biennium—$48,121,250 in savings
1957-59 biennium—$17,725,000 in savings

These figures are totals, affecting all the State's operations. But the State's difficulties are concentrated in its General Fund, and not in such special funds as Highways, Game Commission, Fish Commission, etc. The League refined the Chesterman Report's allocations of the projected savings to the General Fund and to special funds, and found that of the $34,416,700 which was projected in savings for 1953-55, only $22,500,100 was chargeable to the General Fund. And this figure is subject to still further reduction because the Governor, in the executive budget, took into consideration the savings which could be effected by administrative action without waiting for legislative approval. The administrative application of the Chesterman recommendations is calculated at $8,582,000 in savings.

Consequently, the net result is that legislative action on the Chesterman Report could—if all the claims of the Report are accepted—produce only $14,000,000 in savings applicable to the 1953-55 budget which is the Assembly's present concern.

While $14,000,000 is a lot of money, it is less than 10 per cent of the $157,000,000 gap which exists between the Governor's budget and the anticipated return from existing State taxes. In the League's opinion, it is unfortunate that public opinion focussed on the Chesterman Report's possible effect on the State's immediate financial problems rather than on its long-term benefits. The inevitable disillusionment has not been good for the reputation of the Report, and has tended to weaken its usefulness as a guide to constructive and long-term improvement of the State's administration.

Another Type of Breakdown

It is in the field of administration that the Report's recommendations have the most solid foundation and can most readily produce savings to the Commonwealth.

The League's analysts divided the Committee's estimates of savings attainable by 1960 in the General Fund—totaling $70,754,960—into three categories:

Changes in administrative methods and procedures, some of which require legislative approval—$27,270,250.

Changes in the governmental structure, all of which would require either legislative action or constitutional changes—$2,374,700.

Major changes in policy, such as the elimination of some State institutions, reductions in school subsidies, and changes in retirement policies—$41,110.000.

The Legislative Record

The Legislature's first action on the Chesterman Report was the creation of a committee representing both parties in the House and Senate to hold public hearings. The life of these hearings was brief. The authors of the Report took the position that the documents spoke for themselves, and that their work was over. Consequently, only opponents of the Report's recommendations appeared at the hearings, and they had something of a field day. A recommendation to merge the State Police and the Parole Board into the Department of Justice was the subject of the first hearing. The heads of all three agencies concerned were unenthusiastic, and were able to demonstrate that the $2,364,700 savings projected in the Chesterman Report—a precise ten per cent of normal spending requirements of the agencies to be merged—was an illusion. Other testimony impeached the substantiality of such reorganization "savings."

After three hearings, the legislative leaders decided that the good features of the Chesterman Report were being imperiled by the proceedings. Opposition was snow-balling so fast as to reduce the chance of adoption of anything derived from the recommendations of the Survey Committee. Consequently, the hearings were adjourned and a new approach agreed to, whereby hearings would be held only when requested. Two such additional hearings were held.

Those parts of the Report which were subject to legislative action were drafted into bills and introduced in the Senate by the Majority and the Minority leaders. A total of sixty bills was prepared and introduced, of which about one-third passed the Senate. The others have been defeated or sent back to committees. Voting has tended to be nonpartisan and not subject to party discipline. This legislative outcome is not unexpected, nor should it be entirely discouraging to the members of the Chesterman Committee and others who are hopeful of constant improvement in the public services of the Commonwealth. The League has had the opportunity to study the various aspects of the Chesterman Report thoroughly, and it has had the benefit of intimate working relationships with legislative leaders. We have a considered judgment that the changes proposed in much of the legislaton are so far-reaching that the members of the Legislature quite properly are unwilling to accept them without more thorough study. There has been a readiness to accept procedural changes; there has been decided caution in moving toward reorganizations which might do more harm than real or hypothetical economies would warrant.

Nor has the Legislature been willing to make drastic changes in established policy simply because the proposals belong to the Chesterman "package." Sometimes, a close examination reveals that anticipated savings simply will not materialize, as in the case of the hospitals which the State operates in the coal regions. In this instance, the Report projected a $10,000,000 saving. But when the Legislature took note of a $3,000,000 revenue in patient payments which the State derives from the hospitals, and considered the State subsidies for which the hospitals would become eligible if they were turned over to local control and operation, the projected saving was reduced to a possible $4,000,000. The elimination of State teachers' colleges, reduction in State-aid to local school districts, and revision of the State retirement system are questions which the Legislature appears to believe are independent policy decisions, to be decided independently, and not to be adopted as adjuncts in a drive to effect economies and efficiency in State operations.

A separating process has been going on, which tends to divide the procedural, the reorganizational, and the policy features of the Chesterman Committee's recommendations.

The procedural improvements are the cream of the Report.

Change by Administration

The recommendation which lie in the field of administration are being progressively put into effect. These are the most feasible and constructive features of the Report, and the price-reduction tags placed on them have a firm relationship to reality.

Governor John S. Fine, who appointed the Survey Committee, has been most conscientious in carrying out its recommendations where he has the power to do so. The League has been happy to assist him and his administrative associates, particularly the Budget Secretary, in implementing the suggested improvements in the day-to-day conduct of the State's vast machinery of government.

In the first instance, the Governor issued a general directive to all department heads instructing them to adopt the recommendations of the Chesterman Report where they could be effected by administration action. He has followed that general order with specific action in a wide range of State activities. The assignment of State cars and the use of State gasoline; the collection of payments due for care of inmates of State institutions; the standardization and improvement of food purchasing and serving in State institutions are examples of the subject matter for the Governor's direction as the departments are being led to follow improved procedures recommended in the Chesterman Report.

The League believes that these are among the major solid substance of the Survey Committee's work, and it will continue to render all the assistance possible to the Governor and his staff in their accomplishment.

As to reorganization of departments, the Governor is asking the Legislature to confer such authority upon him in general legislative terms, much as the Federal Reorganization Law confers special powers upon the President.

The policy changes recommended in the Chesterman Report seem to be in for a hard time. They involve matters which are generally debated in every session of the Legislature, and invoke the interests of groups which generally have much influence in the legislative process. It is unlikely that sweeping changes in policy will be adopted without the careful deliberation to which any substantial change in public policy should properly be subjected.

The Net Result

Even the adoption of the Report "as is" and line by line would not give a substantial solution to the State's fiscal predicament for 1953-55.

It is possible, however, to draw upon the report for many constructive ideas which will improve the State's operations and serve as a general pattern for future State organization. That work is in progress, with full executive support, and the League is sharing in it. There is a lot of wheat, as well as some chaff, in the Report, and the League will work long and arduously in the threshing.

In the meantime, the League has made its technical facilities available to the legislative and administrative officials in arriving at a sound and workable solution of the State's fiscal dilemma.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Mahany, can you tell me if the Republican Caucus took action today as to whether there will be a Session of the Senate next week?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as I understand it, we have not formally taken action other than to express our desire that there should be a Session next week. We also have to confer with the House, and we plan to confer with the House leadership tomorrow morning in my office, after which time, Senator Barr, I can answer your question a little more fully, not as to what our Caucus did but as to what will actually be done.

Mr. President, our present plan now, however, is to have a Session next week.

Mr. BARR. My reason, Mr. President, for asking that question is that—I do not know how accurate my information is, because there is so much inaccuracy up here on the Hill—I heard that the House was not going to be here next week, and I was wondering why I would have to come down if they were not going to be here.

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Senator Barr, we always like to see you down in Harrisburg, and I understand if the Senate comes back next week, that rooms are being provided out at that sumptuous place at Hershey, called the Hershey Hotel. So, if you come down I am sure that you will enjoy the surroundings out there.

Mr. BARR. At Harrisburg rates or Hershey rates?

Mr. MAHANY. Senatorial rates.

HOUSE MESSAGE

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL No. 953, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing the provisions thereof relating to public parks playgrounds and other recreation places and facilities and park and recreation boards.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill, as amended, will appear on tomorrow's calendar.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 667, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2564 of the act, approved the tenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," by prohibiting deductions from appropriations to school districts of the fourth class for failure to pay tuition in certain cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WADE, WOLFE and HOLLAND read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 668, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the American Battle Monuments Commission for the restoration and repair of certain memorials heretofore erected in France in honor of the citizens of Pennsylvania who served on the battlefields of France and Belgium and to perpetuate the memories of those who fell in World War I, and authorizing the Governor to appoint a person to supervise the work.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on behalf of my colleague, Senator Camiel, and myself, I introduced yesterday a resolution to investigate the Delaware River Bridge Authority in regard to the present increase in rates from twenty cents to twenty-five cents.

Mr. President, at the time I introduced this resolution, I was not aware of the fact that in the resolution it said "Delaware River Bridge Toll Authority." That is a different Authority than the one I had in mind. I have, therefore, prepared a new resolution covering the correct Authority, which is the Delaware River Port Authority.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TOLL INCREASE PROPOSED BY DELAWARE RIVER PORT AUTHORITY

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WEINER and CAMIEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways.

In the Senate, June 9, 1953.

The founding purpose of the Delaware River Port Authority was and is to provide bridge facilities without the expenditure of large sums from public revenues.

It was never intended that the private revenue of the motorist be depleted in order to avoid the use of public funds.

The Delaware River Port Authority has recently proposed a toll increase for the bridges under its jurisdiction; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, each appoint three members to serve as a committee to investigate the need for and the reasonableness of the proposed toll increase on the bridges under the jurisdiction of the Delaware River Port Authority and make a report of its findings and recommendations to the present General Assembly, as soon as practicable.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATSON, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES, ASHLAND STATE HOSPITAL

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 290, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the licensing and practice of practical nursing and imposing penalties

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, with reference to Senate Bill No. 290, I realize, as most of you do, that speeches do not make any votes, in fact, oftentimes they may cost you votes. I am not trying to change any votes, but I will try to clarify this bill in case some Members of this body may not have their minds made up entirely as to what this bill may do.

Mr. President, I wish I could speak to you not as a Member of this body, but as one who is dealing directly with human life. However, through the medium of my office, I have this opportunity to speak to you as a hospital administrator. We have in this Commonwealth today a shortage of Registered Nurses, and every hospital administrator recognizes that fact. This bill, fortunately, has the blessing and endorsement of the State Medical Association, this bill has the endorsement of the State Nurses' Association and this bill has the blessing of the Practical Nurses' Association.

Mr. President, there is, however, a group of people in the Commonwealth who are viciously opposed to this measure. That opposition stems from a few private trade schools who have in the past and in the present, for their own selfish purposes, conducted a school and given diplomas to people on the basis of being trained for 120 hours, or fifteen days. They take the position that a person can be trained to be a practical nurse in fifteen days.

Mr. President, nothing is closer or sweeter than life itself One may possess all the worldly goods at his command, but if he does not possess health, it means nothing to him. We have set up standards, we have set up boards dealing with every phase of life, but now we find a certain standard we are asking for, dealing with life itself, and for some unknown reason we still find certain people who cannot quite make up their minds as to the wisdom of the passage of this bill.

Mr. President, you know, as I said a moment ago, that no person can qualify to heal the sick in a period of fifteen days. We have our doctors who deal with our patients; we have our graduate nurses; then we have the Red Cross, who recognizes the need of additional help. They have courses, but in their good wisdom they do not call them practical nurses. They call them the gray ladies. Every hospital has a class in training nurses' aids. They can be of great help and great use in helping the hospital administration, but I cannot see for the life of me how we can stand by idly and permit these private trade schools to give diplomas, stating that these people are qualified to heal the sick after fifteen days of schooling.

Mr. President, we all recognize the fact that to go to college to learn any course takes a period of four years. The R. N. devotes three and one-half years to qualify herself, but then this group insists that they can do the job in fifteen days.

Mr. President, I am sure that if one of us were at a bedside and witnessed what takes place, we would think twice of how to vote for this bill. Today, we have as high as thirty patients being assigned to one graduate nurse, and she must depend wholly upon the help they may give her through a practical nurse. You will find one or two practical nurses working with one R. N., taking care of thirty or forty patients.

Mr. President, this bill is important. It will set up certain standards. It will inform us, when we are in need of hiring personnel, just who is who. I trust that the members of this body can see their way clear and vote for this measure, to enable us to take care of the sick. Lord knows, we need them; we need this type of help. I am asking for your support on the basis of one who deals directly with humanity every day. Gentlemen, I deal directly with them, and I am telling you of the great need for this type of a bill, and I trust that my colleagues can see their way clear to vote "yes" for this measure.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, as a co-sponsor of this bill, I would like to say a few words about the bill. I think there is a dire necessity for it. It is not only going to relieve the nursing shortage that we have in the Commonwealth and in our hospitals—I have a memorandum here from a Philadelphia School of Practical Nursing, whose method has been to teach these people to become a practical nurse by mail. I just want you to listen to this propaganda which they send out:

"Senate Bill 290 possibly is an asset to small towns of Pennsylvania, such as Johnstown, Altoona, Oil City and so forth. However, it is extremely detrimental to large municipalities such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and the like. For the sake of public health, Senator, please help defeat this bill."

Mr. President, I wonder if we, in the small towns, are built differently than the people are in Philadelphia or Pittsburgh, or whether the nursing care that we get in the small towns is not as important as it is to the larger communities.

Mr. President, I have another letter from them saying that it is going to drive these correspondence schools out of business. I think if the bill does not do anything else, it certainly should drive this type of a school out of business, because certainly by mail you cannot learn how to take care of the sick.

Mr. President, that is all I want to say. I hope my colleagues on both sides of the aisle can see it the way I see it; that there is a dire necessity for this type of legislation. It is not only a protection to the patient, but it is also a protection to he profession.

And he question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "No."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria will be so recorded.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lackawanna will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows: viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House bill No. 292, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 1515 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by requiring regular courses of instruction in constitutional law and government in public private and parochial school

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1515 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1515 [U S] Constitution and Government to Be Taught In all public private or parochial schools there shall be integrated in the social studies curriculum a study of the Constitution of the United States the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the structure of government in the United States including studies of each important elective and appointive office of the borough city county and township form of local government and of the State and Federal governments Such instruction [in the Constitution of the United States] shall begin not later than the opening of the [eighth] ninth grade and shall continue in the high school course and in courses in the State teachers' colleges to an extent to be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 343, Printer's No. 128, on third reading go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 480, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 127) entitled "An act relating to Adoption" by defining certain terms imposing powers and duties on the Department of Welfare, providing for appeals requiring reports concerning receiving children for adoption and investigation thereof changing contents of petition for adoption providing procedure for the voluntary relinquishment of and for the finding of abandonment of certain children elminating certain consents to adoption and further providing for hearings and investigatory powers of the court.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator McCreesh and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 3, line 19 by inserting at the end thereof: No religious institution or society, agency, service institution or similar organization conducted or operated by any religious order or church shall be required to meet the standards of approval provided herein but may do so only at its discretion."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 4, line 6, after the word "heavy" and before the word "the" by inserting the words: "de novo"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 4, line 12, by adding at the end of said line: "The Court shall not be bound by any findings of fact made by the department."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1) page 6, by inserting between lines 13 and 14: "The provisions of this subsection shall not be applicable to any religious institution nor to any society, agency, service institution or similar organization conducted or operated by any religious order or church."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the gentleman of the Senate that they vote for these amendments so that the amendments can be printed in the bill? Then the bill with the amendments in it can be studied further by the Senate, in order to see if we have effectively accomplished the thought that was in the minds of the group studying this particular phase of the proposed legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 480, on third reading, be placed on the Third Reading Postponed Calendar, as amended.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 534, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 533) entitled "An act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by permitting temporary restraint of one alleged to be mentally ill

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section (d) of Section 326 of the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 533) entitled "An act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 2053) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 326 Petition of Commitment

* * * * *

(d) Every such petition shall be accompanied by the sworn or affirmed certificate of two qualified physicians except in the case of a mental defective or an epileptic when only one such certificate need be attached

In any case where it appears to any judge of the court that a reasonable necessity exists for temporary restraint of one alleged to be mentally ill to permit an examination of such person by two qualified physicians to determine the propriety of such certificate the judge may by proper order directed to any proper person or officer require restraint of the alleged mentally ill person in any suitable place for a period not to exceed six hours prior to the examination and twenty-four hours thereafter

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have studied this bill quite thoroughly and what it does is amend the Act of June 12, 1951, providing that, on line 15, page 2, "In any case where it appears to any judge of the court that a reasonable necessity exists for temporary restraint of one alleged to be mentally ill to permit an examination of such person by two qualified physicians to determine the propriety of such certificate the judge may by proper order directed to any proper person or officer require restraint of the alleged mentally ill person in any suitable place for a period not to exceed six hours prior to the examination and twenty-four hours thereafter."

Now, Mr. President, I am quite sympathetic with what the gentleman is trying to do. However, it seems to me that this amendment is quite broad, because we can interpret this law so as to mean that we might have to commit the mentally ill to a County Home. I do not think we want that because a County Home is a place for aged, indigent individuals and we do not want anyone who is violently insane to be committed there. That may be the case under the provisions of this amendment.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, this is one of the most constructive bills that has been introduced in this Senate this Session. It will correct a bad situation that is existing all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, at the present time, it is almost impossible for two physicians to examine a person who is alleged to be suffering from mental illness in order to get his admission permanently into a mental institution. At the present time, throughout the State, on account of the fact that this law is not in effect, it is necessary to prefer a criminal charge against the person alleged to be mentally ill in order that he be temporarily restrained.

Mr. President, this bill will prevent and eliminate that procedure of bringing criminal charges in order to temporarily restrain the party until he has had the proper examination made by the two physicians. Instead of throwing him into jail, this bill now will permit the temporary detention for at least six hours, and not more than twenty-four hours after the examination of such person, until the facilities are made for the proper admission to the mental institution.

Mr. President, this bill also has the approval of the President-Judge of the Courts of Erie County, and I am informed that it also meets with the approval of most of the courts throughout the State, and, particularly, will relieve a situation which is presently existing in Allegheny County along the same line which exists in the County of Erie.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, one thought comes to my mind. Those County Homes, or the County Institutions, have no facilities for this type of person. Would it necessitate the building of facilities? Would it necessitate the employment of special persons to handle this type of an inmate?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, in answer to the Minority Floor Leader, this bill provides for the detention in some suitable place. It does not have to be in the County Home. It can be in the court house; it can be any place where the person can be examined by the two physicians in order to determine whether or not he is mentally ill, as alleged in the petition.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, would the Dauphin County Judges be allowed to send them up to the Senate?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, that is a question I cannot answer.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, Senator Blass just answered the point which I was trying to make. It does not say where these mentally ill are to be restrained. In the County of Washington, it would be either one of two places; either the County Jail or the County Home.

Mr. President, I say to you that each and every one of you gentlemen here represent counties throughout this Commonwealth. I do not believe that the counties want to go into the business of caring for the mentally ill. This is a step in that direction, and it is dangerous. It is dangerous for us to have a law on the statute books which would permit someone to commit a violently insane person to a County Home. It is ridiculous even to consider it.

Mr. President, I say to you gentlemen here today that regardless of your political affiliation, you have a responsibility to the public as a whole, and we should vote "no" on this. This is a ridiculous amendment. It is too broad.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, this bill says that the detention shall be at a suitable place. If he says that the county home is not a suitable place, then it would not be a place as specified in the bill.

Mr. President, this bill would prevent a member of your family from being thrown into jail, which is the law at the present time, in order to permit the examination. When this bill is passed by both the House and the Senate, and signed by the Governor, you will no longer have the necessity for these people being thrown into jail, because you will have the examination conducted at a suitable place where it will be in propriety with the wishes of the family and with the best interests of the people.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Blass, could you tell me how the County of Erie would operate under the provisions of this amendment? Where would they be taken?

Mr. BLASS. Senator Lane, if you would like to read the statement from the President Judge of Erie County, from his experience over fourteen years as President Judge of that county, I will be very glad to read you the letter, in which he says that there is a very dire necessity to have this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the gentleman did not answer my question.

Senator Blass, where would Erie County restrain these mentally ill persons?

Mr. BLASS. We have plenty of places and plenty of rooms where this examination can be conducted. Particularly, it could be conducted in the Commissioners' Room in Erie County, on the first floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I doubt very much whether the County Commissioners of Erie County would want to detain a mentally ill person in the County Commissioners' office for a period of six hours or up to twenty-four hours. It seems sort of ridiculous.

Mr. President, in our County of Washington, the courts have taken the position that a prison is no place for persons who are ill. Those who are alleged to be mentally insane have not committed a crime. We could, therefore, not commit them to the county jail. They do not pursue that practice. It would mean that they would be committed to the Institution District. The County Home would be the only place, outside of an individual's home. If they are violently mentally ill, we certainly would have a problem.

Mr. President, I think this amendment is too broad under any circumstances, and we should vote "no" on it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Luzerne will be so recorded.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from York will be so recorded.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 295, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 247, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the eighth day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 298), entitled "An act authorizing the creation of, and providing for, and regulating the maintenance and operation of a county employes' retirement system in counties of the fourth class, imposing certain charges on counties, and fixing penalties," by authorizing the transfer to the one-eightieth (1/80) class of members contributions at the option of the retirement board and adjusting the county annuity on superannuation retirement; further prescribing the power of the retirement board to provide minimum retirement allowances.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, this amendment is to eliminate the retroactive feature of the retirement, which would seem to be in keeping with present court rulings.

Mr. WAGNER offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, (Sec. 15.1), page 4, lines 15 and 16 by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof: "ficiary who [has retired] shall thereafter retire for superannuation after."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 256, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend part of Section 202 and to add Sections 463 and 1314 to the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and adminstrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Srhools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and adminstratve officers, providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by establishing the State Auctioneers' Commission as a departmental administrative commission in the Department of Public Instruction; fixing the qualifications and compensation of members and imposing certain duties on said commission.

be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, you are talking about recommitting to Education, but this bill and Senate Bill No. 257 have not been in the Education Committee. These bills were in the Committee on State Government, where they were considered at length and reported out. I would suggest that it would be more appropriate to recommit, but recommit to whence they came and not to whence they were not.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I inquired downstairs what committee they came out of when I marked my calendar, and someone evidently gave me the wrong information in saying Education.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, Mr. President, I wish to withdraw the motion that Senate Bill No. 256 be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I desire to withdraw my second to the motion.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now move that Senate Bill No. 256, on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. HARE. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 257, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to define, license and regulate resident and nonresident auctioneers and apprentice auctioneers in certain political subdivisions and revising, consolidating and making the law uniform relative thereto; conferring certain powers and duties on the State Auctioneers' Commission and on certain departments and officers of the State and local governments; providing for the keeping of records and the inspection thereof; repealing certain inconsistent laws and providing penalties.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 361, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 361, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MRS. ALBERT JOHNSON PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask the indulgence of the Chair and the Members of the Senate to suspend the Order of Business in which we are now engaged for a brief moment.

At this time I would ask permission to introduce Mrs. Albert Johnson, of Smethport, Pennsylvania, bearing a message to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. I am quite certain the Senate will sustain the ruling of the Chair that this is a much more important Order of Business than what we have been indulging in.

Will the Sergeant-at-Arms escort the distinguished visitor, together with Senator Berger, to the Bar of the Senate?

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. I have the pleasure to present to you Mrs. Albert Johnson, from Smethport, Pennsylvania.

MRS. ALBERT JOHNSON. I would like to present to you an invitation from the Centennial Committee of McKean County.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you very much, and I assure you that I am delighted to accept it.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, June 9, 1953.

The House met at 11:00 a. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Father Thomas A. Little, guest Chaplain and Vicar of St. Mary's Chapel, Philadelphia, guest of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jones, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, who hast given us this good land for our heritage; we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogancy whether of class or place, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues.

Guide and bless the Legislature of this state and herein especially this House now assembled, that it may ordain only such things that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety may be established among us for all generations.

These and all other necessities we humbly beg in the name and mediation of Jesus Christ, our most blessed Lord and Saviour. Amen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, please come to the rostrum so that he may preside as Speaker pro tempore for the day.

Mr. READINGER in the Chair.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it has been my practice to consult the Chairman of the Democratic Caucus as to how I should vote when important bills came up. I desire instructions from the Chair as to whom I shall consult now that the brains of the Democratic party are in the Chair.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman, or suggest to him, that he consult with Mr. Moran, who sees all and knows all.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, June 8, 1953?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the approval of the Journal for Monday, June 8, 1953, be postponed until the Journal is in print.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, The inhabitants of this Commonwealth are asked to contribute to many worthy charitable, religious, benevolent, humane and patriotic purposes; and

Whereas, The solicitation of funds for such purposes is presently regulated by the provisions of the act, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 644), entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable, religious, benevolent, humane, and patriotic purposes," and its amendments; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to conduct a study of the effectiveness and the administration of the "Solicitation Act" and the propriety of exempting any organization from its provisions, and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations with such drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. VARNER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 61.

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1953.

Since it was called Gumtown, in honor of "Gum Nolf," who located in the place in 1830, New Bethlehem, in Clarion County, has been an example of industry and well being to the rest of the Commonwealth.

In 1853 a charter of incorporation was granted to New Bethlehem by the Clarion County Court, creating a borough from what was previously a town.

Since its inception as an organized governmental entity, the borough of New Bethlehem has progressed far on the road to industrialization and the promotion of the blessings of prosperity and good government for the benefit of its population.

Among the natural blessings bestowed upon New Bethlehem are level land which is ideally located for the development of industry, and Redbank Creek which has been a source of water and power to an energetic, thriving and industrious community which is proud to be known and designated as New Bethlehem.

Upon its reaching the age of one hundred years as an organized community, New Bethlehem has attained an enviable position, in that it has been mellowed by a rich and full history which have given it a great tradition of courage and usefulness, and has maintained a rugged, far sighted, youthful outlook which combined with its historical background, foretells a progressive and glorious future as one of Pennsylvania's finest communities; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That in recognition of the centennial celebration of the incorporation of New Bethlehem, in Clarion County as an organized community, this General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extends its congratulations and best wishes to the borough of New Bethlehem and its residents for continued prosperity, success and happiness and the continued progress and development of their exemplary community spirit and activities.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. BANKER and STRAUSSER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 62.

In the House of Representatives, June 8, 1953.

Whereas, Commonwealth appropriations providing financial aid in connection with the erection of school buildings have increased from $500,000 for the biennium 1949-51 to $7,250,000 recommended by the Governor for the biennium 1953-55; and

Whereas, It is estimated that Commonwealth appropriations on account of financial aid for school buildings may, in the future, reach $33,050,000 per bienium; and

Whereas, On the average, building costs in Commonwealth-aided districts are equivalent to the costs in unaided districts with market values per teaching unit some $200,000 higher; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to develop model plans for functional, flexible, fire-safe, and sanitary school buildings, and to present such plans, together with comments and recommendations, to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. LEVEN. RESOLUTION No. 63.

Memorializing the Governor to direct the Pennsylvania Air National Guard to seek airport facilities elsewhere than at the North Philadelphia Airport, and that studies be undertaken to locate an airport site for the use of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard in a rural area.

Whereas, The North Philadelphia Airport is located in a heavily settled and growing residential district of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, The use of that airport for military aviation purposes is a hazard to the safety, well-being and prosperity of the residents of that part of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, There are in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania numerous other appropriate sites that could be adapted to the use of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard; therefore

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

First, That the Governor be and he is hereby memorialized to direct the Air National Guard of Pennsylvania to seek the use of airport facilities elsewhere than at the North Philadelphia Airport where such use would be a hazard to the lives of many citizens of the Commonwealth residing hereby; and Second, That studies be immediately undertaken to locate an airport site for the use of the Air National Guard in a rural area where no danger would be caused by military aviation activities to the homes and lives of residents in surrounding communities.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SECOND BIENNIAL REPORT OF PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION ON INTERSTATE COOPERATION

Mr. WOOD presented a communication submitting the second Biennial Report of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation to the Governor and the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Session of 1953.

The communication was read as follows:

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation, I have the honor to transmit herewith the Second Biennial Report of the Pennsylvania Commission on Interstate Cooperation, Session of 1953, for the calendar years 1951 and 1952.

Copies of this report for distribution to the members of the House of Representatives have been delivered to the office of the Chief Clerk of the House.

Respectfully submitted,

(S) NORMAN WOOD, Chairman.

(For report, see appendix)

PUPILS OF WEST KITTANNING SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is pleased to welcome to the House this morning pupils of the eighth grade of the West Kittanning School, of the Kittanning Area Schools, under the direction of their teachers, Mrs. Wallwork and Mr. Best. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Armstrong, Messrs. Helm and Guthrie.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, first of all I want to congratulate the House upon the attendance. Even so there are some ten or twelve Members who are absent without leave, a situation which should be remedied. It is very important that the Members attend the party caucuses and that there be a full attendance.

When we survey the calendar we cannot but reach the conclusion that as far as the 1953 Session of the General Assembly is concerned it really begins today.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the Democratic party is an organization and the Republican party is an organization. There are certain basic principles that apply as far as organizations are concerned.

First of all, if you have an organization there must be leadership. Second, if you have leadership and an organization you have to have a clear, comprehensive plan; not a part of a plan—a clear, comprehensive plan. You must have your objectives in mind. We cannot work, and no organization can work "off the cuff" from day to day, subject to the varying currents of opinion, standing one place today, another place tomorrow. And when you have leadership and when you have a clear, comprehensive plan there must be fidelity to the plan.

We gain nothing by emphasizing our disagreement either in caucus or on the floor, especially if we do nothing to discover our areas of agreement. There are times when the Democratic organization has been nominated as a "party of obstruction." Whether we have or have not been functioning in that role is a matter of opinion. If we have been, I am quite sure that the majority party would have no intention of taking that role from us. Both parties are about to caucus. Now if we are not to be a party of obstruction, if we are to seek areas of agreement, there must be something to agree with and about.

The purpose for which the majority organization will shortly retire is to assume responsibility for a general legislative program, and on our side we cannot determine a course of action until we have some notion as to what you intend to do today and tomorrow and next month and the month after that and the month after that.

It has taken six months to arrive at this present situation and if you think you are going to get out of it in six minutes or six hours or six days, it is a mistaken belief. We cannot afford to let our tempers disorganize our efforts. We cannot afford to let our party prejudices disorganize our efforts and we cannot afford to permit the internal disputes within the Republican organization to disorganize our legislative efforts.

We on the minority side must retire into our caucus to await the decisions arrived at in your caucus, and when you have caucused and you have returned, we shall confer with your party leaders and then perhaps we will ask the privilege of another caucus. I have a notion that we will ask the privilege of caucusing quite frequently.

It is not our intention to be hurried into precipitate action on the basis of an 80-page calendar and swallow measure after measure that we have not had time to properly discuss, and I rather imagine that from time to time when important bills are about to be discussed, I will ask the privilege before the vote is taken, before the discussion ends, to hold a caucus with the leaders of the Philadelphia delegation, Democratic delegation, with the leaders of the Pittsburgh delegation, with the leaders of the Democratic rural block so that we can, on our side, proceed intelligently and minimize discord.

I hope that in the Republican caucus instead of so many Members having so many things concerning which they are in disagreement will begin within their own circle to establish the areas of definite agreement which will make it much easier for the minority party to cooperate with a majority that actually functions.

PERMISSION REQUESTED FOR COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. KRATZ asked permission for the Committee on Municipal Corporations to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is about to declare a recess. Will the gentlemen please call his Committee meeting immediately upon the calling of a recess?

Mr. KRATZ. I will be glad to do so, sir.

CAUCUSES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Immediately upon the calling of a recess, there will be a caucus of the Republican Members in the new House Caucus Room. The Democratic Members will caucus in the old House Caucus Room.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, since the Chairman of the Railroads and Railways Committee is here, perhaps he could state to the House when he expects to call a meeting of his committee.

The Chairman of the Committee says he expects to call a meeting tomorrow but has not set the time.

Mr. Speaker, I suggest to the Majority Leader that he intervene in this situation and give us a definite statement as to when that particular Committee proposes to meet for business.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say in reply to the gentleman that the Majority Leader makes no pretense at trying to control our Committee Chairmen. The gentleman has stated that he intends to call a Committee meeting tomorrow and he has as yet not fixed the time. I think that is the answer to the situation. That comes from the Chairman himself.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is the basic, fundamental fault. Nobody seems to control anything. We have been here six months and this particular committee has never held a meeting for business. The responsible leaders of the party are so diffident that there is no apparent way of bringing pressure upon the Chairman to get a definite commitment as to what he is going to do and not what he expects to do.

Where is the Speaker—I mean the regular Speaker—

I would like to know whether there is any power resident in the Speaker, or do we have to circulate a petition to get a meeting of this Committee—a definite commitment?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will submit to the Speaker the message of the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. ANDREWS. And transmit to the Speaker also the word that we will expect some steps to be taken to secure a definite statement as to when this particular Committee is going to meet.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will be most happy to do that.

COMMITTEE MEETING

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that immediately on the declaration of this recess my Committee will meet before they go to their respective caucuses? It will only take them about two minutes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is the understanding of the Chair. The Committee on Municipal Corporations will meet to the Speaker's left immediately upon the calling of the recess.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened with a very great deal of interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Minority Leader, when he said that possibly there was a lack of control, or a lack of authority on the part of the leadership, which could possibly apply to both sides of the House.

I would like to suggest to them that maybe the fault of the whole Session is too many people trying to control too many things, and that might apply more to the other side of the House than it does to this.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would inform the gentleman from Blair that the only thing I control is my personal opinion. It is not my fault that the majority party could not proceed under a unit rule. It is not my doing that the Democratic party through its State Committee made definite commitments concerning legislation. The Republican majority feels at liberty to disregard its platform commitments. We do not.

When at the beginning of a Session a majority party regnant, triumphant, in control, says, "We have a program and this is it; You are going to accept it; we are not going to compromise; we have the perfect plan," and then they cannot put it across, it comes with very poor grace to say that we shall swallow the mess you made. We are not going to swallow it.

There is not a single Democratic vote for a sales tax. You cannot get them. I did not do it. The party did it. That is where we stand.

As soon as you have 105 votes for your sales tax or as soon as you have 95 for any other kind of tax, you can get ahead I think, with your tax program. But you cannot come to us with an ultimatum, and come with a program of futility and blame us for being obstructionists.

Some day, if you think we have been an obstructionist party we will give you a demonstration of what could be done to obstruct the House under the Rules. If we wanted to proceed with all the means of obstruction that could be used under the Rules of this House, you would be here a year from now.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair now declares a recess until 2:30 p. m. EST. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Readinger) in the Chair.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BOLTON, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 543, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 9, 1953.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 171, Printer's No. 63, entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to prescribe by general rule the practice and procedure governing appeals to the Supreme or Superior Courts of Pennsylvania," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1150, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An Act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," by changing the provisions relating to the time for holding special elections for Representatives in Congress and Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly and for certifications by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to County Boards of Elections with respect to the nominees for certain offices to be filled at special elections and providing for the holding of special elections to fill vacancies in offices of political subdivisions, and for nominating candidates therefor.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1220, entitled:

An Act adopting the Scribner log rule as the standard log rule for determining the board foot content of saw logs

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1227, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation from the Motor License Fund, to the Department of Property and Supplies for the acquisition of land (with or without buildings thereon) and for the erection, construction or reconstruction and equipment of an office building thereon for the use of the Bureaus of Motor Vehicles and Highway Safety

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MOODY offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1 Page 2 line 1 by inserting after the figure "1" and before the word "The" the following

"So much of the money in the Motor License Fund as may be needed from time to time but not to exceed"

Amend Page 2 line 1 by striking out at the end of said line the words "or so"

Amend Page 2 line 2 by striking out at the beginning of said line the words "much thereof as may be necessary"

Amend Page 2 line 2 by striking out at the end of said line the words "from the"

Amend Page 2 line 3 by striking out at the beginning of said line the words "Motor License Fund"

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1240, entitled:

An Act regulating for the general welfare of the Commonwealth and safety of coal miners and other persons certain related underground minerals being coal, gas and oil and the underground storage of gas in underground strata by regulating the location, drilling, reconditioning, and abandoning of oil and gas wells through workable coal seams; providing for the protection of said coal and said wells; providing for the regulation of the underground storage of gas in the vicinity of or under coal mines, providing for the filing of information relating to the underground storage of gas and the operation of coal mines; providing for the certification of underground gas storage reservoirs in the vicinity of or under coal mines; imposing duties upon gas storage operators, persons operating coal mines, other persons engaged in operations affecting the mining of coal or the underground storage of gas, and the Department of Mines and Courts of Common Pleas, and prescribing methods for the enforcement of such duties; granting certain corporations the right of eminent domain to appropriate interests in real property for surface and sub-surface operations in connection with the underground storage of gas; providing for hearings and appeals; and providing penalties.

The first Article was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining for the purpose of further consideration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. The gentleman has not stated what his reason for recommitting this bill is. Of course, I am limited here now to this motion and I cannot debate the merits of the bill. I will not attempt to go into any of the merits of the bill. However, I would like to give the Members of the House information as to the path this bill has followed and some of the things that have been done in regard to not only the bill but the problem which it seeks to solve.

I suppose no other bill—at least since I have been in the Legislature—has aroused any more interest or attracted any more attention or provoked any more mail than House Bill 1240. I think that reason in itself is the best reason why the bill should not be recommitted. There are many others.

The Members of the House will recall that the first bill dealing with the regulation of the underground storage of gas was known as House Bill 586, and several other names, and that after several weeks House Bill 1240 was introduced by me. I would like to state the reasons why this second bill was introduced.

In the first place, the problem of the hazard and the danger created by the underground storage of gas under operating coal mines is nothing new. My information is—and I know that it is true—that the gas interests and the coal interests have met and discussed the problem. It has been discussed by different organizations and different people who are interested. They had had experts before them to discuss the problems involved for at least a year before House Bill 586 was ever introduced in this Legislature.

After I introduced House Bill 586, I suggested to the parties interested that they try to sit down around a table and work out their problems, problems that both interests recognized. That effort was made and they met for several weeks. At least part of the gas industry met with the coal people.

After meeting for those many weeks, discussing the problems, certain things were agreed to that should be included in any bill that was to be presented to this House for a vote. As a result of those meetings and the discussions that took place there, House Bill 1240 was drafted, and the provisions that are contained in it were the ones that were discussed and grew out of those meetings.

After House Bill 1240 was introduced, a hearing was held at the request of the gas people. And I think it is too bad that every Member of this House could not have attended that hearing, because I think they could have then gotten information which has never been presented to them properly or in a fair, unbiased way.

Many of the misrepresentations and vicious attacks made against this bill would have been exposed if all the Members of the House could have attended that hearing. I think the case of the sponsors of the bill were very well presented. The gas people presented their case. I will leave it to the other members of the Committee and those who attended the hearing as to who presented the best case.

At any rate, shortly after the hearing was held, the Committee on Mines and Mining met and discussed the bill for well over an hour. After that discussion the vote was taken and the bill was reported to the floor of this House.

Now there can be no question, Mr. Speaker, that a very serious problem is involved in House Bill 1240, a problem which concerns the safety and the lives and the well-being of thousands of miners in Pennsylvania.

Much has been said that safety and hazard is not involved at all, that this is simply a fight between the gas people and the coal people, and it should be resolved between themselves and not by the Legislature.

Very frankly, Mr. Speaker, I wish that that could have happened. It is not unusual that we find ourselves confronted here in this House with problems that other people cannot solve. And we are called upon to pass laws to regulate the conduct of people all over Pennsylvania, especially where it involves the safety and the well-being of the citizens of Pennsylvania. If they cannot resolve them themselves, it is our responsibility to do that.

Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this bill has attracted the attention and the interest that it has, I think it is only fair that everyone has a chance to vote upon this bill. I therefore would ask the Members of this House to at least give the sponsors and the many thousands of people who are interested in this bill their day in court so that we can decide this question and have a vote on the final passage of the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am asking that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining for further consideration. My purpose in it is this. There was a public hearing on this bill at which time representatives of gas and coal interests presented their respective sides. However, the public in that particular hearing was completely ignored.

There were representatives there to speak on behalf of the public but there was not sufficient time. It is no discredit and no reflection upon the Mines and Mining Committee, that representatives of the public who were there desiring to be heard, that they were not heard because of the lack of time that the Committee had to be able to hear the people.

They talk about safety of the lives of the miners. Well, I am just as much interested in the safety of the lives of the miners as everybody else in this House. But somewhere along the line somebody has forgotten about the safety of the lives of the consumers of natural gas. I think that that question should be thoroughly aired before a committee competent to hear and determine it. Because a number of lives affected by this bill, by consumers of natural gas is very, very far in excess of the miners who might be protected by this bill.

Now if it is a safety measure, let us make it a safety measure for both sides of the house. Not only for the mining interests. I think those people should be heard in that respect.

So far as any vicious attacks are concerned, I do not know that there has been anything in the nature of vicious attacks made by anybody on either side of this bill.

I think there had been some statements made purporting to be facts that should be clarified and put in their proper perspective. With all the implications that are in this bill and the particular public interest that is involved in it, I certainly think this bill should have a further consideration in the Mines and Mining Committee to bring all factors of the whole public in Pennsylvania into it, who are going to be affected as a result of this bill.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cameron made the remark that the hearing was not held in fairness to all people. I would like to say that from the start of this thing when I was asked to hold a public hearing, I bent over backwards to please everybody that was interested in this piece of legislation.

The day of the hearing each side was allotted one hour. It happened that the gas people were heard first, and they talked an hour and fifteen or twenty minutes which cut the time short for the others.

There was a gentleman here from the district from which Mr. Tompkins is a Member, and also a Mr. Folke from Johnstown, who came here as consumers.

Of course I did not make up the itinerary of the various speakers. It was up to the gas people and the coal people to furnish their people to give the testimony. I had nothing to do with the arranging of that. However, I was trying very hard to assure these gentlemen who were not on the list of speakers, but it happened that the Speaker of the House sent word to my desk that we must close the hearing at once; that the House was going into Session in an hour and it seemed to me it was against parliamentary procedure and the Rules of the House to have a hearing with not all the Members of the House in their seats.

I explained this to the gentlemen who were present, and the gentleman from Cameron and the gentleman from Cambria came to my desk very nicely and thanked me for trying to consider their case. They said they were perfectly pleased and left the data with me which they were going to read before the Committee.

I wrote to both of those gentlemen immediately thanking them for their courtesy to me and assured them that their literature was taken into our meeting. Mr. Kent said the meeting lasted an hour and a great part of that time was taken up presenting the case of these consumers.

I think it is unfair to me as Chairman of the Committee to insinuate that I tried to shut anybody off.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, if any part of my remarks had any implications of any unfairness on Mr. Hewitt's part, I will ask them to be expunged from the record because I know no more fair man in this House than Earl Hewitt.

I think I stated in my remarks to the effect that it was unfortunate that we did not have sufficient time left for the Committee to show the courtesies which were in their heart to show us. For that reason I am asking that this bill go back so that this coverage can be made.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, just to add a little to what Mr. Hewitt said, the notice of this hearing was in the papers. I am sure it was circulated statewide for at least a week before the hearing was conducted, and had any great number of people, other than the ones who did present themselves, appeared to be heard. I am sure other arrangements and a prolonged hearing could have been held at that time.

There is one other thing that I would like to say. Mr. Tompkins raised the point that we should think about the safety of the gas consumer. If there is any problem of safety to gas consumers that arises from the provisions of this bill, this is the first that it has been called to my attention. There has been opportunity to amend this bill in order to accomplish that thing if it exists.

I do not see the reasoning that a bill should be recommitted—it might deal with the miners all right, but it does not deal with the safety of somebody else.

If Mr. Tompkins is sincere in that belief, he is certainly free to introduce a bill that will remedy that situation.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the motion to recommit. We face a situation that has been in the making for the last quarter of a century.

The problems we face are the problems that the gas industry and the coal industry faced a quarter of a century ago. I question the immediacy of the danger. I point out to the Members of the House that the coal people and the gas people have already gone considerably more than half way in resolving their differences. If given the opportunity there is reason to believe they can go the rest of the distance.

We face a technical and a business problem—technical, and business. It is a problem to be solved by business men and technical men in businesslike fashion. It is unfair to the Members of this House to dump a controversy that is, I would say, two-thirds settled into our laps when given a little more time the two parties involved can in all probability go the rest of the way themselves.

I resent the aura of hysteria that has surrounded this bill. I resent first a great deal of the propaganda of the gas companies, designed to unduly alarm a gas-consuming public, and I resent the propaganda of the coal interests which drag out the spectre of a great calamity and cite a danger of tomorrow which hasn't happened for the last quarter of a century.

And so, I think that a little more time in which tempers can cool, a little more time in which the parties interested can negotiate will lead to a solution within the confines of the two industries involved. That is what we want. We know that at least one of the great gas companies furnishing a wide area will not be materially affected by this bill. It has itself been doing the things the bill would have the gas companies do. The other gas companies are already proceeding to do the same thing, and if given an opportunity for further negotiation, I am convinced they can come before this House with a bill that will not divide the membership, will not divide the two industries, but will present us with the fact accomplished—a working agreement that serves the interests of all the people.

I resent the fact that the gas companies say "If you are a friend of ours you will oppose this bill," and the coal miners say "If you are a friend of ours, you will support this bill." Now, I am not an enemy of the miners, and I have never been particularly friendly with the gas company, but I do urge that there be time,—time is a great solvent, especially when tempers are hot, and I am not pleading for a period of indefinite delay.

I close by pointing out how far the gas people have gone so far in solving the problems that do exist and in accepting a formula that would govern future operations. So I say it is my belief that if we send this bill back to Committee for a period, that the gas companies and the coal companies, in fairness to this House, in fairness to themselves as business people, will come before us with a regulatory bill which will not be a subject of conflict, but will be a fact accomplished in the interests of good business and safety for all concerned.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I find myself in disagreement with my Minority Leader upon the particular motion that is before us today.

I rise in support of the position of my learned colleague from Crawford, Mr. Kent, because we in the coal areas recognize that a problem exists.

I want to say here, Mr. Speaker, that I do not intend to debate this bill, but I ask the membership on both sides of this House to take cognizance of the fact that there is a problem. Give us the opporunity on third reading of this measure to debate the pros and cons of House Bill 1240 on the floor of the House, then make your decision. Do not be misled by the gutter-type propaganda that has emanated from every quarter of the State on this particular piece of legislation.

I ask the membership of the House here today to vote against recommittal of this measure. Let the bill be discussed upon the floor of the House, and unless you can decide that no problem exists that concerns the safety of the coal miners, and unless you find out that there is going to be a curtailment of gas storage, then vote against the bill; make your decision upon the matter before the entire body.

In event you find that there is a very present danger to the safety of the coal miners, and in event you find in the discussion of this bill that there will be no curtailment of gas storage, then I know you will cast your vote in favor of House Bill 1240. Give us the opportunity to discuss this bill, the pros and cons of it at length on third reading. Vote against recommittal today and render a service to all the people of the Commonwealth by so doing.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a very brief statement.

It seems like every one here is concerned about the gas and the coal companies. They have completely forgotten the person who is building a home. They have also forgotten the man who sells and installs gas appliances.

The gas companies have completely stopped all installations of gas appliances. There are hundreds of people in my district who are building homes who are just stuck. I say there should be no further delay in deciding this bill one way or the other. Let us have this bill on third reading. Let us vote against any motion to recommit it. Then let the Members vote the way they want. Let us not keep these homes from being built, and have the people in indecision, not knowing where they are going or what they are going to do.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the Motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the Article?

Mr. KENT offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 5, by inserting between lines 16 and 17 (19) The terms "division" and "Oil and Gas Division" mean the Oil and Gas Division of the Department of Mines of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as established by this act.

It was agreed to.

The Article was agreed to as amended.

The second Article was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Article?

Mr. KENT offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 21, page 6, lines 11 and 12, by striking out "Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "Oil and Gas Division."

Amend Sec. 21, page 6, line 14, by striking out "Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "Oil and Gas Division."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Article?

Mr. KENT offered the following amendments:

Amend Bill, page 47, by inserting between lines 5 and 6 "Section 41. Oil and Gas Division.—(a) There is hereby created a division of the Department of Mines to be known as the Oil and Gas Division, which division shall have power and authority to execute and carry out the provisions of this act in the manner provided herein. The division shall be under the immediate supervision of a Deputy Secretary of Mines for Oil and Gas, who shall be appointed by the Secretary of Mines with the approval of the Governor, and who shall be under the supervision and direction of the Secretary of Mines. The Deputy Secretary at the time of his appointment shall be a person informed on the subjects of coal mining and oil and gas production and storage, and shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the Secretary of Mines, with the approval of the Governor.

"(b) The Deputy Secretary shall serve on behalf of the Secretary of Mines as hearing officer at all hearings conducted by the Oil and Gas Division, or in his absence or inability to act such other qualified representative of the Oil and Gas Division as may be designated in writing by the Secretary or said Deputy Secretary of Mines.

"(c) The Secretary of Mines shall appoint and fix the compensation of such additional experts, engineers, geologists, inspectors, investigators, clerks and other employees as may be necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the division, provided that the Secretary of Mines shall so appoint at least one competent engineer or geologist with a degree in petroleum engineering or geology from a recognized institution of learning and at least one competent mining engineer with a degree in mining engineering from a recognized institution of learning, and each having at least four (4) years' practical experience in their respective fields. At all hearings under Article III, there shall be present in addition to the person conducting said hearing at least one of the aforesaid gas engineers or geologists and at least one of the said coal mining engineers who shall consult with the person conducting said hearing and make recommendations to him respecting the matter under consideration.

"(d) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this act, the division and its employees shall be subject to all the provisions of The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), its amendments and supplements, which apply generally to administrative departments and offices."

Amend Sec. 41, page 47, line 6, by striking out "41 Hearings and Appeals (a) The Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "42. Duties.—(a) The Oil and Gas Division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 47, line 10, by striking out "department" and inserting in lieu thereof "division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 47, lines 15 and 16, by striking out "Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "Oil and Gas Division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 47, line 20, by striking out "Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "Oil and Gas Division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 48, line 4, by striking out "department" and inserting in lieu thereof "division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 48, line 12, by striking out "Department of Mines" and inserting in lieu thereof "Oil and Gas Division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 48, line 13, by striking out "department" and inserting in lieu thereof "division."

Amend Sec. 41, page 48, lines 18, 19 and 20, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 41, page 49, lines 1 to 19, inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 41, page 50, lines 1 to 20, inclusive, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 41, page 51, lines 1 to 20, inclusive, by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof

"(b) It shall be the duty of the Oil and Gas Division to receive and keep in a safe place for public inspection any map, report, notice or other writing required to be filed with it pursuant to the provisions of this act. The division shall keep such indices of all such information as will enable any person using the same to readily locate such information either by the identity of the person who filed the same or by the person or persons affected by such filing or by the geographic location of the subject matter by political subdivision. The division shall also keep a docket for public inspection of all proceedings, in which shall be entered the dates of any notices, the names of all persons notified and their addresses, the dates of hearings and all orders, decrees, decisions, determinations, rulings or other actions issued or taken by the division, and such docket shall constitute the record of each and every proceeding before the division.

"(c) The Oil and Gas Division shall have authority to make any inspections and investigations which it shall deem necessary or desirable to perform its functions under this act.

"Section 43. Hearings and Appeals.—(a) All hearings before the division shall be public, and shall be conducted in accordance with such regulations and such provisions as to reasonable notice as the division may prescribe. All testimony taken at such hearings shall be under oath and shall be taken down by a reporter appointed by the division and the parties shall be entitled to be heard in person or by attorney, and to introduce evidence and to examine witnesses. The Oil and Gas Division may present at such hearing any evidence which is material to the matter under consideration and which has come to the division's attention in any investigation or inspection made pursuant to provisions of this section

"(b) After the conclusion of hearings, the division shall make and file its findings and order with its opinion, if any. A copy of such order shall be served by registered mail upon the person against whom it runs, or his attorney, and notice thereof shall be given to the other parties to the proceedings, or their attorney.

"(c) The division may, at any time after notice and after opportunity to be heard, pursuant to notice as provided in paragraph (g) of this section, rescind or amend any order made by it. Any order rescinding or amending a prior order shall, when served upon the person affected, and after notice thereof is given to the other parties to the proceedings, have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders; but no such order shall affect the legality or validity of any acts done by such person before receipt by such person of the notice of such change.

"(d) The division shall have the power in any part of the Commonwealth, to subpoena witnesses, to administer oaths, to examine witnesses, or to take such testimony, or compel the production of such books, records, maps, plats, papers, documents and other writings as it may deem necessary or proper in and pertinent to any proceedings, investigation or hearing held or had by it. In case of refusal to obey any subpoena issued to any person any court of common pleas within the jurisdiction where the hearing is held or within the jurisdiction where the person guilty of refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business shall on application of the Deputy Secretary or his authorized representative have power to enforce such subpoenas in contempt proceedings. The fees for serving a subpoena shall be the same as those paid sheriffs for similar services.

"(e) The division or any party to proceedings before the division may cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions.

"(f) Witnesses who are summoned before the division shall be paid the same fees as are paid to witnesses in the courts of record of general jurisdiction. Witnesses whose depositions are taken pursuant to the provisions of this act, and the officers taking the same, shall be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in such courts.

"(g) No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book document map plat or paper in any investigation or inquiry by, or hearing before, the division when ordered to do so, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, document, map, plat, paper or other writings required may tend to in-criminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to any forfeiture or penalty for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall have been compelled, under objection, to testify or produce documentary evidence, provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony.

"(h) Within ten (10) days after the service of any final order, decision, determination or ruling (or if a petition for rehearing or reconsideraiton is filed, then within ten (10) days after service of the order of the division refusing such petition or of the order following rehearing or reconsideration) any person aggrieved thereby who has a direct interest in such adjudication shall have the right to appeal therefrom. Such appeal shall be taken to the court of common pleas of the county wherein the land or other property right affected is located or to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. If at the time of filing of any such appeal the court is not then in session the president judge of said court or any two judges thereof shall order holding of court upon petition of a dissatisfied party for the purpose of hearing this appeal. Parties interested jointly, severally or otherwise in the same order, decision, determination or ruling may join in an appeal therefrom even though all of the interested parties do not join therein.

"(i) The procedure applicable to appeals from any final order, decision, determination or ruling shall be in accordance with the rules of civil procedure promulgated from time to time by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, except as otherwise provided herein. Any party who proceeded before the Oil and Gas Division under the terms of this act shall not be precluded from questioning the validity of said act in the appeal, but such party may not raise upon appeal any other question not raised before the Oil and Gas Division.

"(j) The court to which the appeal is taken shall hear the appeal without a jury on the record certified by the Oil and Gas Division. In any such appeal the findings of the Oil and Gas Division shall, if supported by substantial evidence and in the absence of fraud be conclusive and any such appeal shall be given precedence over all other matters, except matters of the same character. If the order of the Oil and Gas Division is not affirmed, the court may set aside or modify it, in whole, or in part, or may remand the proceeding to the Oil and Gas Division for further disposition in accordance with the order of the court.

"(k) The Oil and Gas Division, or any party affected by any decision of a court on an appeal from an order of the Oil and Gas Division may, within thirty (30) days of the filing of such decision, appeal to the Supreme Court. No appeal taken from the order of the Oil and Gas Division or from the said court shall act as a supersedeas to any such order during the pendency of any appeal therefrom."

Amend Sec. 42, page 52, line 1, by striking out "42" and inserting in lieu thereof "44."

Amend Sec. 43, page 52, line 19, by striking out "43" and inserting in lieu thereof "45."

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. KENT offered the following amendment:

Amend the Title, page 2, line 7 of the Title, by inserting after "duites": "providing for the creation and organization of a division of the Department of Mines to be known as the Oil and Gas Division, defining the powers and duties of such division, prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the division."

It was agreed to.

The Article was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERIMSSION TO INTERROGATE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to ascertain whether I may now interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Cambria that the Majority Leader does not appear to be present at the moment. Will the gentleman defer his request until we can locate him?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, could I interrogate the "deposed" Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the "deposed" Speaker permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker. I will be only too glad to be back here in my old place.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Philadelphia be privileged to inform the House as to the contemplated schedule of business for today. The contemplated schedule of business for tomorrow, the contemplated schedule of business for Thursday and the contemplated schedule of business, if any, for the coming week?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is rather a big job. As the Minority Leader knows, we agreed to come back into session after our caucus until approximately 5:30. Unfortunately the bill just considered has held us up. We then intended to recess for today and come back this evening sometime, probably around 7:30 or 8:00 o'clock. That would take care of today's schedule.

Tomorrow's schedule probably will be that we will come in somewhere around 12:00 or 1:00 o'clock, do what business we have in the afternoon and probably recess again and come back in the evening. I would presume that Thursday would probably be the same type of schedule. We will probably have an afternoon and an evening session.

As far as next week is concerned I am at this moment unable to inform the gentleman, although I understand that the Senate is trying to make arrangements whereby they would come in and be in session next week. They have conferred with me during the recess but I have not had time to bring it to the attention of our caucus or to the Minority Leader.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, a further inquiry. Is it the intention of the Majority leadership to make a special order for the so-called Chesterman package, and if so, when?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. So far as I know, Mr. Speaker, there is an intention that the "Chesterman package" be made a special order of business for sometime tomorrow, probably tomorrow evening.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is it contemplated to make a special order for Senate Bill 43, the Philadelphia Tax Bill, or will that come up in the regular order?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. As far as I know at this time, Mr. Speaker, that bill will be probably called up in its regular order. There has been no request, at least to me, that that bill come up as a special order of business.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one further inquiry. When will the House be informed as to the intentions for the coming week? We Members of the House cannot all be accommodated at Hershey as the Senate is being accommodated, and if we are to be here, we will insist upon having equally luxurious quarters. I would like to know just where the majority leadership intends to deposit these Members, if not in the hotels?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I certainly believe that anything under the dignity of Hershey would be under the dignity of this House to house our Members in. I understand that if the Members of the House would like to come back next week, Mr. Andrews and myself and any other group of men who would like to may go out to look at the officers' quarters at Indiantown Gap. I understand they are very luxurious—they have running hot and cold water. I do not think we could have maid service—but I do not think the gentleman needs maid service at this time . . .

Mr. ANDREWS. At this age, you mean!

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. And if the House does decide they would like to come back next week, I am quite sure we would be able to find accommodations that would be available, on a par and equal to Hershey, somewhere nearby Harrisburg.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for getting me out of the pulpit, too.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1296, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to execute on behalf of the Commonwealth a compact with certain other states for the effective prevention and control of forest fires and for mutual aid in fighting forest fires.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1300, entitled:

An Act to add section five to the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2772), entitled "An act to require certain records of oil and gas wells drilled in the Commonwealth, showing the location of the same and the geologic formations encountered therein, and to make copies of such records available upon payment of prescribed fees; and providing fees and penalties," by requiring all fees which have been collected or are collected in the future to be transmitted to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue and credited to the General Fund, and directing that appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act are made from the General Fund, upon proper budgetary request.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1323, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 535), entitled "An act providing for the redemption of real property purchased by political subdivisions at tax sales upon the payment of the amount charged against the same and costs by installment payments, and prescribing the procedure therefor," in so far as it relates to counties of the fourth class and cities, boroughs, townships and school districts situate in such counties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the task force reports of the Chesterman Committee should be made available to the Members of the House. This represents a great deal of detailed information on State Government.

This information can be made available to the public through their elected representatives.

Therefore I suggest that these task force reports be printed and two copies be made available to each Legislator.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 27, as follows:

An Act to amend section 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1340) entitled "An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties" by extending the time within which certain appeals may be taken and providing that such appeals may be taken to the court of common pleas of the county in which the aggrieved person resides

Section 1 Section 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1340) entitled "An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 135, Printer's No. 304,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 151, as follows:

An Act providing for the establishment of police pension funds or pension annuities in boroughs towns and townships and the regulation and maintenace thereof providing for continuance of existing funds or transfer thereof to funds herein established prescribing rights of beneficiaries and repealing certain acts

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Each borough town and township of this Commonwealth maintaining a police force shall establish by ordinance a police pension fund or pension annuity to be maintained by a equal and proportionate monthly charge against each member of the police force which shall not exceed annually three per centum of the pay of such member by annual appropriations made by the borough town or township by payments made by the State Treasurer to the municipal treasurer from the monies received from taxes paid upon premiums by foreign-casualty insurance companies for purposes of pension retirement or disability benefits for policemen and by gifts grants devices or bequests granted to the pension fund pursuant to section two of this act Such fund shall be under the direction of the governing body of the borough town or township or committed to the direction of such committee as may be designated by such governing body and applied under such regulations as such governing body may by ordinance prescribe for the benefit of such members of the police force as shall receive honorable discharge therefrom by reason of age or disability and the families of such as may be injured or killed in the service but such pension allowances as shall be made to those who are retired by reason of disability or age shall be in conformity with a uniform scale

The annual appropriation made by the borough town or township each year shall be sufficient when added to the contributions made by members of the police force during such year payments made by the State Treasurer to the municipal treasurer from the moneys received from taxes paid upon premiums by foreign-casualty insurance companies for purposes of pension retirement or disability benefits for policemen and income from investments trust funds or other lawful enterprises together with any other monies paid into such police pension fund according to existing law and practices to pay in full the pensions payable during such year

Section 2 It shall be competent for any borough town or township police pension fund to take by gift grant devise or bequest any money or property real personal or mixed in trust for the benefit of such fund and the care management investment and disposal of such trust funds or property shall be vested in the person or persons having the management of such police pension fund and the said trust funds shall be governed thereby subject to such directions not inconsistent therewith as the donors of such funds and property may prescribe

Section 3 Each ordinance establishing a police pension fund shall prescribe a minimum period of total service not less than twenty years and a minimum age of fifty years after which members of the force may be retired from active duty and such members as are retired shall be subject to service from time to time as a police reserve until unfitted for such service when they may be finally discharged by reason of age or disability

Section 4 Any member of the police force employed by a borough town or township who has been a regularly appointed employe of any such political subdivision for a period of at least six months and who thereafter shall heretofore or hereafter be inducted into the military service of the United States in time of war or national emergency so proclaimed by the President of the United States shall have credited to his employment record for pension or retirement benefits all of the time spent by him in such military service during the continuance of such war or national emergency if such person returns or has heretofore returned to his employment within six months after his separation from the service

Section 5 Payments made under the provisions of this act shall not be a charge on any other fund in the treasury of any borough town or township or under its control save the police pension fund herein provided for The basis of the apportionment of the pension shall be determined by the rate of the monthly pay of the member at the date of death honorable discharge or retirement and shall not in any case be less than one-half the highest pay of such member during any period of twelve months within the last sixty months of employment computed at such monthly rate

Section 6 (a) Where there is an existing pension fund managed by a private organization or association for the members of the police force in any borough town or township on the effective date of this act such fund shall continue as constituted only upon the following terms and conditions

(1) The amount paid in pensions to each beneficiary under the established fund shall be in excess of any amount so payable from the fund established pursuant to this act and

(2) If the borough town or township in which such an established fund exists undertakes to annually appropriate sufficient monies to compensate the existing fund for any deficit in the amount of money needed to pay pension obligations during any calendar year and

(3) If not over two-thirds of the beneficiaries and dues-paying membership of the existing organization or association vote to transfer its funds into a pension fund established by a borough town or township pursuant to this act

(b) In any instance where an existing fund is transferred to a fund established by a political subdivision pursuant to the provisions of this act all the assets and liabilities of such existing fund shall be so transferred Such transfer may be made by the transfer of securities After such transfer the borough town or township police pension fund shall assume the liability of continuing the payment of pensions to members of the police force retired prior to such transfer in accordance with the laws and regulations under which such members were retired

Section 7 No person participating in a police pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act and becoming entitled to receive a benefit therefrom shall be deprived of his right to an equal and proportionate share therein upon the basis upon which he first became entitled thereto

Section 8 Any member of a police force of a borough town or township who for any reason whatsoever shall be ineligible to receive a pension after having contributed any charges to a police pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act or to a police pension fund existing on the effective date of this act supplanted by a police pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be entitled to a refund of all such monies paid by him into such funds immediately upon discontainuance of his employment with the police force

Section 9 The pension payments herein provided for shall not be subject to attachment execution levy garnishment or other legal process and shall be payable only to the beneficiary designated by this act and shall not be subject to assignment or transfer

Section 10 Subject to the provisions of section 6 of this act the following acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed as particularly set forth

Each appointed member of the board shall receive actual traveling expenses and per diem compensation at the rate of $25.00 a day for time actually devoted to the business of the board

* * * * *

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "osteopathy" and one doctor of optometry.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 448), page 4, line 3, by striking out "eleven" and inserting in lieu thereof "twelve."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 448), page 4, line 7, by inserting after "Pennsylvania" one a doctor of optometry licensed to practice optometry in Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I am sure everybody understands this bill. It is very brief and all that it apparently does is to include an osteopath on the Advisory Board.

Everyone of you have received information from the Medical Society relative to this measure and this appointment of an osteopath on the Advisory Board. We in the last legislative Session mandated the Department of Health and set up regulations for a sweeping organization of the entire health department.

Along with that is a bill evidently in the process of third reading now which coordinates the various departments, health, welfare and others. The work of this department and this board is extremely important. At the present time there are several members comprising this board. There are medical men, there are pharmacists, thre are several laymen.

If we were to represent or have represented on this board all the various branches of the healing arts, we would probably have on this board maybe 25 different groups who are already present on that board.

In all fairness to the optometrist and the medical profession, the attempt was made to amend the bill and have them inserted on this board.

Nurses have their own board and have an opportunity and have the right probably to be on this board. Others of the profession should probably have the right in all fairness to be on this board which has to do with your health, my health and the health of your children and that of the state.

This board now is hamstrung. I do not want to present the fact that if you place an osteopath on the board, he is going to upset the board in any great degree, but I do think if we let the board alone and not begin to add and add to this board, we will get better functioning in our Health Department, better advice, as they are an advisory board. Since health, as you know, depends mostly on medical men and is represented by four or five medical men, I am sure that everyone in here knows that there is a difference beteen the healing branches and the healing arts, wherein osteopaths have an idea of cure, chiropractors, and others in the healing profession. Nobody is degrading in any manner a profession that is recognized like osteopathy.

This board has been set up by a mandate of your own. To add to this board is not going to make it function any better. If it is just an act to have a group recognized, I think in all fairness then, and I would go along with you, let us put everybody in the various respective professions on that board and make a great big board out of the thing and represent every branch of the healing art plus laymen and others.

I think everyone should think seriously. This is not a party measure; this is a health measure. You have been informed by the medical group, with due respect to the osteopaths, with due respect to all the other professions, I honestly think that the best we could do here is to vote down this bill and leave this advisory board as it is to function properly for your health and my health in this state.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. Well in this case, let's be fair.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he is for this bill or against the bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I am against this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I demand that we be fair. I spoke for two minutes and said nothing, but I am against this bill.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I do not want the membership to think that I sponsor all osteopathic measures just because they are handed to me. I would like the membership to know that my home at Grove City, that is G-r-o-v-e; not G-r-a-ve. Although it is very dead, it is still called Grove City and it is practically the home of osteopathy in Pennsylvania. There have been osteopaths there since 1906.

I had an appendectomy in that hospital in Grove City. My only child was born there. I was hospitalized there with a skull fracture and they buy a great deal of printing from me.

I want you to know that this is an advisory council. It is not a law-making body. It is merely an advisory council. It is presided over by the Secretary of Health who is a medical doctor. It has five medical doctors on the Board. It has one pharmacist, one sanitary engineer, two laymen. Now there are six medical doctors represented on this board. How can one poor little lonely osteopath possibly upset the routine that they have laid out for themselves? I cannot agree with the gentleman from Allegheny at all.

At the last Session we amended the laws of the state so that osteopaths could commit mental cases to mental hospitals. Osteopaths can now conduct school examinations. As a matter of fact, in the gentleman's own words, I think it was two years ago he said, and I quote—this is from the Legislative Journal, Volume 31, No. 29, page 1451:

> The osteopaths today have a marvelous school. They are broadened. They have gone into surgery. They are respected and have an admirable position in medicine in this state of ours.

I do not think there should be this eternal controversy between the medical profession and the osteopaths. If you will recall back some years ago, the allopaths and the homeopaths had the same trouble. They denounced each other and did not speak, but they finally go together. Now both these professions have their fields of endeavor; both are endeavoring to help the people of this Commonwealth, to cure them, to return them to health. I do not see why there should be this eternal quibbling. I think they should get together and recognize that both professions have their place in this field.

I ask the membership to vote for the bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I realize that that quote has been used on several occasions. I said that before. say it again. But as I have tried to point out, I do not care to discredit any profession. If any of you sitting on this side or that side were to read the definition of an osteopath and were to check into the first laws passed, you would find that the osteopath and the chiropractor in 1911 were from the same school, and then after that time the Legislature, which did the same thing for medicos, blanketed everybody in.

Their theory has been disregarded entirely. They are today, as I said before in the remarks you read, gradually and progressively—like you stated the homeopaths were a group—they have been not absorbed, but they have grouped themselves again with the medical profession because of continually raising their standards.

With the osteopaths, I tell you today that within a few years when the older men who call themselves osteopaths do away with that cloak, you will find that they will bring the standards up probably to where they will be called medical doctors, not probably through any legislative process, but through schooling and teaching.

When they get to a point where they are on a par with your medical men there will be no debate. This has been no inference as to their ability.

I hope I have made myself clear. There is no bone to pick. There is no debate between the medical profession and the profession of osteopathy.

I voted for the optometry amendment. I will vote for a nurses' amendment. I will vote for every amendment to recognize every group on this board if you think it will function better. My argument is that the board you have mandated today will do better work in advising your Health Department than by the addition of more and more and more to recognize their ability and place upon this board.

Mr. RAGOT. Mr. Speaker, let me state for Dr. Sarraf and his profession, the medical profession, the reasons I am going to vote for the bill.

When my father was approximately fifty years of age, he came down with double pneumonia and pleurisy. For thirty years he had a rheumatic heart and for that reason was unable to take internal medicine which would help his pleurisy and pneumonia. He had an osteopath who took care of him practically day and night, worked on him. He saved his life and he lived 22 years after that. I cannot possibly turn down the osteopaths.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Sarraf.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, is there a dentist on this board?

Mr. SARRAF. No, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, a dentist has something to do with the healing arts, has he not?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, there is no doubt about that.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, do they have a veterinarian on this board?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, no.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, they do not. Do they have a plumber on this board.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I think they ought to have one on it. The answer is no. They have a sanitary engineer.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, the answer is no. You will agree that a plumber does have something to do with the health and welfare of the citizens and helps with the sanitary conditions?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, yes if you use it as a terra cotta pipe or whatever you call it, or as a concrete pipe.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, do they have a chiropodist on this board?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, no.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, do they have a manicurist?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, the sanitary inspector might come under that, I do not know.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that none of these other professions are represented on this board, and if the gentleman who has this bill does not agree to taking all these representatives of the healing profession and all the people who have to do with the health and welfare of this Commonwealth, if he does not want all those people on the board, I see no reason to put an osteopath on the board. Therefore, I will suggest that we either put everybody on it or vote this bill down.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I know that my remarks are going to cause some red faces here. I believe the gentleman from Westmoreland, Doctor Maxwell—is he a dentist? Well, there is a dentist on the board, much to the amazement of those two gentleman. There is a dentist on the board.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the gentleman from Mercer?

Mr. SARRAF. If the gentleman will yield, I will gladly answer that last remark.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mercer yield to the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. YOUNG. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. There is a dentist on the board, but repeating what I said before, and leaving the hiliarity out, this is a serious bill. I stated before—and I am only going to repeat, and then I am through—this Advisory Board has been chosen by you, designated and given mandated authority to operate.

If you were to put a good recognized osteopath, a good professional man, with due respect to his ability on the board, that would be ideal, and if you put more on, that would be ideal if you think that would make this board function for betterment in advising your Health Department of our state.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I promised the gentleman from Philadelphia, Doctor Kolankiewicz, that I would not rise in opposition to his amendment, which I did not. However, I have put no optometrists on the board, or any of the other recognized professions. I do believe they should come in with a separate bill and let the membership judge the measure on their own merits and not clutter up the bill with all of the recognized professions. Let them come in one at a time. That is all I have to say.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I disagree with the gentleman's saying that optometry should introduce a separate bill. I believe that in this House whenever a bill is introduced and we know that some other group can attach themselves to that bill, like optometry, which is a recognized profession in our state throughout the Commonwealth—it has been recognized by all our agencies in our Commonwealth—and we know it is recognized by better vision institutes throughout the country, and that 70 percent of the examinations performed are by optometrists.

We know that the Department of Public Assistance accepts certificates and certifications as to blind pensions and we also know that the Motor Vehicle Department depends on the visual acuity and accepts certificates as to the eyes of drivers who are permitted to take a driver's permit.

We also know that the Army and Navy, the armed forces and the Air Force accept and confer commissions upon optometrists. I know that most of you are being taken care of by optometrists. Why you vote this amendment down is beyond me. I think it is no more than fair that when any Member of the House sees a group of people where he can better a Committee or an Advisory Board, he is certainly entitled to attach an amendment to that bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

Whereupon, A division was had, eighty Members voting in the affirmative and ninety-one in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HALL asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker ——

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. LOVETT. To request that the bills now being acted upon—if we are going into a Committee meeting, I do not think we should act on these bills.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, if there are any controversial bills, the Chair will gladly pass them over until the Committee returns.

Mr. LOVETT. On whose judgment are they controversial?

The SPEAKER. On any Members. I will trust the gentleman from Westmoreland.

Mr. LOVETT. I will accept the Chair's judgment.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 162, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 738, Printer's No. 314,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 772 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L.

30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by changing the conditions under which education and training of handicapped children may be secured outside the public schools of the district and the basis for Commonwealth reimbursements on account of courses for such children

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1372 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial school amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1372 Special Classes or Schools or Other Provision for Education The county or district superintendent of schools shall submit to the board or boards of school directors plans for establishing and maintaining special classes in the public schools or special public schools for the proper education and training of all such children reported to him as fit subjects for special education and training Except as herein otherwise provided it shall be the duty of the board of directors of any district having such children to provide and maintain or to jointly provide and maintain with neighboring districts such special classes or schools The State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall superintend the organization of such special classes and such other arrangements for special education and shall enforce the provisions of this act relating thereto If it is not feasible to form a special class [with a minimum attendance of ten (10) children] in any district or [if for any other reason it is not feasible] to provide such education for any such child in the public schools of the district the board of school directors of the district shall [except as herein otherwise provided unless approved provision for the education of such child is made by the parents or guardian] secure such proper education and training outside the public schools of the district or in special institutions or by providing for teaching the child in his home in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Department of Public Instruction on terms and conditions not inconsistent with the terms of this act or of any other act then in force applicable to such children

Section 2 Section 2509 of said act as amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (P. L. 1925) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2509 Payments on Account of Courses for Handicapped Children Every school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth for [every] the school term 1953-54 the sum of twenty dollars ($20) per pupil in average daily membership in a course or courses for mentally handicapped children and the sum of thirty dollars ($30) per pupil in average daily membership in a course or courses for physically handicapped children approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction Beginning with the school term of 1954-1955 and for every school term thereafter every school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth an amount to be determined by multiplying the average daily membership in a course or courses for mentally or physically handicapped children (1) at the elementary level by an amount determined by substracting the "instruction cost per elementary pupil" as defined in Section 2561 of this act from the "instruction cost per special class pupil" as hereinafter defined for the preceeding school term (2) at the secondary level by an amount determined by subtracting the "instruction cost per high school pupil" as defined in Section 2561 of this act from the "instruction cost per special class pupil" as hereinafter defined for the preceding school term

To find the "instruction cost per special class pupil" add (1) salaries of directors and supervisors of special education public school psychologists principals of special schools and assistants teachers of approved special classes for physically and mentally handicapped children clerks and assistants employed in the district's program for special education (2) the district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of directors and supervisors of special education public school psychologists principals of special schools and assistants teachers of approved special classes for physically and mentally handicapped children clerks and assistants employed in the district's program for special education (3) the cost of textbooks and supplies of the second class used in the district's special education classes or schools Divide the sum of (1) (2) and (3) by the total number of pupils in average daily membership in the district's approved special classes for physically and mentally handicapped children The quotient so obtained shall be the "instruction cost per special class pupil"

The average daily membership of speech correction classes shall be calculated by multiplying (1) the average number of pupils in speech correction classes per week by (2) the number of periods per week that speech correction is provided for the individual pupil by (3) the number of minutes per period in speech correction class Divide the products of (1) (2) and (3) by the total number of minutes spent in all classes weekly by the average pupil The quotient thus obtained will be the "average daily membership for pupils in speech correction classes"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

(f) It shall be unlawful to operate any vehicle except one designed or used for living quarters on any public highway or street in this Commonwealth unless such vehicle be equipped with safety glass whenever the glass used in the doors windows or windshields is replaced after the effective date of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. I understand there is some objection to this bill. I would like to ask some Member who opposes this bill to inform me as to the reasons why there is opposition.

The SPEAKER. Is there any opposition that would care to inform the Minority Leader as to his opposition?

Mr. ANDREWS. The reason I asked was that one organization listed this bill as a bill to which it was opposed, and I am endeavoring to ascertain the reasons for the opposition.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, the opposition to this bill is strictly along the lines of a safety measure. The law requires trailers and semi-trailers to be equipped with safety glass as a protection to passengers and drivers in these vehicles. The safety glass, of course, will not shatter, will not fly, and when we remove a reasonable safety restriction of this sort we set up a hazard to passengers in trailers and to anyone who may be in that vehicle and is subjected to the possible danger of flying glass. I think the law as it stands now is a reasonable measure and should not be changed by this deletion.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, there are many reasons why, in case of an accident on a highway with one of these trailers, people are going to be hurt by flying glass regardless of whether there is anyone in the trailer or not in the trailer. If there is an accident, anyone involved in the accident may be hurt. I think it is a bad bill.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, to answer Mr. Andrews, the only opposition to this bill that I had known of until this particular moment was from two manufacturers of safety glass in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

However, I would like to explain this bill. Mr. Wescott and I went over it very thoroughly with the Department of Revenue. There is a provision in the motor code to have these trailers equipped with safety glass. In the policy book of the Department of Revenue, they do not carry out this provision, due to the fact that there are very very few trailers built that are equipped with safety glass.

There are two trailers built I understand that have safety glass, and some poor unfortunate person who does not have enough money to buy a home purchases one of these trailers, not knowing that the safety glass is not in it and not knowing of the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code, lives in it for a year, or two years or three years, and then suddenly they change positions and they move this trailer from one trailer camp to another. The law now reads that when they leave the trailer camp they must go to the first inspection station available and have this trailer inspected, which they do.

Now the policy book on the Department of Revenue says that they should not bother with this particular glass issue and let it ride, but there have been cases where some guy cracked down, wants to make some money and he insists that they follow the code to the "T" and this unfortunate person has to expend $150 or $200 to put safety glass in his trailer before he can move it to another position.

It is a very rare occasion when anyone rides in these trailers, and the traffic records show that we have had very little trouble with it. The only thing we are interested in and the Department of Revenue went along with it is that we want to clarify it so that these unfortunate people do not wake up suddenly and find themselves over a barrel to the tune of about $200.

I think it is a good bill, and it will not hurt anyone except the manufacturers of safety glass. Of course those people want safety glass in everything including your own home. There is no difference between one of these trailers and your own home, and you can be hurt by flying glass in your own home.

I think it is a good bill, I think it is a clarification that is going to take a lot of people off the hook.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I submit to the House that because the Department of Revenue fails to enforce a measure enacted by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania is no reason for us to withdraw the measure.

As far as the safety provisions for living quarters on wheels or whatever you want to call them—these trailers that are involved in this bill—are concerned, the people within and without those trailers are entitled to the same protection, that people within automobiles and trucks are entitled to.

As far as Mr. Hocker's statement as to the cost of equipping a trailer with safety glass, I can assure the gentleman that there is no possible chance of a $200 bill for equipping a trailer with safety glass.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to differ with my good friend Mr. Bolton. Most of the trailers on the road today are equipped with picture windows in the front of the vehicle and they have quite a number of windows in them.

I beg to differ with the gentleman and I thought I was being very lenient when I named a figure of $200, because I do not believe you could get away with that.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker. Let us be fair and no lawyer's questions.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not have lawyer's questions. May I ask the gentleman what the price of one of these trailers is?

Mr. HOCKER. They vary from $3,400 to $6,000 or more.

Mr. LOVETT. Are you talking about the poor men's trailers or the rich men's trailers?

Mr. HOCKER. Well when you take into consideration the cost of a house today, $18,000 or $20,000, I say it is a poor man's job, with the exception of my colleague.

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman does not run his home up and down the highway does he?

Mr. HOCKER. No, not if I can help it. I have often felt like it.

Mr. LOVETT. Does not the gentleman think that for the safety of the general public traveling on the highway with these trailers with these—what kind of windows did you call those in the front?

Mr. HOCKER. They are picture windows.

Mr. LOVETT. Don't you think they might cut a man's head off pretty quick if he got into an accident with one of those?

Mr. HOCKER. Well, by the same token the car is in front of the trailer being towed and I think you would have a tough time getting up over that car into the picture window.

Mr. LOVETT. May I ask the gentleman are there any picture windows in the back?

Mr. HOCKER. No, not in the back. That is for you to sleep.

Mr. LOVETT. Are there any on the sides?

Mr. HOCKER. In some instances, yes.

Mr. LOVETT. Well a fellow might sideswipe one.

Mr. HOCKER. That is entirely possible.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I still think that it is a bad piece of legislation. If one life was lost due to the fact that there was no safety glass I think that in itself is enough to defeat the bill.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I do not think we have to go very much further than the title of this bill. It says "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of the highway."

I think on the basis of that title alone, any attempt to eliminate the provision which requires safety glass in trailers and semi-trailers, would be a detriment to the legislation itself, to the bill which this tries to amend, as well as to the pubic safety of the peope who sit in these trailers and operate them, and as well as all the users of the highways. You can envision somebody in another automobie being injured by flying glass—you can envision a pedestrian on the highway or city street, rural area likewise being injured by this flying glass.

I likewise concur that this is a bad piece of legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 946, as follows:

An Act to amend clause (e) of and to add clause (e.1) to Section 401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" by providing for the care of seniles on leave of absence from State mental hospitals and eliminating certain obsolete provisions

Section 1 Clause (e) of Section 401 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto ablishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended and said section is also amended by adding after said clause a new clause to read as follows

Section 401 Powers and Duties as to Care of Dependents and Children The local authorities shall have the power and it shall be their duty with funds of the institution district or of the city according to rules regulations and standards established by the State Department of Welfare

* * * * *

(e) To pay the cost or part of the cost of the care and maintenance of mental and other patients confined in institutions State mental hospitals and other State institutions in the same manner and to the same extent as provided by law in the case of poor districts and to assume the obligations imposed by law on poor districts in respect to such care and maintenance [In like manner the Commonwealth shall be liable to institution districts maintaining institutions for mental patients for payment of part of the cost of the care and maintenance of such mental patients in the same manner as provided by law in respect to the liability of the Commonwealth to poor districts]

(e.1) To accept and care for seniles on leave of absence from State mental hospitals

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, those of us who are opposed to this bill are opposed to it on the ground that it is an attempt to pass back from the state to the local institution district the cost of the care of the seniles.

In the 1949 Session, I believe it was under Governor Duff, the state commenced a new era in its policy toward the care of those who are mentally ill. The state at that time took upon itself the responsibility for this care. We feel that the passing of this bill is a step backward along that line. We feel that the care of the senile and the mentally ill is a responsibility of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a Commonwealth, not the responsibility of the individual institution districts.

We, therefore, ask you from all counties who will be shouldered with the responsibility of taking back from the state institutions those whom the state institutions feel are senile and can be returned to your own institution districts, the responsibility for the care of these people.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think we should be given the courtesy of a report from the sponsors of this bill concerning any information that may have been available as to the costs that the passage of this bill might cause the counties to incur.

Mrs. MARKLEY. Mr. Speaker, relative to this bill there will probably be no net savings to the Commonwealth for a number of years until the county homes are uniformly converted to care for the aged and their special problems.

However, the initial impact of this bill would be a great turnover of senile patients into state mental hospitals so that the needs of the community would be met more adequately.

In other words, an estimated 800 beds would become available for other patients or reduce overcrowding as the seniles were absorbed in county homes. We do not have the exact costs.

In other words the advantage of this bill would be to unburden the state mental hospitals of infirm elderly people who are no longer mentally upset. These people who are subject to the usual infirmities of old age require nursing care which cannot be satisfactorily rendered to them in their homes due to changing conditions and for whom their is no facility for public nursing care.

This legislation is a step in the right direction toward the inevitable designation of public responsibility for indigent aged persons whose infirmities are of normal sequence and do not include bona fide mental illness.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the lady.

The bill in question seems to presume that there is available space for additional patients in the county institutions. The county institution in my county is already overcrowded with patients who are by reason of their mental condition entitled to care in a state institution. There are no additional beds created by simply trading patients from one institution to another; you do not create any more beds.

At the present time a state institution only takes the patient from a county institution, if the county institution accepts a patient from the state institution. Tha process is already going on. But for the state institutions to release all of the senile patients in their custody, that might not be absolutely required at the state institution, for the state to turn them loose and send them back, there is no place for them.

It does not seem to me that this bill digs us out in any way from the difficulties and as a matter of fact it complicates our problem. I think the bill requires more thought than we are prepared to give it at the present time. I would suggest that it go over until we think more about it.

However if they want to bring it to a vote tonight it is quite all right with me.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire the sponsor to answer the question whether she desires the bill to be passed over?

Mr. ANDREWS. Whether she desires to press for a vote tonight or would prefer to have it go over.

The SPEAKER. Does the lady from Lehigh desire the bill to be voted on tonight or be passed over?

Mr. MARKLEY. I yield to the Majority Leader, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say that this bill was given to us by the Department, and I think it was prepared in all good faith as Mrs. Markley has stated.

I think there is quite a lot of merit in what the Minority Leader has said about the question whether counties presently have facilities to accept these senile patients. It might be that an amendment should be inserted that would say that counties must take them if they have facilities available.

I think we could well pass it over to make that further study.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is certainly an example of the wild and reckless way in which the Department of Welfare has been handling many of its problems.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision that this bill was agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 946, Printer's No. 287

was passed over at the request of Mr. Johnson.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1041, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by providing additional compensation for cooperating teachers supervising student teachers to be paid by the teacher education institution in which the student teacher is enrolled

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto"

* * * * * is hereby amended by adding after section 1144.1 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 1144.2 Supervision of student teachers Cooperating teachers who are full-time employes of a school district assisting with the supervision of student teachers and have the following minimum qualifications a baccalaureate degree and at least three years, experience as a public school teacher or a standard certificate and at least ten years of such experience shall be paid a minimum annual additional compensation of fifty ($50) dollars for each student teacher under his or her supervision who is enrolled in an approved teacher education institution other than a State Teachers College to secure twelve semester hours of student teaching credit the compensation shall be paid by the Teacher Education Institution in which the student teacher is enrolled

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, if I may, either one of the sponsors.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would like to have the gentleman explain just what this bill does?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Under the State Teachers colleges salary bill the cooperative supervisors or cooperative teachers are paid a minimum of $50 per student teacher per semester. You see the State Teachers colleges are not able to hire a large enough faculty to provide training for their student teachers. So they send their seniors who are doing their student teaching out into the public school system, and the State Teachers colleges select teachers to train their student teachers.

Those are the provisions under the State Teachers College Salary Act. They must pay now the $50 minimum salary. Under this bill the other colleges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will also have to pay this $50 minimum salary.

We have cases in Pennsylvania today where in one school system a state teachers college supervisor will be getting $50 for training a student teacher.

A teacher in that same system may be training a student teacher from a liberal arts college and not receive any compensation. This requires all colleges to pay the minimum of $50 per student teacher per semester.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Am I to understand then that the other colleges, if they have a hundred student teachers, will have to pay $50 for each one of those teachers who are shipped out to the public schools?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Yes, that is correct.

Mr. LOPRESTI. This would place an additional burden then for each pupil on these colleges.

Mr. BUCHANAN. A student teacher in a State Teachers College will practice for one semester at a cost of $50 to train that student for one whole semester. I think that is pretty cheap instruction. These liberal arts schools will now have to pay that $50. Some of these schools are charging tuition and sending out their student teachers to the public schools and are not paid anything for the instruction of those student teachers.

Mr. LOPRESTI. The state teachers colleges, where do they get the funds which they pay to the public school system?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well that is from taxes. Now that is already—

Mr. LOPRESTI. They get that from taxes, is that right?

Mr. BUCHANAN. That is in this bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. The colleges do not get it from taxes do they, the other colleges?

Mr. BUCHANAN. The other colleges would not.

Mr. LOPRESTI. In other words they would either have to raise their tuition or come in to the state for additional appropriations to meet the additional costs that this bill is going to place on them.

Mr. BUCHANAN. They would have to provide the funds.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I think this is one service that the public school teachers of this Commonwealth should be well able to render to the colleges of this Commonwealth.

When a student teacher, a trainee comes in, he takes over that class, and all the teacher supervisor has to do is to see that this teacher properly handles the class and properly conducts herself.

That teacher is practically relieved of the responsibility of teaching the class himself or herself. I believe at this stage of the game it is unwise to pass on to the colleges of Pennsylvania, and eventually on to the public, either by increased tuitions that the students will have to pay or by increased appropriations, which I am certain a number of these colleges are going to have to come to the State of Pennsylvania.

I do not think it is too much to ask a public school teacher to sit by and supervise a young person who is learning to teach school. I personally believe that this bill is unnecessary, it is one form of expense that we should not incur and I believe that the bill should be voted down.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill will not cost the taxpayers one cent. It will put all supervisors on the same level, regardless of whether they are supervising for a State Teachers college or any other college. Now I was led to believed by the remark that we just heard that when a student teacher goes into a school, the supervisor does not have anything to do. Well, the supervisor has a tremendous responsibility. He must observe that student teacher; he has to demonstrate lessons; he has to have conferences with his student teachers, and also he must teach a three-hour course in curriculum and materials, which is a college course. That is in addition to his public school schedule. So, certainly the teacher should be compensated for the services which he renders, the same as the member of any other profession.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would like to again interrogate the gentleman from Indiana.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCHANAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Would this additional duty require any additional time on the part of the supervising teacher other than the regular school hours?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Oh, yes, as far as the teaching profession, the average teacher has to spend hours after the school has left out.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I mean in training or supervising this particular student teacher, is the teacher required to take any additional time other than school hours to train the student teachers?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well, he must make plans, he must make his lesson plans, and it takes a lot of study. Yes, the average supervisor has to spend extra time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. You say that he does have to spend time other than the regular school hours in the particular training of the student teacher.

Mr. BUCHANAN. What do you mean by the particular training?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Well, you have a student training to be a teacher. Does that particular duty require extra time beyond the regular school hours?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Yes, it does. Now, for example, if you are going to teach curriculum and materials for a three-hour course, you have to prepare those lessons. If you were going to prepare observation lessons, that takes a lot of preparation.

Mr. LOPRESTI. And all the time the student teacher is being supervised, the teacher gets the regular salary agreed to and paid by the School Board?

Mr. BUCHANAN. That is correct.

Mr. LOPRESTI. This is an additional fee?

Mr. BUCHANAN. That is right.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Now, how long does a period of training last?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well, in a big Teachers College a student must teach—pardon me, we will leave out the Teachers Colleges because they are already being paid—but about the student trainee who comes from one of the other colleges, the time varies. Some of the schools require a semester, some require nine weeks.

Mr. LOPRESTI. How many hours?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Well, if it is a semester, it would be fifteen semester-hours credit, that is, 12 semester-hours for student teaching and three for curriculum and materials If it was nine weeks, it would be either six or nine hours.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Then for six or nine hours they would receive $50 compensation?

Mr. BUCHANAN. Or, if it was a half-semester, it would be $25. This is $50 for a full semester's work.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1137, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 46) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" by requiring one year of approved hospital internship as an additional requirement for licensure exempting interns from the provisions of the act and requiring interns to register with the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners authorizing issuance of temporary certificates to practice osteopathy while in residency training in osteopathic hospitals in Pennsylvania

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 8 of the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 46) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of osteopathy in the State of Pennsylvania to provide for the establishment of a State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to define the powers and duties of said Board of Osteopathic Examiners to provide for the examining and licensing of osteopaths in this State and to provide penalties for the violation of this act" as last amended by the act approved the seventeenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 47) is hereby further amended to read as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, on this bill both the medical profession and the osteopathic profession are in accord. It is evidently a bill confined to osteopathic training, and they want to encourage more training in their schooling before graduation. Of course, we are glad that they do want to raise their standards, we agree with them, and we are going along one hundred percent with the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since this House has apparently lost its terminal facilities, at what time do they bring in the cots and the lunch?

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes to complete the business of the House as soon as possible. The Chair would say probably in fifteen or twenty minutes.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1254, Printer's No. 300

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1257, as follows:

An Act providing for compliance with Federal law and the approval of certain institutions providing for inspections of such institutions conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Welfare and imposing penalties

Whereas the Federal Government by amendment to the Social Security Act (Public Law 734 81st Congress) has provided that if State plans for old age assistance aid to the blind and aid to the permanently and totally disabled include payments to individuals in private or public institutions State authorities shall be responsible for establishing and maintaining standards for such institutions effective as of the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

Section 1 The purpose of this act is to comply with Federal law and regulations particularly the Social Security amendments of one thousand nine hundred fifty and to promote the public health safety and welfare by providing for the establishment enforcement and application of standards for the safe and adequate care of individuals in institutions herein defined

It is not the purpose of this act to authorize the duplication of the work of any State department heretofore now or hereafter charged with responsibilities and authority with reference to standards herein authorized To prevent such duplication the Department of Welfare may call upon any other department board or commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to cooperate with it in the performance of its duties and responsibilities hereunder

Section 2 Definition As used in this act

"Institution" shall mean an establishment which furnishes (in single or multiple facilities) food and shelter to three or more persons unrelated to the proprietor and which provides some care or service which meet some need beyond the basic provisions of food shelter and laundry

"Institution" shall include but not be limited to the following homes for the aged and infirm nursing homes convalescent homes rehabilitation centers providing living-in facilties boarding homes for adults which provide personal care and services hospitals and infirmaries providing living-in arrangements

Section 3 Standards The Department of Welfare shall establish standards for the safe and adequate care of individuals not inconsistent with the laws of this Commonwealth and the rules and regulations of the various departments of the Commonwealth for all such institutions within this Commonwealth which standards shall make adequate and proper provisions for (a) fire protection (b) water supply and sewage disposal (c) sanitation (d) lighting and heating (e) ventilation (f) safety (g) equipment (h) bed space (i) keeping of records of identification of residents in the institution and their next of kin of medical care provided and all pertinent admission and discharge data and (j) humane care

In the establishment amendment or revocation of standards the Department of Welfare shall confer with an advisory committee of not less than seven or more than eleven persons to be appointed by the Secretary of Welfare with the consent of the Governor from representatives of recognized agencies and religious organizations conducting institutions and from the public at large The Secretary of Welfare or someone designated by him shall be the chairman of the advisory committee

Section 4 Inspection (a) The Department of Welfare shall be responsible for the maintenance of the standards herein provided and for that purpose the Department of Welfare or its duly authorized representatives shall have free and full access to the premises and records mentioned in Section 3 above of any such institution and full opportunity to interrogate or interview any officer employe or resident thereof

The Department of Welfare shall also be responsible for the coordination and cooperation in the application of these standards where any other department board or commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may be charged either by law or by regulation with the enforcement of any standards herein authorized and where any department board or commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is charged with responsibilities relative to the enforcement of standards the Department of Welfare may ask for and such other department board or commission shall furnish it with the proper reports and information in order that the Department of Welfare may be satisfied that the standards are being observed

When the Department of Welfare calls to the attention of any other department board or commission of the State government any failure to comply with the standards herein set forth such other department board or commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall undertake the enforcement of the standards within their responsibility

(b) The Department of Welfare shall visit and inspect such institutions at least annually

Section 5 Violations Whenever the Department of Welfare shall upon inspection investigation or complaint find any violation in any institution of rules or regulations adopted by the department or any failure to establish provide or maintain standards and facilities required by this act or by the department it shall give immediate written notice thereof to the officer or officers charged by law with or in any way having or exercising the control government or management of such institution to correct the said objectionable condition in the manner and within the time specified by the department whereupon it shall be the duty of such officer or officers to comply with the direction of the department If such officer or officers fail to comply with such direction the department may request the Department of Justice to institute appropriate legal proceedings to enforce compliance therewith and the department may withhold any State money available for such institution until such officer or officers comply with such direction

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall become effective July 1 1953

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill should pass. Unless it becomes a law by the end of the month, the state will lose Federal funds at the rate of $250,000 a month. There are no objections to the bill in its present form upon the part of any of the organizations that might be expected to object to a bill supervising and inspecting the subjects of the bill.

I would suggest that the House pass the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1359, entitled:

An Act to add clause (i) to section one thousand eight hundred three of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled, "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the duties and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by authorizing the Department of Forests and Waters to grant certain privileges relative to land under its jurisdiction.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, is this the bill that refers to the storage of gas under state forest lands?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Hall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, what does this bill do?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Clearfield, this is a permissive bill. It allows or permits the Secretary of Forests and Waters to lease ground owned by the state for the storage of gas under such terms as the Secretary may deem to the advantage of the Commonwealth. That is the essence of the bill. It is a permissive bill.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the Secretary of the Commonwealth would have the regulatory features of any . . .

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, it has nothing to do with the regulatory features of storage. He may lease any land owned by the state for the storage of gas. This has nothing to do with the so-called Kent controversy. There should be no heat engendered so far as that is concerned.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if House Bill 1240 should happen to pass, would the Secretary of the Commonwealth be bound by the provisions in House Bill 1240?

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman and for the information of the House, I may point out that there are 250,000 acres of state-owned land in Potter County alone, none of which is under laid by coal, and a great deal of which is gas bearing and might be a potential field for gas storage. So that in no sense would it be affected by the passage or non-passage of House Mill 1240.

I deem this in the interest of the Commonwealth because it would permit the Secretary of Forests and Waters to lease such land as might not be in controversy for the storage of gas.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, in the state of Pennsylvania there is 1,750,000 acres or perhaps more of state forest lands, and a great deal of it is underlaid with coal. There is a connection between this bill and House Bill 1240, and I would request the Speaker to pass it over temporarily.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Hall, desire the bill to be passed over? He has been requested by the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, to pass this bill over temporarily.

Mr. HALL. I have no objections whatever, Mr. Speaker, to this bill's being passed over temporarily. We can adjust our thinking on this bill because I do not think, for the information of the House, that it bears on this question of the regulatory features of House Bill 1240 in any sense.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it is a very good bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I am not so sure that I want to take my leader's word on that. He and I do not always agree.

Would there be any possibility, Mr. Hall, later on that we may be able to sell the oil lands or give them away to somebody after a while, the gas lands that we now have, would that be possible under this bill?

Mr. HALL. For the information of the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, this bill specifically states that the Secretary of Forests and Waters may lease land under his control or the control of the Department of Forests and Waters for the storage of gas, not for sale. We could read most anything into it, but as the bill is now written I fail to see where we can construe such a meaning in the bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would there be a possibility that later on the particular county might say this land does not belong to the state. There may be an argument here whereby when that gas gets under there and we have stored it there and it is something valuable, they might want to give it away to someone.

Mr. HALL. Mr. Speaker, I feel that it is not my province to be drawn into a discussion of the title to this land. As fas as that is concerned, that could be determined by other action other than what I might say or what the gentleman from Westmoreland might say. I believe in passing this bill over so that we may have a meeting of minds, I have gone to reasonable lengths. I will be glad to discuss it with the gentleman.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker. I am very glad that he will pass it over. We may be able to get straightened out.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1359, Printer's No. 342

was passed over at the request of Mr. HALL.

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Members beginning on page 41 of the calendar, all the bills are Senate bills and if there is no objection, the Chair will pass over the remainder of the calendar. The Chair hears none and the bills are passed over.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

Mr. MURRAY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. KENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it has been brought to my attention that the Speaker of this House has been requested by the Industrial Safety Conference of the state of Pennsylvania for permission to use the Hall of this House, together with the new House Caucus Room, on Wednesday and Thursday, September 16th and September 17th, for their panel conferences as they have done in the past.

I would like to suggest, Mr. Speaker, that the request of the Industrial Safety Conference be granted and that we grant the use of the Hall of the House together with the Caucus Room for their use on those dates.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Cambria have any fear that we might be in Session at that time?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in all seriousness I would suggest that no such arrangements be made at least until after tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the gentleman from Crawford whether he will withdraw his request until after tomorrow?

Mr. KENT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

GAME AND FORESTRY. Mr. Goodling, Chairman, Room 331, Wednesday, June 10, at 10:45 a. m. DST.

The Philadelphia Democratic Delegation will caucus at 12:30 DST, immediately prior to convening June 10, in the Old House Caucus Room.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. MONROE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, June 10, 1953 at 12:00 noon EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:25 p. m. EST) the House adjourned.
